GERMAN VOTING TO ANSWER TWO BIG QUESTIONS

Strength Of New German Nationalism, Communism's Growth To Be Decided

RUHR LEGISLATURE WILL BE VOTED ON TODAY

By Richard O'Regan

FRANKFURT, Germany, June 17.—(AP)—Germany's Ruhr valley may give an answer tomorrow to everybody's question: How strong is Germany's new nationalism?

Millions of German miners, steel workers and employes from thousands of factories will elect a state legislature.

Their ballots also may answer the question: Has communism lost of gained in West Germany?

Both Nationalists and Communists claim to be confident but responsible political observers, both German and allied, feel that Democratic forces will come out as strong as before.

The Ruhr is part of the sprawling British zone state of North Rhine-Westphalia. The election is for a 215-man assembly to replace the middle of the road legislature which the voters chose in 1947.

In three years, North Rhine-Westphalia has risen from a depressed area of war-ruined and idle factories to a booming industrial powerhouse.

Its production is nearing the best Hitler could do before he turned its peaceful industry to war goods.

Its children now have eggs and oranges where three years ago they scratched among empty trash cans.

This is why observers believe the state's 9,000,000 voters will go largely as they did in 1947—37.4 per cent for the conservative Christian democratic party and 32 per cent for the left of center social Democrats.

The state has one-fourth of West Germany's entire voting population.

Along with the other state elections which will take place this summer and fall it may give a

Johnson, Bradley Arrive In Orient; Jap Peace Treaty To Be Discussed

TOKYO, Sunday, June 18.—(AP)—Secretary of Defense Johnson and Gen. Omar N. Bradley flew in last night for momentous talks with General MacArthur on the U. S. defense position in a seething Orient.

The defense secretary and the chairman of the joint chiefs of staff planned to plunge immediately into the task with two briefings today.

The key conversations are expected to deal with the question of an early treaty for Japan and continuing U. S. bases here thereafter.

Johnson told reporters at the airport, however, that the conversations with General MacArthur and other officials this week would deal with "the entire gamut of things."

He said he and Bradley were visiting the Pacific to see how "it enters into the defense of America and the peace of the world."

Larson Swears Ex-Navy Officer Is Communist

By Marvin L. Arrowsmith

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(AP)—Emmanuel S. Larsen, who was fined $500 in the 1945 Amerasia case, has sworn to senate investigators that former naval officer Andrew Roth is a "real Communist" and was "the principal conspirator" in the secret documents episode.

This was learned today from the official transcript of the testimony of Larsen, who was a defendant in the case, to a senate foreign relations subcommittee. Larsen testified he based his opinion of Roth, who also was a defendant, on "his presence right now with no Chih Minh, the Communist leader in Indo-China."

Roth never came to trial, the charges against him having been dropped.

Larsen, former state department employe gave his testimony regarding Roth, one - time naval intelligence lieutenant, at closed sessions of the committee on June 5 and 6. Some newsmen today obtained a copy of Larsen's testimony, which has not been made public by the inquiry group.

Larsen also told the committee, it was disclosed, that in his opinion career Diplomat John S. Service's wartime reports from China "had a Communist slant." He added, however, that he does not regard Service as a Communist or pro-Communist.

The disclosure of the Larsen testimony followed a charge by Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin that John Peurifoy, deputy under secretary of state, had promised Larsen "pay-off" favors in the form of legal advice and loyalty clearance for a government job in return for favorable testimony about Service.

Peurifoy and Larsen both had denied the charge, and McCarthy had demanded that the testimony be made public to show who was telling the truth.

The transcript of testimony showed that Larsen was asked if Puerifoy had promised to make legal assistance available to him. Larsen replied that Peurifoy told him that if he required any legal assistance involving state department questions, he could ask the

DEWEY IS TIRED OF PUBLIC LIFE

Announces Will Return To Private Law Practice When Term Ends

ALBANY, N. Y., June 17—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, who has renounced further presidential aspirations, announced today he would not run for re-election as governor of New York.

Dewey, 48, said he was tired and run-down physically after 20 years in public life. He added that he probably would return to private law practice when his second term expired Dec. 31.

"I shall not be a candidate for re-election next fall," Dewey said in a one-sentence statement, which he personally distributed to reporters.

The twice-defeated Republican presidential nominee added verbally, however, that he would continue an active interest in public affairs. He promised to speak out on "issues affecting the welfare of the state and nation," especially foreign policy.

Hanley made clear he was a candidate. He told a reporter:

"I had heretofore said that I would be a candidate if Governor Dewey did not run."

He added that he would make a formal announcement Monday.

Concerning the G.O.P.'s choice to succeed him, Dewey said:

"I shall not attempt to dictate the choice of the convention of any candidate for any office."

Republican state leaders had pleaded with Dewey to seek re-election. He told them in mid-May he was not going to run again. But he left the door open, at their request, for reconsideration.

He returned to New York last Thursday from a three-week vaca-

Bug Invasion Plagues Denver, Colo.

DENVER, June 17.—(AP)—Moths by the tens of thousands are knocking themselves silly against porch screens and electric lights and they're driving Denver folk batty.

A lot of old time residents said the plague, always bothersome in June, is the worst now they've ever seen.

But, public service company officials said the pests have put out the pilot lights of at least 1,000 water heaters in homes since the invasion began. Fortunately, flues carried off fumes without gassing anybody.

Pueblo, Colorado's second largest city, also reports it has had enough moths so far to last for a half dozen years.

Out of Sterling, in northeastern Colorado, they're had different sort of invasion. Lady bird beetles —lady bugs to most of us—have flown there by the millions.

The tiny beetles are a boon to man because they dote on plant lice and scale insects, which have

UNDERWORLD TAX RECORDS OPENED TO INVESTIGATION

FULL COOPERATION IS ORDERED BY PRESIDENT

By John B. Owen

WASHINGTON, June 17. —(AP)— President Truman today tore the seals of secrecy off the income tax records of underworld big shots for the eyes of senate investigators.

The action handed a powerful weapon to the inquiry committee digging into crime and corruption.

At the same time Mr. Truman ordered all executive departments to cooperate with the committee to the fullest extent. He already had told Chairman Kefauver (D.-Tenn.) he would do everything in his power to support the investigation.

The committee can call for what it wants in the way of federal tax returns on income, excess profits, declared value excess profits, capital stock, estates and gifts for any period up to and including 1949.

A committee official said it has "no pre-determined list" of names of persons whose taxes it wishes to investigate.

"This just cuts through the red tape and gives us access to information as we develop our cases," he said. "The names we submit will depend on the developments"

Many racketeers have been reputedly meticulous about accounting for all income since Al Capone got tripped up for income tax evasion. However, the committee's new power will lay bare the source of that income.

Although income tax returns are secret, the law provides for their disclosure in certain cases. Mr. Truman recently observed at a news conference that the war investigating committee which he headed in the senate was given the right to examine them.

This privilege came from President Roosevelt when the committee wanted to see some contractors' income tax returns. The president has the right to tell the revenue bureau to disclose a return to anybody, but this right is rarely used.

Latin Envoys Oppose Senate Coffee Probe

14 Ambassadors From Producing Countries Plan To Submit Note Blasting Inquiry; Charge 'Economic Warfare' Instigation

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(AP)—Ambassadors of 14 coffee growing countries plan to decend en masse Monday morning on Secretary of State Acheson to hand him a note blasting the senate's coffee price investigation.

The investigating committee, headed by Senator Gillette (D.-Iowa), charged that speculators profited in last fall's sudden price boom. It made recommendations which the Latin Americans attack as intervention in their internal affairs.

"And in its entirety," says the note of which a copy was obtained by a reporter today, "the report proposes that the United States government initiate what might amount to economic warfare" against the coffe nations.

Eleven of the 14 signed the note, but all will take part in the mass move on the state department to demonstrate Latin American solidarity against the charges, and their bitter reaction to it.

Cuba, Mexico and Venezuela, which are relatively minor producers, are expected to submit individual statements.

It said Gillette's agriculture subcommittee proposed that the justice department "police, against possible anti-trust law violations, the meetings of an international coffee commission in which the governments of the undersigned are represented and in which the government of the United States is represented also."

It was especially bitter about a suggestion that the United States give technical aid to "other friendly nations" seeking to increase coffee production.

The Latin Americans called this proposal "most unfriendly." They mused that it was "paradoxical" coming from an agriculture committee which has handled farm legislation concerned with "assurance of a fair price to producers" by acreage reduction and withholding of surpluses.

Father At Home First Time In Ten Years

CHICAGO, June 17. —(AP)— For James Galvin, 48, Father's Day will mean presiding at the dinner table in his own how the first time in 10 years.

But he'll only be home for a few hours. Then, he'll have to return to the hospital.

Present To A Father: Name In Newspaper

LITTLE ROCK, June 17.—(AP)—"I want to get my daddy's name in the paper," a voice told an Arkansas Democrat reporter over the telephone today.

The typically inquisitive reporter wanted to know what "daddy" had done.

"Nothing, he's just my daddy," said the voice with all the indignation an eight-year-old boy can muster.

"Now if I was writing it," he continued, "I'd say 'Gordon Shaw who lives at 821 E. State, has one son. He is eight years old, but he will be nine on Aug. 12. His name—that's me—is Danny Shaw. He goes to Kramer school. His dad is a fine dad'."

Then he explained, "I just wanted to give my dad a Father's Day present."

V. F. W. COMMANDER IN MONROE

World Government Is Hit By V.F.W. Commander Here

A blast at the United World Federalists and other proponents of world government was delivered here Saturday by Clyde A. Lewis, commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Speaking at the second day's session of the Louisiana Department of the veterans' organization, now holding its annual encampment in Monroe, Lewis charged "super - state advocates" with "selling us down the river."

The Plattsburg, N. Y. veteran warned that "world government proposals are far more dangerous than they are practical."

He reviewed the progress of the V. F. W. campaign in opposition, stating that four state legislatures had already reversed previous stands in which they had supported the principle of a world state, and called upon the Louisiana delegates to "prod the legislature into action" to renounce a previous resolution in which the state lawmakers had endorsed world government.

Lewis also attacked the present administration policy toward Nationalist China, stating that the alternative is to "reign ourselves to complete Soviet domination of Asia and the southwest Pacific."

Lewis termed Formosa "the greatest bastion of freedom in the southwest Pacific," and warned that it must not fall to the Communists "even if it is necessary to find another MacArthur to save it."

Scheduled to address the members today at 10 a.m. is Capt. John Crommelin, U. S. N. Ret., prominent figure in the recent Air Force Navy controversy in Washington. Capt. Crommelin will discuss "National Security."

In an interview last night, Capt. Crommelin said he expected to relate in chronological order the events since 1949 which took place in Washington regarding national security. He will speak this morning at 10 o'clock.

He said he would point out that a few army general zealots are unwittingly defending a fraud—that of unification. That fraud, Crommelin said, is an embryo dictatorship masquerading under the holy name of "unification."

The concentration of power has been made according to plan, he said, and that the present administration would create a crisis before elections in November in order to maintain the party in office—and you nor I will know whether it is a fraud or not.

LONG ASSERTS HE GUIDES NO OTHER

Disclaims Control Over Governor, Morrison In West Monroe Speech

Junior U .S. Senator Russell Long yesterday afternoon requested West Monroe voters to return him to congress because he had been a good senator and not to "vote against me because of some hatred you may have for my uncle Gov. Earl Long, or my father."

"I don't control Earl Long and I didn't control my father, but I do control Russell Long."

The young senator who only in 1948 beat Judge Robert Kennon in a race for the unexpired term of U. S. Senator John Overton, spoke out against New Orleans Mayor Chep Morrison and some "big newspapers" who oppose him.

"Morrison has accused me of being a machine politician, when he is the biggest machine politician in the state. He has rounded up every Long ward supporter he could."

Long quoted a newspaper story in which Morrison was quoted as saying that he, Long, had a good voting record in Washington, and perhaps he, Morrison, would have voted the same had he been senator. But the affairs of Senator Long in the state are in a very bad state, Mayor Morrison was quoted as saying.

Speaking for his voting record in the United States Senate, Senator Long said he had always fought for the small businessman, and that, "I'm not afraid to vote for Labor." He added that he had not always voted for Labor.

He said he had voted for price supports for farmers, for R. E. A., (rural electrification), the housing program "and I don't mind telling any banker that I stand for lower interest rates on housing loans" and small business, better social security.

Women Fliers Believed Lost Are Safe; Laugh At Report

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., June 17. —(AP)— Two young women who were unreported for many hours on a flight from Montreal to West Palm Beach landed today and were astonished at all the fuss.

"I only hope mother wasn't too upset over reports that I was believed missing," she said.

They reported taking off from the Ervo airport at Riverdale, Md., at 5:30 p.m. (EST) yesterday and when nothing was heard from them the civil aeronautics administration began checking airports all down the line. There were fears for the safety of the fliers.

"There was nothing to it, actually," Miss Harrison said. "We enjoyed the flight, but visibility was bad twice."

The girls ran into bad weather Thursday afternoon after a good

Delayed Effects Of Atomic Blasts Appearing In Japan

WASHINGTON, June 17. —(AP)— Delayed effects in the form of eye cataracts have begun to appear in some survivors of the atomic bomb blasts in Japan, the atomic energy commission announced today.

This first evidence of delayed injury has been obtained as a result of studies under way since 1947.

The Japanese living at Hiroshima and Nagasaki when the American air force atom bombed them in 1945 have apparently recovered from immediate effects "such as loss of hair, temporary infertility and blood changes," the commission observed.

Examination of 1,000 persons, most of whom were within 3,000 feet of the point above which the bomb exploded at Hiroshima, has turned up about "40 certain cases of radiation cataract and an additional 40 suspected cases," AEC said.

"The study of long range effects, such as effects on growth, tumor or eye cataract formation, and genetic changes will require many years," the statement added.

"In order to obtain definite information in inherited changes it will be necessary to make careful observation not only of the child-

CHARGE VIOLENCE

ADD THAT 'DISPLAY OF DEADLY WEAPONS' USED

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(AP)—The National Labor Relations Board unanimously ruled today that the United Mine Workers broke the Taft-Hartley law by a campaign of "violence" to organize employes of a Harlan county, Ky., department store.

The board charged that members of John L. Lewis' union sought to compel workers in the Union Supply Company at Lynch, Ky., to sign membership and dues check - off cards by "physical force" and by the "display of deadly weapons."

The NLRB said the organizing campaign was climaxed by a "melee" on February 5, 1949, in which a policeman was fatally shot, but it did not find the union group responsible for his death.

The board sketched this outline of the dispute staged in the southeastern section of Kentucky widely known as "Bloody Harlan" because of its past record of disorders:

Since 1945 the employes of the Union Supply Company, a "wholly-owned subsidiary" of the United States Steel Corporation, had been represented by Local 474 of the United Construction Workers, an U. M. W. affiliate.

But, the NLRB said, the U. M. W. organizers were "unsuccessful" in their efforts to "persuade" all the store employes to join the local and sign the dues check-off cards.

In January of last year, it said the United Mine Workers local 7425 came into the picture by "taking over" the organizing drive, "reportedly at the orders of the U. M. W. or John L. Lewis, U. M. W. president."

The board declared this drive was "climaxed" when "persons acting under direction of U. M. W. officials began physically holding store employes in an effort to compel them to sign membership and dues check-off cards."

'Powder Puff' Race Victors Announced

GREENVILLE, S. C., June 17. —(AP)— Two Arcadia, Calif., pilots, Jean Parker and Boots Seymour, were declared winners of the fourth annual all-women's transcontinental air race today.

They finished the "Powder Puff" derby, which began Sunday in San Diego and ended here, in 20 hours and one minute. The elapsed time beat the handicap of their Taylorcraft plane by more than five hours.

California entries dominated the prize winner list for the 2,460-mile event. The Arcadia pilots took $750 for first place. The $500 second prize went to Elizabeth Lambert and Claire Hale, both of San Diego.

Aileen Pickering of San Pedro and Irma Story of Lancaster won third place and $250.

The blaze, of undetermined origin, was accompanied by several explosions.

It took firemen from the army's general depot in nearby Schenectady and a dozen other communities nearly three hours to control the blaze.

Lost Boy Makes Friends With Bobcat

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho, June 17.—(AP)—Dallas Day, two and one half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Day of Bone, Idaho, went fishing with his parents, but got lost.

DENVER, June 17.—(AP)—Moths by the tens of thousands are knocking themselves silly against porch screens and electric lights and they're driving Denver folk batty.

A lot of old time residents said the plague, always bothersome in June, is the worst now they've ever seen.

But, public service company officials said the pests have put out the pilot lights of at least 1,000 water heaters in homes since the invasion began. Fortunately, flues carried off fumes without gassing anybody.

Pueblo, Colorado's second largest city, also reports it has had enough moths so far to last for a half dozen years.

Out of Sterling, in northeastern Colorado, they're had different sort of invasion. Lady bird beetles —lady bugs to most of us—have flown there by the millions.

AIR TOURISTS TO ARRIVE SATURDAY

Group Will Leave New Orleans Friday; To Stay Overnight Here

The ninth annual Louisiana Air Tour which leaves New Orleans Friday for a three-day tour of airports throughout the state will arrive in Monroe Saturday for an over-night stop.

The tour, comprised of fliers for all sections of Louisiana, will be entertained here by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the annual event.

The Jaycees have arranged for the group to be welcomed at Selman Field by the mayors of Monroe and West Monroe and other municipal officials. The visitors will then be brought to the Optimists Club swimming pool, where a swimming party, complete with refreshments for the fliers, has been planned.

Pete Parkerson, popular New Orleans comedian, will lead the entertainment section of the tour, according to State Jaycee Chairman Nash C. Roberts, Jr.

Forty private aircraft will circle and land at each city being honored on this tour. All airfields are reported in excellent condition and month-long preparations have been completed to honor the flying enthusiasts at each stop.

The tour will depart from the New Orleans Airport at 8:30 a. m., Friday, June 23, following a breakfast given by the New Orleans Jaycees. First stop will be Donaldsonville at 9:30 a. m., arrive at Patterson at 10:40 a. m., arrive Jeanerette 11:40 a. m. ## UNDERWORLD TAX RECORDS OPENED TO INVESTIGATION

FULL COOPERATION IS ORDERED BY PRESIDENT

By John B. Owen

WASHINGTON, June 17. —(AP)— President Truman today tore the seals of secrecy off the income tax records of underworld big shots for the eyes of senate investigators.

The action handed a powerful weapon to the inquiry committee digging into crime and corruption.

At the same time Mr. Truman ordered all executive departments to cooperate with the committee to the fullest extent. He already had told Chairman Kefauver (D.-Tenn.) he would do everything in his power to support the investigation.

The committee can call for what it wants in the way of federal tax returns on income, excess profits, declared value excess profits, capital stock, estates and gifts for any period up to and including 1949.

A committee official said it has "no pre-determined list" of names of persons whose taxes it wishes to investigate.

"This just cuts through the red tape and gives us access to information as we develop our cases," he said. "The names we submit will depend on the developments"

Many racketeers have been reputedly meticulous about accounting for all income since Al Capone got tripped up for income tax evasion. However, the committee's new power will lay bare the source of that income.

Although income tax returns are secret, the law provides for their disclosure in certain cases. Mr. Truman recently observed at a news conference that the war investigating committee which he headed in the senate was given the right to examine them.

This privilege came from President Roosevelt when the committee wanted to see some contractors' income tax returns. The president has the right to tell the revenue bureau to disclose a return to anybody, but this right is rarely used.

V. F. W. COMMANDER IN MONROE

A blast at the United World Federalists and other proponents of world government was delivered here Saturday by Clyde A. Lewis, commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Speaking at the second day's session of the Louisiana Department of the veterans' organization, now holding its annual encampment in Monroe, Lewis charged "super - state advocates" with "selling us down the river."

The Plattsburg, N. Y. veteran warned that "world government proposals are far more dangerous than they are practical."

He reviewed the progress of the V. F. W. campaign in opposition, stating that four state legislatures had already reversed previous stands in which they had supported the principle of a world state, and called upon the Louisiana delegates to "prod the legislature into action" to renounce a previous resolution in which the state lawmakers had endorsed world government.

Lewis also attacked the present administration policy toward Nationalist China, stating that the alternative is to "reign ourselves to complete Soviet domination of Asia and the southwest Pacific."

Lewis termed Formosa "the greatest bastion of freedom in the southwest Pacific," and warned that it must not fall to the Communists "even if it is necessary to find another MacArthur to save it."

Scheduled to address the members today at 10 a.m. is Capt. John Crommelin, U. S. N. Ret., prominent figure in the recent Air Force Navy controversy in Washington. Capt. Crommelin will discuss "National Security."

In an interview last night, Capt. Crommelin said he expected to relate in chronological order the events since 1949 which took place in Washington regarding national security. He will speak this morning at 10 o'clock.

He said he would point out that a few army general zealots are unwittingly defending a fraud—that of unification. That fraud, Crommelin said, is an embryo dictatorship masquerading under the holy name of "unification."

The concentration of power has been made according to plan, he said, and that the present administration would create a crisis before elections in November in order to maintain the party in office—and you nor I will know whether it is a fraud or not.

LONG ASSERTS HE GUIDES NO OTHER

Disclaims Control Over Governor, Morrison In West Monroe Speech

Junior U .S. Senator Russell Long yesterday afternoon requested West Monroe voters to return him to congress because he had been a good senator and not to "vote against me because of some hatred you may have for my uncle Gov. Earl Long, or my father."

"I don't control Earl Long and I didn't control my father, but I do control Russell Long."

The young senator who only in 1948 beat Judge Robert Kennon in a race for the unexpired term of U. S. Senator John Overton, spoke out against New Orleans Mayor Chep Morrison and some "big newspapers" who oppose him.

"Morrison has accused me of being a machine politician, when he is the biggest machine politician in the state. He has rounded up every Long ward supporter he could."

Long quoted a newspaper story in which Morrison was quoted as saying that he, Long, had a good voting record in Washington, and perhaps he, Morrison, would have voted the same had he been senator. But the affairs of Senator Long in the state are in a very bad state, Mayor Morrison was quoted as saying.

Speaking for his voting record in the United States Senate, Senator Long said he had always fought for the small businessman, and that, "I'm not afraid to vote for Labor." He added that he had not always voted for Labor.

He said he had voted for price supports for farmers, for R. E. A., (rural electrification), the housing program "and I don't mind telling any banker that I stand for lower interest rates on housing loans" and small business, better social security.

Latin Envoys Oppose Senate Coffee Probe

14 Ambassadors From Producing Countries Plan To Submit Note Blasting Inquiry; Charge 'Economic Warfare' Instigation

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(AP)—Ambassadors of 14 coffee growing countries plan to decend en masse Monday morning on Secretary of State Acheson to hand him a note blasting the senate's coffee price investigation.

The investigating committee, headed by Senator Gillette (D.-Iowa), charged that speculators profited in last fall's sudden price boom. It made recommendations which the Latin Americans attack as intervention in their internal affairs.

"And in its entirety," says the note of which a copy was obtained by a reporter today, "the report proposes that the United States government initiate what might amount to economic warfare" against the coffe nations.

Eleven of the 14 signed the note, but all will take part in the mass move on the state department to demonstrate Latin American solidarity against the charges, and their bitter reaction to it.

Cuba, Mexico and Venezuela, which are relatively minor producers, are expected to submit individual statements.

It said Gillette's agriculture subcommittee proposed that the justice department "police, against possible anti-trust law violations, the meetings of an international coffee commission in which the governments of the undersigned are represented and in which the government of the United States is represented also."

It was especially bitter about a suggestion that the United States give technical aid to "other friendly nations" seeking to increase coffee production.

The Latin Americans called this proposal "most unfriendly." They mused that it was "paradoxical" coming from an agriculture committee which has handled farm legislation concerned with "assurance of a fair price to producers" by acreage reduction and withholding of surpluses.

Father At Home First Time In Ten Years

CHICAGO, June 17. —(AP)— For James Galvin, 48, Father's Day will mean presiding at the dinner table in his own how the first time in 10 years.

He has been in Wesley Memorial Hospital since he fell and injured his spine in 1940.

But he'll only be home for a few hours. Then, he'll have to return to the hospital.

It will be grandfather's day for Galvin, too. When he's home, he expects to see his first grandchild, Mary Beth Simmons, who was born June 7.

Present To A Father: Name In Newspaper

LITTLE ROCK, June 17.—(AP)—"I want to get my daddy's name in the paper," a voice told an Arkansas Democrat reporter over the telephone today.

The typically inquisitive reporter wanted to know what "daddy" had done.

"Nothing, he's just my daddy," said the voice with all the indignation an eight-year-old boy can muster.

"Now if I was writing it," he continued, "I'd say 'Gordon Shaw who lives at 821 E. State, has one son. He is eight years old, but he will be nine on Aug. 12. His name—that's me —is Danny Shaw. He goes to Kramer school. His dad is a fine dad'."

Then he explained, "I just wanted to give my dad a Father's Day present."

Women Fliers Believed Lost Are Safe; Laugh At Report

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., June 17. —(AP)— Two young women who were unreported for many hours on a flight from Montreal to West Palm Beach landed today and were astonished at all the fuss.

"I wasn't lost. They lost me," explained Miss Marjorie Harrison, 32, a treasury department secretary, who was piloting her tiny two-seater plane in the "powder puff" derby air race.

"I only hope mother wasn't too upset over reports that I was believed missing," she said.

They reported taking off from the Ervo airport at Riverdale, Md., at 5:30 p.m. (EST) yesterday and when nothing was heard from them the civil aeronautics administration began checking airports all down the line. There were fears for the safety of the fliers.

"There was nothing to it, actually," Miss Harrison said. "We enjoyed the flight, but visibility was bad twice."

'Powder Puff' Race Victors Announced

They finished the "Powder Puff" derby, which began Sunday in San Diego and ended here, in 20 hours and one minute. The elapsed time beat the handicap of their Taylorcraft plane by more than five hours.

California entries dominated the prize winner list for the 2,460-mile event. The Arcadia pilots took $750 for first place. The $500 second prize went to Elizabeth Lambert and Claire Hale, both of San Diego.

Aileen Pickering of San Pedro and Irma Story of Lancaster won third place and $250.

Army Depot Is Razed By $400,000 Fire

The blaze, of undetermined origin, was accompanied by several explosions.

It took firemen from the army's general depot in nearby Schenectady and a dozen other communities nearly three hours to control the blaze.

Lost Boy Makes Friends With Bobcat

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho, June 17.—(AP)—Dallas Day, two and one half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Day of Bone, Idaho, went fishing with his parents, but got lost.

The "kitty" was only a few weeks old, but strangely enough, it growled and growled Dallas growled right back and the two became great friends. Luckily the mother of the "kitty" was nowhere near.

The Days said today that they would keep the baby bobcat until it gets too mean to handle.

Delayed Effects Of Atomic Blasts Appearing In Japan

WASHINGTON, June 17. —(AP)— Delayed effects in the form of eye cataracts have begun to appear in some survivors of the atomic bomb blasts in Japan, the atomic energy commission announced today.

This first evidence of delayed injury has been obtained as a result of studies under way since 1947.

The Japanese living at Hiroshima and Nagasaki when the American air force atom bombed them in 1945 have apparently recovered from immediate effects "such as loss of hair, temporary infertility and blood changes," the commission observed.

Examination of 1,000 persons, most of whom were within 3,000 feet of the point above which the bomb exploded at Hiroshima, has turned up about "40 certain cases of radiation cataract and an additional 40 suspected cases," AEC said.

"The study of long range effects, such as effects on growth, tumor or eye cataract formation, and genetic changes will require many years," the statement added.

"In order to obtain definite information in inherited changes it will be necessary to make careful observation not only of the child-

CHARGE VIOLENCE

ADD THAT 'DISPLAY OF DEADLY WEAPONS' USED

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(AP)—The National Labor Relations Board unanimously ruled today that the United Mine Workers broke the Taft-Hartley law by a campaign of "violence" to organize employes of a Harlan county, Ky., department store.

The board charged that members of John L. Lewis' union sought to compel workers in the Union Supply Company at Lynch, Ky., to sign membership and dues check - off cards by "physical force" and by the "display of deadly weapons."

The NLRB said the organizing campaign was climaxed by a "melee" on February 5, 1949, in which a policeman was fatally shot, but it did not find the union group responsible for his death.

The board sketched this outline of the dispute staged in the southeastern section of Kentucky widely known as "Bloody Harlan" because of its past record of disorders:

Since 1945 the employes of the Union Supply Company, a "wholly-owned subsidiary" of the United States Steel Corporation, had been represented by Local 474 of the United Construction Workers, an U. M. W. affiliate.

But, the NLRB said, the U. M. W. organizers were "unsuccessful" in their efforts to "persuade" all the store employes to join the local and sign the dues check-off cards.

In January of last year, it said the United Mine Workers local 7425 came into the picture by "taking over" the organizing drive, "reportedly at the orders of the U. M. W. or John L. Lewis, U. M. W. president."

The board declared this drive was "climaxed" when "persons acting under direction of U. M. W. officials began physically holding store employes in an effort to compel them to sign membership and dues check-off cards."

SOCIALISTS OKAY SCHUMAN'S PLAN

Hail Proposal As 'Bold Example Of European Initiative'

LONDON, June 17. —(AP)— A conference of European Socialist parties today unanimously approved the aims of the Schuman plan to pool Europe's coal and steel but attached seven conditions to their support.

Presiding at the conference was Hugh Dalton, British Laborite minister who sponsored a British Labor party document this week rejecting any supra-national authority to manage the pool.

Other Socialist parties represented at the conference were from France, Italy, Belgium, Holland, Western Germany, Austria, Denmark, Norway and Sweden.

The conference resolution was adopted just three days before France, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg begin negotiations in Paris—without Britain—on putting the plan into effect. The plan was proposed on May 9 by French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman.

The British Labor Party statement had drawn criticism from French Socialists because it said the integration of Europe could not be carried out except on a basis of national planning. Critics said this implied that Europe must be socialized first.

Prime Minister Attlee, in a subsequent statement which he said represented his labor government's policy, declared Britain was willing to cooperate with countries with differing economic systems.

One of the conditions adopted by the conference appeared to support the view of the Labor Party manifesto. Point 5 said "individual governments must accept the responsibility for implementing within their own countries decisions made under any new international arrangement."

The resolution said "the conference welcomes the Schuman proposal as a bold example of European initiative. . . . It is in agreement with the general purposes as expressed in the French communique of May 9. The conference notes with strong approval that the Schuman proposal set as the first aim of a European coal and steel organization, expansion to raise standards of living throughout Europe."

Police Chief Sued For Striking Citizen

CLEVELAND, June 17. —(AP)— The suspended police chief of suburban Highland Heights was named defendant today in a $20,000 damage suit filed by Frank E. Strumbly, Sr., Highland Heights building contractor.

The contractor charged in common pleas court that Fay Dalrymple, the suspended chief, struck him in the stomach and knocked him down after a public hearing Monday at the village hall.

Strumbly was one of 51 signers of a petition asking that Dalrymple be fired as chief.

The chief was suspended recently by Mayor Clem Ley on a charge of misconduct. The mayor previously had filed a divorce cross petition in which he accused the chief of associating with Ley's estranged wife, Faye.

Chief Dalrymple, who denied "having an affair" with the mayor's wife, also said he did not assault Strumbly. It is possible, he said, that he brushed against the builder while elbowing his way out of the crowded town hall.

Mrs. Pat Wright and children of Shreveport are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hale.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Beasley left Wednesday for Gibsland where they will make their home in the future. He will be pastor of the Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Vardeman have moved to Monroe where they will make their home for awhile before going to New Orleans to make their future home.

Mrs. Lola DeLee of Shreveport accompanied by her sister and niece of Ruston visited old friends in Calhoun Tuesday. Mrs. DeLee will be remembered as Miss Lola Jones.

LAFARGUE STUMP TOUR CONTINUES

Bitterly Lashes Out At 'The Longs' Broken Promises'

HOUMA, La., June 17.—(AP)— Taking the stump again today following an official campaign opening ceremony in New Orleans last night, Senatorial Candidate Malcolm E. Lafargue bitterly scored the program of deficit spending of both the natonal and state levels.

"Deficit spending, at the present rate of $15,000,000 per day, is leading the people of Louisiana and the nation to the yawning jaws of bankruptcy," he said.

Nearing the end of his first south Louisiana tour, the 41-year old Shreveporter addressed audiences in the communities along Bayou LaFourche and the intercoastal canal south of New Orleans.

He began today's stump speeches at Golden Meadow, a little fishing community 80 miles south of Louisiana's crescent city. He spoke further up the bayou at Lockport, then at Raceland, Thibodaux and Houma after lunch.

Claiming that Senator Russell Long was responsible for Louisiana's high tax laws, Lafargue said, "as a result of this type of taxation and squandering, we're already in inflation and a continuation of it will lead us into bankruptcy."

"There is still time to act," he said, "but it has to be now."

The former United States district attorney also charged that Russell Long and Louisiana's state administration leaders are spending money in a wasteful and extravagant manner, primarily for political reasons.

Lafargue continued to strike out at "the Long's broken promises," the transferring of veterans bonus funds and old age pensions money into the highway department, as well as what he calls "Louisiana's misfortune in being the nation's highest taxed state."

Bitterly Lashes Out At 'The Longs' Broken Promises'

HOUMA, La., June 17.—(AP)— Taking the stump again today following an official campaign opening ceremony in New Orleans last night, Senatorial Candidate Malcolm E. Lafargue bitterly scored the program of deficit spending of both the natonal and state levels.

"Deficit spending, at the present rate of $15,000,000 per day, is leading the people of Louisiana and the nation to the yawning jaws of bankruptcy," he said.

Nearing the end of his first south Louisiana tour, the 41-year old Shreveporter addressed audiences in the communities along Bayou La-Fourche and the intercoastal canal south of New Orleans.

He began today's stump speeches at Golden Meadow, a little fishing community 80 miles south of Louisiana's crescent city. He spoke further up the bayou at Lockport, then at Raceland, Thibodaux and Houma after lunch.

Claiming that Senator Russell Long was responsible for Louisiana's high tax laws, Lafargue said, "as a result of this type of taxation and squandering, we're already in inflation and a continuation of it will lead us into bankruptcy."

"There is still time to act," he said, "but it has to be now."

The former United States district attorney also charged that Russell Long and Louisiana's state administration leaders are spending money in a wasteful and extravagant manner, primarily for political reasons.

Lafargue continued to strike out at "the Long's broken promises," the transferring of veterans bonus funds and old age pensions money into the highway department, as well as what he calls "Louisiana's misfortune in being the nation's highest taxed state."

DUCHIN RELEASED

NEW YORK, June 17.—(AP)—Orchestra Leader Eddy Duchin today was discharged from Memorial hospital for cancer and allied diseases where he had undergone treatment for seven weeks. The nature of Duchin's ailment was not disclosed by the hospital.

The new Moore barley has a stem that remains stiff until the crop is ready to harvest.

Hail Proposal As 'Bold Example Of European Initiative'

LONDON, June 17. —(AP)— A conference of European Socialist parties today unanimously approved the aims of the Schuman plan to pool Europe's coal and steel but attached seven conditions to their support.

Presiding at the conference was Hugh Dalton, British Laborite minister who sponsored a British Labor party document this week rejecting any supra-national authority to manage the pool.

Other Socialist parties represented at the conference were from France, Italy, Belgium, Holland, Western Germany, Austria, Denmark, Norway and Sweden.

The conference resolution was adopted just three days before France, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg begin negotiations in Paris—without Britain—on putting the plan into effect. The plan was proposed on May 9 by French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman.

The British Labor Party statement had drawn criticism from French Socialists because it said the integration of Europe could not be carried out except on a basis of national planning. Critics said this implied that Europe must be socialized first.

Prime Minister Attlee, in a subsequent statement which he said represented his labor government's policy, declared Britain was willing to cooperate with countries with differing economic systems.

One of the conditions adopted by the conference appeared to support the view of the Labor Party manifesto. Point 5 said "individual governments must accept the responsibility for implementing within their own countries decisions made under any new international arrangement."

The resolution said "the conference welcomes the Schuman proposal as a bold example of European initiative. . . . It is in agreement with the general purposes as expressed in the French communique of May 9. The conference notes with strong approval that the Schuman proposal set as the first aim of a European coal and steel organization, expansion to raise standards of living throughout Europe."

Military Strength

One of the great current topics of conversation is just how the United States and Russia compare in military strength. On the one hand are those who say that the Soviet Union is frighteningly superior—and at the other extreme are those who believe we are strong enough and have nothing much to worry about.

An article in U. S. News and World Report has summed up the available evidence and compressed it into a feature of uncommon interest and value.

First of all, when it comes to arms, the Soviet bloc of nations is overwhelmingly ahead of the U. S. bloc. We can command 45 army divisions as against Russia's 170. We have 6,000 tanks and 14,000 combat aircraft as against her 40,000 and 16,000 respectively. Of the traditional weapons, we are ahead only in naval craft—545 to 427. However, U. S. News estimates, our atom bomb stockpile totals 400, as against 25 for the Communist world.

But arms aren't the whole story. In the last war, for instance, we entered into hostilities at a terrific disadvantage in this department. Japan, Germany and Italy were all far ahead of us in the size and strength of every combat service. What told in the long run was our military potential—which simply means the industrial capacity that can be applied to creating, arming, transporting and maintaining a great army, navy and air force.

So, when the U. S. News compares the production power of the two worlds the picture become infinitely more encouraging. The U. S. bloc has an annual steel production capacity of 144,000,000 tons; the Russian bloc has 30,000,000. Annual coal production on our side is 1,360,000,000 tons; Russia can count on 430,000,000. Electric power output per year runs 690,000,000,000 kilowatt hours and 106,000,000,000 respectively. Oil comes to 3,089,000,000 barrels as against 299,000,000. Rail mileage is 675,900, as opposed to 107,800. And Russia's food supplies are always short.

After summarizing the strengths and weaknesses of the possible antogonists, U. S. News said; "Outlook, with the Western means of defense. . . . gradually overtaking the Soviet means of waging offensive war, is for a stalemate of long duration, rather than a quick victory for Russia, if war comes. Each side is now getting into position to inflict heavy damage on the other. Yet neither side, has the edge in offensive strength needed to win."

Elsewhere in the article the magazine also said, "A shooting war, as things stand, means a stalemate nobody wants." That is one reason why there is so much hope that the formal peace may be maintained, even though the cold war periodically blows warmer so far as words are concerned. The masters of Russia certainly are not bent on self-destruction. And, as General Marshall said in his impressive Memorial Day address at Arlington, there may be no real victor if another war comes—all the nations may be virtually destroyed.

Revenue For Bonus Bonds

A house committee has voted down, by five to four, a bill by Rep. Tessier of New Orleans to dedicate the beer tax revenue to payment of the $60,000,000 bonus bonds. Of course, the state administration and the legislators submitting the bonus constitutional amendments in 1948 orally "dedicated" the beer tax to payment of the bonds and the public generally understood that the revenue would go only for the bonus bonds.

The difference between the administration's "dedication" and that proposed by Tessier is that Tessier wants it to mean something; he wants dedication by constitutional amendment, not by words soon forgotten.

Five million dollars already has been taken from the tax revenue "dedicated" to the bonus bonds, and diverted to the highway department—a step thoughtfully taken as a senatorial campaign approached and followed by a second thought grab of $10,000,000 from welfare funds for more "highway purposes"—pre-primary type, perhaps. Also $3,000,000 has been taken from the bonus tax revenue for deficit in a school lunch program that taxed the poor to feed the rich and by itself fed no one free.

The World pointed out at the time of the beer tax and bonus bonds deal that the end result would be tens of millions of dollars of tax revenue above the needs to pay off the bonus bonds; that this money would just be a plaything for the administration in power at the time and with the people paying off through the nose.

Rep. Tessier is making a sound move in trying to earmark the beer tax money for the bonus bonds. But he is not likely to get anywhere. Even when playing around with beer the Baton Rouge administration has champaigne tastes—and it isn't going to give up its tens of millions in bonus bonds surplus revenue except in ways that will give it personal happiness and amusement.

'Oh, Promise Me'

Down in Lafayette the report is published that if the $140,000,000 grab-bag highway bonds issue is approved highway 90—the Old Spanish Trail—would be rebuilt from Mississippi to Texas, including Lafayette.

Norman Land, highway department engineer who seems to be determined to tell the truth even if he gets his throat out doing it, promptly denied the report. He pointed out also that the bond issue proposal specifies no particular roads in any part of the state and that no one possibly can know how the bond money would be spent until the time comes to spend it. We said much the same thing the other day—only we were not quite as sweet as Mr. Land about it—when we called the bond proposal a pig in a poke which the taxpayers are supposed to accept blindly. We welcome Mr. Land's refined way of confirming our position. But if he's going to speak so frankly right along he'd better wear an iron collar.

WALTER WINCHELL

Stage Entrance: The Broadway show season gross is expected to hit $29,000,000. A million less than last year, which had 14 more shows. . . . You cannot buy advance tickets to "South Pacific" at the box-office. If you order by mail now, you may be accommodated about Jan. 1951. . . . Forgotten-Man-of-the-Year: No one has mentioned who wrote the lyrics to His Majesty's song in M. Todd's "Peep Show." He's the Chancellor of Thailand. . . . Rich-Get-Richer: Broadway's top mints, "So. Pac." and "Kate," are minting plenty on the road, too. . . . "Chaplain John," a new play (about a wartime chaplain in Italy), was written by a New York rabbi of a Temple in the West 90s. . . . Dimitri Tiomkin, after twenty years composing music for 100 Hollywood films, has written a Broadway tinkler christened: "Show Business". . . . Love-Letter from director Joshua Logan: "Your exciting comment on Helen Hayes' performance in 'The Wisteria Trees' caused last week's business to jump $3,000."

In the Wings: Critic George Jean Nathan was approached by an actor who has a sensayuma. . . . "Mr. Nathan," he said, "I want to thank you very much for the notice you gave me". . . . "You have me mixed up," starched George. "I panned you."

"I know," was the retort, "but did you read The Others? ? ?"

Then there's the time Frances Williams gleefully passed around a rap he wrote about her. "This is recognition!" she exclaimed to the cast. "It's the first time in a half-dozen shows he's noticed me!"

Broadway Godiva: In Prof. Todd's "Peep Show" (to be unveiled at The Winter Garden on the 28th) the curtain goes up on a sensational opening episode in Heroine makes this trip with nonchalance in Broad Daylight every performance dressed only in her nekkidness, plus slippers . . . The other matinee as she sashayed across the alley—one embarrassed stage-hand threw his coat around her, saying: "Don't want you to catch cold" . . . He was dealt with promptly . . . H hasn't been able to find his damned coat . . . And will never recognize it when he does.

Stairway to the Stars: Mary Martin's daughter (11) makes her stage debut at Westport in "Quality Street" soon. Her son Larry (18) has been signed by Margaret Webster for Shakesperean repertory at Woodstock. . . . Marcella Markham (Mrs. Frank Kingdon) will play the Judy Holliday role in "Born Yesterday" at Smithtown week of July 3rd. . . . The H. Cullmans, who usually back the hits, have invested in Wolcott Gibbs' "Season in the Sun" and John Patrick's "The Curious Savage". . . . Remember lovely Lois Moran? She's making her comeback in "Kitty Doone," via a west coast little theatre group. . . . How the mighty suffer: Judith Anderson, whose "Medea" was one of the top acting portraits of our time is billed below the title of "The Furies," a western. . . . If "Born to Be Bad" (Joan Fontaine) seems familiar, it's because Connie Bennett did it as "A Bed of Roses," in 1933.

The Aristocrats: Nobody renders "Again" as eloquently as Vera Lynn, the London recording star. . . . One of the top-notchers is the ABC-tv stanza on Sabbaths for youngsters. They point the cameras at the Bronx Zoo's 4-footed performers. . . . Senator Margaret Chase Smith's charm and intelligence brightened, Who 'Said That?' . . . Lord Woolton's interview via Ed Murrow's newscast was an engagingly British as Basil Rathbone. . . . The Teevy version of Ferenc Molanars "The Swan" came over with all of its feathery fooling intact. . . . Eddie Fisher's crooning on Milton Berle's program was so good he was signed on the line to pinch-hit for the suddenly stricken Fran Warren at the Riviera. He's only 20, and the major movie temples are bidding for him. Up to then he couldn't get a B'way booking.... Suggestion to toupee-wearers on teevy: Avoid closeups.

The Story-Tellers: "Can Newspapers Survive Without Sex?" by James Wechsler is the feature of tomorrow's Saturday Review of Literature. He defends the policy of playing up sex crimes and other sensational stories. Opposing it is August Heckshер of the N. Y. Herald Tribune. . . . Collier's essay on Herb Caen, the San Francisco colyumist, reports, He says Winchell is his idol and frankly admits he patterned his writing after the New York columnist's style." What makes it a scoop is that Caen is the first to admit it. . . . Priscilla Wayne of the Des Moines Tribune's woman's page took a chop at national magazines. She heckled pieces in Look by Admiral Zacharias. Her boss publishes bot publications. . . . Time finally reviewed "Seeds of Treason" . . . Harper's notes that Lincoln never said: 'You can fool some of the people some of the time, etc." When we used it a few years ago, readers challenged it.

The Intelligentsia: The Literary Guild's October choice will be "Champion Road" by Frank Tilsely. I twas a cliche in England for two years. . . . Frances Parkinson Keyes' new novel is christened "Joy Street." The setting is Boston's Beacon Hill. . . . 'A Treasury of Baseball Humor" (Lantern Press) is a literary speedball. It has essays by Bob Ruark, John Crosby and James Cannon. . . . The latter's column this week reported: "All singers sounded good when Bunny Berrigan's trombone backed them up." Bunny tooted a trumpet, son. . . . Vic Lasky and Fred Woltman, the Pulitzer Prize winner, have teamed to put the Amerasia case between Dutton covers. . . . Kyle Crichton's book, "The Marx Bros.," is copyrighted by them, not by the author.

The Press-Box: World-Telegram-Sun strikers hear that the paper is ready to hold out all summer. It will be toughest on the eight other unions that stayed out rather than cross the Guild's picket lines. These people do not get strike allowances while out of work. . . . Several weeks ago when several publishers detected unrest in the Newspaper Guild, they called a meeting to discuss ways and means of combatting a strike. All agreed, except the W-TSun's Roy Howard, who said his staff was contented, well paid and there wouldn't be any picket lines at his paper . . . From Quick: "A few more years people will be saying: "I'd rather be Ike than president.'" They said it before the last election right after it appeared here, too. . . . Headline: "Senators to Investigate Perverts". . . . Why not use our long-ago wordwedding, instead? Wildemen.

BASCOM TIMMONS

Senatorial contests in South Carolina could not afford the voters more entertainment if they were planned for that purpose, and outsiders who got in on the show are not so sure they aren't. That is one of few states where the opposing candidates no matter how bitterly they dislike one another, campaign together, and the fireworks are usually terrific.

It's fine for the spectators who can hear all the campaign issues discussed, with accompanying oratorial fireworks, without leaving home more than once. With the speaking usually out of doors, the campaign assumes a sort of picnic aspect, with whole families attending. Pleasantly enough, such a campaign doesn't seem to warp anybody's thinking. The voters get just about what they expected, the dramatic gestures.

This year Senator Olin D. Johnston, the incumbent senator and former Governor, is confronted day after day by Governor J. Strom Thurmond, his opponent, in a whip saw of accusations and counter accusations, which total up to about as colorful a campaign as can be imagined. So far, speaking on the same platform, neither candidate has accused the other of being pro-Communist or pro-Negro, but both candidates are lashing into President Truman.

Senator Johnston is accused by Governor Thurmond of being an administration supporter. But Johnston is a bitter opponent of the Marshall Plan, while Thurmond is for it. On federal aid to education, Governor Thurmond is against it on the ground it will regiment state education systems and eventually end segregation in the schools, and Senator Johnston says that it can be controlled by the states without any effect upon segregation.

They shake their fingers under one another's noses in debate and thunder direct questions. Thurmond tries to tie Johnston up with President Truman. Johnston says he "is thankful that the Democratic party is bigger than the little man in the White House." He denounced Johnston for his support of Truman in '48 when Thurmond, as the Presidential candidate of the States' Rights party, kept 39 Southern electorial votes out of the Democratic column.

The campaign sparkles as the candidates meet toe to toe, but somehow it lacks the oldtime fire and brimstone of the days of the late "Cotton Ed" Smith, who used to rouse his following to high excitement by addressing his opponent as "this miserable liar" or "how can you sit here on this platform and tell such complete and utter falsehoods" or "you are beneath my contempt."

There's a pioneer spirit about that kind of campaigning that makes a lot of people wish they could see it in their states. And it really brings out the voters.

Tall, stooped Senator Scott Lucas of Illinois, majority leader of the senate, has been a sportsman all his life. He has played minor league baseball, is a crack golfer and hunts every fall in the bottoms of the Illinois River Valley, near his home at Havana.

He hasn't been exactly a "miracle worker" in the senate, but his friends recount four of his sporting accomplishments that were no less than miraculous.

He claims to have been the first amateur golfer to make two birdies on one hole. His second shot killed a swallow and he sank the ball on his next shot, for one under par..

Duck hunting last fall he bagged three mallards with one gun shot. They dropped within six feet of one another, all dead. At least that's his friends' story. When asked about it on a television program, he said, "Well, I killed three ducks."

In a celebrities golf tournament here last week, Lucas got off a 215 yard drive but the ball disappeared. It had dropped into the coat sleeve of a spectator.

In the same tournament Bob Hope, the comedian, bounced a long drive off a spectators leg, but it happened to be his wooden leg. Lucas stepped up and drove another ball, which connected with the leg of another spectator, but it wasn't a wooden leg.

To his tricks in sports, Senator Lucas wants to add two that will give him much more satisfaction: to adjourn this session of Congress by July 31 (which few believe he can do), and to defeat his Republican opponent, former Representative Everett M. Dirksen, in November. That will be tough, but indications are increasing that he can do it.

THE PEACE OFFENSIVE

"Peace offensive" is a curious term to use in times of peace, but then we are living in an unusual age. Therefore, the peace offensive which Soviet Russia is now waging against the United States and western Europe is not only paradoxical in language but in its historical nature.

Peace offensives are usually conducted toward the end of a war when one of the belligerents desires to terminate hostilities wtih such advantages which may still be bargainable. Often a third party intervenes during a peace offensive. In the past two wars, the pope made several attempts to end the holocaust, and it has not been unusual for the Scandinavian countries to offer their good offices. War seems to be so futile an instrument of national policy that only madmen invoke it.

A peace offensive is usual in time of war. In peace, normally it is not necessary to try to attain peace. Obviously then there is no peace and there has been no peace since the shooting ended. The European policy of the American government is more within the atmosphere of an armistice than a peace. We are arming our allies; we are assisting in laying the foundations of a united Europe; we are engaging ourselves to finance a war if necessary. There is almost no precedent in time of peace for such bellicosity as Dean Acheson now speaks.

It has all had a definite effect upon Soviet Russia. The entire Communist movement throughout the world, their press and orators, their fellow-traveler associates, are engaged in a world-wide effort to effect peace on the basis of the present territorial status quo. In a word, Soviet Russia desires a period to consolidate the empire of 800,000,000 human beings who have been conquered, coerced and reduced to slavery. The very people who shouted for a "second front" at Stalin's behest, before the United States was ready for D-Day, are now flying the dove of peace, also at Stalin's behest. It is possible to identify their inspriation by noting their activity in both these movements.

Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, faced by the Russian boycott of his organization, has devoted himself to achieving the appeasement of Soviet Russia. How that would strengthen the United Nations is difficult to understand, for if the Russians can get away with decisions-by-walkout, the veto becomes mastery and the walkout the method of legislation.

Trygve Lie's 10-point program is clearly favorable to Soviet Russia, particularly as it relates to the reopening of the question of atomic weapons on a basis other than the Baruch report. Lie wants Nationalist China expelled from the United Nations. Its place to be taken by Soviet China, whose policy is completely controlled by Soviet Russia. Dean Acheson has, with wisdom, rejected this position, although he must now be overemphatic to make up for his previous errors in relationship to China.

Lie's activities on behalf of the Russian peace offensive are unfortunate at this time, as they raise the question of the role of the secretary-general of the United Nations. Article 99 of the charter empowers him to play only this role:

"The secretary-general may bring to the attention of the security council any matter which in his opinion may threaten the maintenance of international peace and security."

Nowhere in the charter is he authorized to travel from nation to nation, negotiating, lobbying, trying to force issues, or to engage in propagandistic efforts among the American people to influence them concerning the policies of their own government.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson summarized the peace offensive in these words:

"We mean that the Soviet authorities would use, and gladly use, any means at their command to weaken and to harm us. Although they have not thought it wise to use military force against us, they are trying other methods. One method is the attempt to confuse and divide the American people. . . . They have another objective, which is to pick off members of the free community of nations one by one. . . ."

The present peace offensive is not designed to give the world peace. It is designed to lull the world into the acceptance of a Soviet victory.

A PAPER ECONOMY

Whether we realize it or not, there has been a momentous upheaval in our thinking concerning money in our own lifetime. Or perhaps "thinking" is the wrong word—perhaps we should use the word "attitude," for it is doubtful that there has been much thinking going on along this line.

There is one thing certain, throughout our history and as late as the time of our own fathers, the people of this nation would have thrown up their hands in holy horror at the thought of irredeemable currency. They didn't want to use as money paper that had no intrinsic value back of it, that had no value back of it except a promise to pay. Now we accept it as a matter of course that a $10 bill can only be exchanged at the bank for two $5 bills or for ten $1 bills.

This acceptance of an irredeemable paper currency illustrates more significantly perhaps than any other phase of our activity in recent years the trend of the people to surrender to government. And we can be quite sure that once the control of our economy has been surrendered to our government, control of all other phases of our lives soon goes along with it.

It is historical that people have considered their money as a private possession, as representing the toil of their backs and the sweat of their brows, as something they had earned and therefore as something over which no one else should have any control. Incidents in history, such as coin-clipping and other manipulations of currency by their rulers, made the people distrustful of government in exerting power of any sort over their money.

In spite of all the lessons that history had taught us along these lines, we surrendered control of our money to our government here in the United States in 1933. All our gold, the tangible value back of our money, was confiscated by the government just as if the people had no right to it whatsoever.

In going off the gold standard, of course, our government violated its pledged promise to the people and robbed every person of 42 per cent of his savings. Our money

Jimmie Fidler IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, June 17. — June Allyson, out of pictures while she awaits her date with the stork, is recording an album of kid stuff (songs and stories) for MGM records. . . . Altar - bound: Marie Windsor and L. A. stockbroker, Alex Runciman. . . Arlene Judge is expected in Reno late this month to start divorce proceedings against George Ross, her sixth spouse. . . . RKO bosses shouldn't be too irked because Jane Russell gave them no mailing address when she left on her current vacation; her husband, Bob Waterfield, refused to tell her where they were going.

Wotzis about a big hassle between a major studio and Hiz Honor, Mayor O'Dwyer of New York, who, after viewing a picture filmed in Gotham, decided it was a libel on the fair name of the city? I hear he threatened to withdraw all co-operation in the future unless changes were made. . . . Actor Robert Patton, who left for location work on "American Guerrilla In the Philippines" a married man, returned to find that his missus had filed suit for divorce. . . . The Charles Arnts (he is the veteran character actor) have dated the stork for late fall. . . . Understand MGM has writers working on a "jazz era' musical to star Jimmy Durante.

Preview Nights: Pic of the week: MGM's "The Next Voice You Hear" (James Whitmore-Nancy Davis-Gary Gray). An inspirational, charming and thoroughly enjoyable screen masterpiece; rate ★ one of the year's best and give it a preferred place on your "should-see list'. . . . Good: United Artists' "The Iroquois Trail' (George Montgomery-Brenda Marshall-Glenn Langan-Paul Cavanaugh.) Adventure melodrama with the French and Indian war of the 18th century as a colorful backdrop; Grade A screen fare for action fans and the best-bet of th eweek for kids. . . . Universal-International's "Winchester 73" (James Stewart-Shelly Winters-Dan Duryea). A western in the grand manner, highlighted by excellent performances. . . . Fair; RKO's "Destination Murder' '(Joyce MacKenzie-Stanley Clements-Hurd Hatfield). A fast-moving whodunit that holds interest despite several very apparent plot fumbles. . . . Low Bridge: Monogram's "Sideshow" (Don McGuire-Tracey Roberts). Too contrived to be taken seriously. . . . Best Performance: Nancy Davis in "The Next Voice You Hear."

Quite a lot of to-do was made in Hollywood over the discovery that Audie Murphy, the most decorated soldier of World War II, had given all of his medals—even his Congressional Medal of Honor—away to kids, and given them so lightly that he couldn't even remember the names of some of the youngsters who received them. I hope Audie will forgive me if I fail to see eye-to-eye with those Filmville columnists who have been applauding his "modesty." The United States does not award its decorations lightly, and they deserve respect. It seems to me that Audie's actions are less modest than they are disrespectful.

It's a rare day that some Hollywood commentator fails to report that Stanley Kramer is about to take over a job as the production head of a major studio. I have no doubt that he, because of his outstanding success as a producer of box-office hits, has had dozens of big studio jobs offered him, but I think he's far too smart to accept one. Kramer's whole success—and he knows it—is based on the teamwork of a small organization, concentrating all of its effort on one picture at a time. He and his partners, George Glass and Writer Carl Forman, live 24 hours a day with the stories they select for production. Kramer is a producer in everything the word should mean, but seldom does when it is used to describe a major studio executive. Taking him out of his present spot and putting him in charge of a big lot's mass production would be like taking a great composer away from his piano and putting him in command of a publishing company's affairs.

William Grant Sherry, the estranged spouse of Bette Davis, has distinguished himself, in my opinion, by the consistent silliness of his statements to the press since he and Miss David separated. Even so, he hit a new low when he announced, the other day, that: "The next time I give my heart, it won't be to a career girl . I want to find someone who realizes the value of the simple things in life." Reading that one, I can only conclude that he's misjudging Bette. Unless I miss my guess, her recent actions prove that she has her ideas about the value of one of the simpler things.

Military Strength

One of the great current topics of conversation is just how the United States and Russia compare in military strength. On the one hand are those who say that the Soviet Union is frighteningly superior—and at the other extreme are those who believe we are strong enough and have nothing much to worry about.

An article in U. S. News and World Report has summed up the available evidence and compressed it into a feature of uncommon interest and value.

First of all, when it comes to arms, the Soviet bloc of nations is overwhelmingly ahead of the U. S. bloc. We can command 45 army divisions as against Russia's 170. We have 6,000 tanks and 14,000 combat aircraft as against her 40,000 and 16,000 respectively. Of the traditional weapons, we are ahead only in naval craft—546 to 427. However, U. S. News estimates, our atom bomb stockpile totals 400, as against 25 for the Communist world.

But arms aren't the whole story. In the last war, for instance, we entered into hostilities at a terrific disadvantage in this department. Japan, Germany and Italy were all far ahead of us in the size and strength of every combat service. What told in the long run was our military potential—which simply means the industrial capacity that can be applied to creating, arming, transporting and maintaining a great army, navy and air force.

So, when the U. S. News compares the production power of the two worlds the picture become infinitely more encouraging. The U. S. bloc has an annual steel production capacity of 144,000,000 tons; the Russian bloc has 30,000,000. Annual coal production on our side is 1,360,000,000 tons; Russia can count on 430,000,000. Electric power output per year runs 690,000,000,000 kilowatt hours and 106,000,000,000 respectively. Oil comes to 3,089,000,000 barrels as against 299,000,000. Rail mileage is 675,900, as opposed to 107,800. And Russia's food supplies are always short.

After summarizing the strengths and weaknesses of the possible antogonists, U. S. News said; "Outlook, with the Western means of defense. . . . gradually overtaking the Soviet means of waging offensive war, is for a stalemate of long duration, rather than a quick victory for Russia, if war comes. Each side is now getting into position to inflict heavy damage on the other. Yet neither side, has the edge in offensive strength needed to win."

Elsewhere in the article the magazine also said, "A shooting war, as things stand, means a stalemate nobody wants." That is one reason why there is so much hope that the formal peace may be maintained, even though the cold war periodically blows warmer so far as words are concerned. The masters of Russia certainly are not bent on self-destruction. And, as General Marshall said in his impressive Memorial Day address at Arlington, there may be no real victor if another war comes—all the nations may be virtually destroyed.

Revenue For Bonus Bonds

A house committee has voted down, by five to four, a bill by Rep. Tessier of New Orleans to dedicate the beer tax revenue to payment of the $60,000,000 bonus bonds. Of course, the state administration and the legislators submitting the bonus constitutional amendments in 1948 orally "dedicated" the beer tax to payment of the bonds and the public generally understood that the revenue would go only for the bonus bonds.

The difference between the administration's "dedication" and that proposed by Tessier is that Tessier wants it to mean something; he wants dedication by constitutional amendment, not by words soon forgotten.

Five million dollars already has been taken from the tax revenue "dedicated" to the bonus bonds, and diverted to the highway department—a step thoughtfully taken as a senatorial campaign approached and followed by a second thought grab of $10,000,000 from welfare funds for more "highway purposes"—pre-primary type, perhaps. Also $3,000,000 has been taken from the bonus tax revenue for deficit in a school lunch program that taxed the poor to feed the rich and by itself fed no one free.

The World pointed out at the time of the beer tax and bonus bonds deal that the end result would be tens of millions of dollars of tax revenue above the needs to pay off the bonus bonds; that this money would just be a plaything for the administration in power at the time and with the people paying off through the nose.

Rep. Tessier is making a sound move in trying to earmark the beer tax money for the bonus bonds. But he is not likely to get anywhere. Even when playing around with beer the Baton Rouge administration has champaigne tastes—and it isn't going to give up its tens of millions in bonus bonds surplus revenue except in ways that will give it personal happiness and amusement.

'Oh, Promise Me'

Down in Lafayette the report is published that if the $140,000,000 grab-bag highway bonds issue is approved highway 90—the Old Spanish Trail—would be rebuilt from Mississippi to Texas, including Lafayette.

Norman Land, highway department engineer who seems to be determined to tell the truth even if he gets his throat out doing it, promptly denied the report. He pointed out also that the bond issue proposal specifies no particular roads in any part of the state and that no one possibly can know how the bond money would be spent until the time comes to spend it. We said much the same thing the other day—only we were not quite as sweet as Mr. Land about it—when we called the bond proposal a pig in a poke which the taxpayers are supposed to accept blindly. We welcome Mr. Land's refined way of confirming our position. But if he's going to speak so frankly right along he'd better wear an iron collar.

Stage Entrance: The Broadway show season gross is expected to hit $29,000,000. A million less than last year, which had 14 more shows. . . . You cannot buy advance tickets to "South Pacific" at the box-office. If you order by mail now, you may be accommodated about Jan. 1951. . . . Forgotten-Man-of-the-Year: No one has mentioned who wrote the lyrics to His Majesty's song in M. Todd's "Peep Show." He's the Chancellor of Thailand. . . . Rich-Get-Richer: Broadway's top mints, "So. Pac." and "Kate," are minting plenty on the road, too. . . . "Chaplain John," a new play (about a wartime chaplain in Italy), was written by a New York rabbi of a Temple in the West 90s. . . . Dimitri Tiomkin, after twenty years composing music for 100 Hollywood films, has written a Broadway tinkler christened: "Show Business". . . . Love-Letter from director Joshua Logan: "Your exciting comment on Helen Hayes' performance in 'The Wisteria Trees' caused last week's business to jump $3,000."

In the Wings: Critic George Jean Nathan was approached by an actor who has a sensayuma. . . . "Mr. Nathan," he said, "I want to thank you very much for the notice you gave me". . . . "You have me mixed up," starched George. "I panned you." "I know," was the retort, "but did you read The Others? ? ?"

Then there's the time Frances Williams gleefully passed around a rap he wrote about her. "This is recognition!" she exclaimed to the cast. "It's the first time in a half-dozen shows he's noticed me!"

Broadway Godiva: In Prof. Todd's "Peep Show" (to be unveiled at The Winter Garden on the 28th) the curtain goes up on a sensational opening episode in Heroine makes this trip with nonchalance in Broad Daylight every performance dressed only in her nekkidness, plus slippers . . . H hasn't been able to find his damned coat . . . And will never recognize it when he does.

Stairway to the Stars: Mary Martin's daughter (11) makes her stage debut at Westport in "Quality Street" soon. Her son Larry (18) has been signed by Margaret Webster for Shakesperean repertory at Woodstock. . . . Marcella Markham (Mrs. Frank Kingdon) will play the Judy Holliday role in "Born Yesterday" at Smithtown week of July 3rd. . . . The H. Cullmans, who usually back the hits, have invested in Wolcott Gibbs' "Season in the Sun" and John Patrick's "The Curious Savage". . . . Remember lovely Lois Moran? She's making her comeback in "Kitty Doone," via a west coast little theatre group. . . . How the mighty suffer: Judith Anderson, whose "Medea" was one of the top acting portraits of our time is billed below the title of "The Furies," a western. . . . If "Born to Be Bad" (Joan Fontaine) seems familiar, it's because Connie Bennett did it as "A Bed of Roses," in 1933.

The Aristocrats: Nobody renders "Again" as eloquently as Vera Lynn, the London recording star. . . . One of the top-notchers is the ABC-tv stanza on Sabbaths for youngsters. They point the cameras at the Bronx Zoo's 4-footed performers. . . . Senator Margaret Chase Smith's charm and intelligence brightened, Who 'Said That?' . . . Lord Woolton's interview via Ed Murrow's newscast was an engagingly British as Basil Rathbone. . . . The Teevy version of Ferenc Molanars "The Swan" came over with all of its feathery fooling intact. . . . Eddie Fisher's crooning on Milton Berle's program was so good he was signed on the line to pinch-hit for the suddenly stricken Fran Warren at the Riviera. He's only 20, and the major movie temples are bidding for him. Up to then he couldn't get a B'way booking.... Suggestion to toupee-wearers on teevy: Avoid closeups.

The Story-Tellers: "Can Newspapers Survive Without Sex?" by James Wechsler is the feature of tomorrow's Saturday Review of Literature. He defends the policy of playing up sex crimes and other sensational stories. Opposing it is August Hecksher of the N. Y. Herald Tribune. . . . Collier's essay on Herb Caen, the San Francisco colyumist, reports, He says Winchell is his idol and frankly admits he patterned his writing after the New York columnist's style." What makes it a scoop is that Caen is the first to admit it. . . . Priscilla Wayne of the Des Moines Tribune's woman's page took a chop at national magazines. She heckled pieces in Look by Admiral Zacharias. Her boss publishes bot publications. . . . Time finally reviewed "Seeds of Treason" . . . Harper's notes that Lincoln never said: 'You can fool some of the people some of the time, etc." When we used it a few years ago, readers challenged it.

The Intelligentsia: The Literary Guild's October choice will be "Champion Road" by Frank Tilsely. I twas a click in England for two years. . . . Frances Parkinson Keyes' new novel is christened "Joy Street." The setting is Boston's Beacon Hill. . . . 'A Treasury of Baseball Humor" (Lantern Press) is a literary speedball. It has essays by Bob Ruark, John Crosby and James Cannon. . . . The latter's column this week reported: "All singers sounded good when Bunny Berrigan's trombone backed them up." Bunny tooted a trumpet, son. . . . Vic Lasky and Fred Woltman, the Pulitzer Prize winner, have teamed to put the Amerasia case between Dutton covers. . . . Kyle Crichton's book, "The Marx Bros.," is copyrighted by them, not by the author.

The Press-Box: World-Telegram-Sun strikers hear that the paper is ready to hold out all summer. It will be toughest on the eight other unions that stayed out rather than cross the Guild's picket lines. These people do not get strike allowances while out of work. . . . Several weeks ago when several publishers detected unrest in the Newspaper Guild, they called a meeting to discuss ways and means of combatting a strike. All agreed, except the WTSun's Roy Howard, who said his staff was contented, well paid and there wouldn't be any picket lines at his paper . . . From Quick: "A few more years people will be saying: "I'd rather be Ike than president.'" They said it before the last election right after it appeared here, too. . . . Headline: "Senators to Investigate Perverts". . . . Why not use our long-ago wordwedding, instead? Wildemen.

BASCOM TIMMONS

Senatorial contests in South Carolina could not afford the voters more entertainment if they were planned for that purpose, and outsiders who got in on the show are not so sure they aren't. That is one of few states where the opposing candidates no matter how bitterly they dislike one another, campaign together, and the fireworks are usually terrific.

It's fine for the spectators who can hear all the campaign issues discussed, with accompanying oratorial fireworks, without leaving home more than once. With the speaking usually out of doors, the campaign assumes a sort of picnic aspect, with whole families attending. Pleasantly enough, such a campaign doesn't seem to warp anybody's thinking. The voters get just about what they expected, the dramatic gestures.

This year Senator Olin D. Johnston, the incumbent senator and former Governor, is confronted day after day by Governor J. Strom Thurmond, his opponent, in a whip saw of accusations and counter accusations, which total up to about as colorful a campaign as can be imagined. So far, speaking on the same platform, neither candidate has accused the other of being pro-Communist or pro-Negro, but both candidates are lashing into President Truman.

Senator Johnston is accused by Governor Thurmond of being an administration supporter. But Johnston is a bitter opponent of the Marshall Plan, while Thurmond is for it. On federal aid to education, Governor Thurmond is against it on the ground it will regiment state education systems and eventually end segregation in the schools, and Senator Johnston says that it can be controlled by the states without any effect upon segregation.

They shake their fingers under one another's noses in debate and thunder direct questions. Thurmond tries to tie Johnston up with President Truman. Johnston says he "is thankful that the Democratic party is bigger than the little man in the White House." He denounced Johnston for his support of Truman in '48 when Thurmond, as the Presidential candidate of the States' Rights party, kept 39 Southern electorial votes out of the Democratic column.

The campaign sparkles as the candidates meet toe to toe, but somehow it lacks the oldtime fire and brimstone of the days of the late "Cotton Ed" Smith, who used to rouse his following to high excitement by addressing his opponent as "this miserable liar" or "how can you sit here on this platform and tell such complete and utter falsehoods" or "you are beneath my contempt."

There's a pioneer spirit about that kind of campaigning that makes a lot of people wish they could see it in their states. And it really brings out the voters.

Tall, stooped Senator Scott Lucas of Illinois, majority leader of the senate, has been a sportsman all his life. He has played minor league baseball, is a crack golfer and hunts every fall in the bottoms of the Illinois River Valley, near his home at Havana.

He hasn't been exactly a "miracle worker" in the senate, but his friends recount four of his sporting accomplishments that were no less than miraculous.

He claims to have been the first amateur golfer to make two birdies on one hole. His second shot killed a swallow and he sank the ball on his next shot, for one under par..

Duck hunting last fall he bagged three mallards with one gun shot. They dropped within six feet of one another, all dead. At least that's his friends' story. When asked about it on a television program, he said, "Well, I killed three ducks."

In a celebrities golf tournament here last week, Lucas got off a 215 yard drive but the ball disappeared. It had dropped into the coat sleeve of a spectator.

In the same tournament Bob Hope, the comedian, bounced a long drive off a spectators leg, but it happened to be his wooden leg. Lucas stepped up and drove another ball, which connected with the leg of another spectator, but it wasn't a wooden leg.

To his tricks in sports, Senator Lucas wants to add two that will give him much more satisfaction: to adjourn this session of Congress by July 31 (which few believe he can do), and to defeat his Republican opponent, former Representative Everett M. Dirksen, in November. That will be tough, but indications are increasing that he can do it.

A PAPER ECONOMY

Whether we realize it or not, there has been a momentous upheaval in our thinking concerning money in our own lifetime. Or perhaps "thinking" is the wrong word—perhaps we should use the word "attitude," for it is doubtful that there has been much thinking going on along this line.

There is one thing certain, throughout our history and as late as the time of our own fathers, the people of this nation would have thrown up their hands in holy horror at the thought of irredeemable currency. They didn't want to use as money paper that had no intrinsic value back of it, that had no value back of it except a promise to pay. Now we accept it as a matter of course that a $10 bill can only be exchanged at the bank for two $5 bills or for ten $1 bills.

This acceptance of an irredeemable paper currency illustrates more significantly perhaps than any other phase of our activity in recent years the trend of the people to surrender to government. And we can be quite sure that once the control of our economy has been surrendered to our government, control of all other phases of our lives soon goes along with it.

It is historical that people have considered their money as a private possession, as representing the toil of their backs and the sweat of their brows, as something they had earned and therefore as something over which no one else should have any control. Incidents in history, such as coin-clipping and other manipulations of currency by their rulers, made the people distrustful of government in exerting power of any sort over their money.

In spite of all the lessons that history had taught us along these lines, we surrendered control of our money to our government here in the United States in 1933. All our gold, the tangible value back of our money, was confiscated by the government just as if the people had no right to it whatsoever.

In going off the gold standard, of course, our government violated its pledged promise to the people and robbed every person of 42 per cent of his savings. Our money

OFF THE RECORD — By Ed Reed

Jimmie Fidler IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, June 17. — June Allyson, out of pictures while she awaits her date with the stork, is recording an album of kid stuff (songs and stories) for MGM records. . . . Altar - bound: Marie Windsor and L. A. stockbroker, Alex Runciman. . . Arlene Judge is expected in Reno late this month to start divorce proceedings against George Ross, her sixth spouse. . . . RKO bosses shouldn't be too irked because Jane Russell gave them no mailing address when she left on her current vacation; her husband, Bob Waterfield, refused to tell her where they were going.

Wotzis about a big hassle between a major studio and Hiz Honor, Mayor O'Dwyer of New York, who, after viewing a picture filmed in Gotham, decided it was a libel on the fair name of the city? I hear he threatened to withdraw all co-operation in the future unless changes were made. . . . Actor Robert Patton, who left for location work on "American Guerrilla In the Philippines" a married man, returned to find that his missus had filed suit for divorce. . . . The Charles Arnts (he is the veteran character actor) have dated the stork for late fall. . . . Understand MGM has writers working on a "jazz era' musical to star Jimmy Durante.

Preview Nights: Pic of the week: MGM's "The Next Voice You Hear" (James Whitmore-Nancy Davis-Gary Gray). An inspirational, charming and thoroughly enjoyable screen masterpiece; rate ✎ one of the year's best and give it a preferred place on your "should-see list'. . . . Good: United Artists' "The Iroquois Trail' (George Montgomery-Brenda Marshall-Glenn Langan-Paul Cavanaugh.) Adventure melodrama with the French and Indian war of the 18th century as a colorful backdrop; Grade A screen fare for action fans and the best-bet of th eweek for kids. . . . Universal-International's "Winchester 73" (James Stewart-Shelly Winters-Dan Duryea). A western in the grand manner, highlighted by excellent performances. . . . Fair; RKO's "Destination Murder' "(Joyce MacKenzie-Stanley Clements-Hurd Hatfield). A fast-moving whodunit that holds interest despite several very apparent plot fumbles. . . . Low Bridge: Monogram's "Sideshow" (Don McGuire-Tracey Roberts). Too contrived to be taken seriously. . . . Best Performance: Nancy Davis in "The Next Voice You Hear."

Quite a lot of to-do was made in Hollywood over the discovery that Audie Murphy, the most decorated soldier of World War II, had given all of his medals—even his Congressional Medal of Honor—away to kids, and given them so lightly that he couldn't even remember the names of some of the youngsters who received them. I hope Audie will forgive me if I fail to see eye-to-eye with those Filmville columnists who have been applauding his "modesty." The United States does not award its decorations lightly, and they deserve respect. It seems to me that Audie's actions are less modest than they are disrespectful.

It's a rare day that some Hollywood commentator fails to report that Stanley Kramer is about to take over a job as the production head of a major studio. I have no doubt that he, because of his outstanding success as a producer of box-office hits, has had dozens of big studio jobs offered him, but I think he's far too smart to accept one. Kramer's whole success—and he knows it—is based on the teamwork of a small organization, concentrating all of its effort on one picture at a time. He and his partners, George Glass and Writer Carl Forman, live 24 hours a day with the stories they select for production. Kramer is a producer in everything the word should mean, but seldom does when it is used to describe a major studio executive. Taking him out of his present spot and putting him in charge of a big lot's mass production would be like taking a great composer away from his piano and putting him in command of a publishing company's affairs.

William Grant Sherry, the estranged spouse of Bette Davis, has distinguished himself, in my opinion, by the consistent silliness of his statements to the press since he and Miss David separated. Even so, he hit a new low when he announced, the other day, that: "The next time I give my heart, it won't be to a career girl . I want to find someone who realizes the value of the simple things in life." Reading that one, I can only conclude that he's misjudging Bette. Unless I miss my guess, her recent actions prove that she has her ideas about the value of one of the simpler things.

EDITORS' ROUNDTABLE

THE TIDELANDS ISSUE

In continuing discussion of the recent supreme court tidelands decisions, editors appear to divide about equally on whether Texas' treaty of annexation with the United States reserved to Texas paramount rights in its tidelands. Majority opinion approves the court's finding of paramount federal rights in the Louisiana tidelands, as in the earlier California case. But a rather large minority disapproves the Louisiana and California, as well as Texas, decisions, as simply nother extension of federal powers against rights traditonally recognized as reserved to states until oil was discovered in the tidelands.

Pittsburgh (Pa.) Post-Gazette (Ind.): "The supreme court has ruled wisely in giving the federal government control over the oil rich land under the marginal sea —that is, between low-water mark and the three-mile limit—off the coasts of Louisiana and Texas. The court could not have ruled otherwise in view of its 1947 decision in a similar case involving the oil under the marginal seas off the coast of California. . . . This oil should be considered not as a source of revenue for individuals and states but as a reservoir vital to the security of this nation."

San Francisco (Calif.) Chronicle (Ind.-Rep.): "The federal government has only to find something valuable in the offshore lands of other states to go after them, too. . . . The supreme court's decisions should spur action on the bill now pending in the house to quit-claim all these lands to the states. (Note: A similar bill was vetoed by President Truman in 1946.) . . . Texas is unique among the states in that it was an independent sovereign country that joined the union under a compact. By the terms of the compact Texas reserved for itself all its public lands. Presumably this included its offshore lands."

Youngstown (Ohio) Vindicator (Ind.-Dem.): "Justice Douglas pointed out that congress admitted the Republic of Texas to the union "on an equal footing with the existing states.' He asserted that in respect to property lying seaward of low-water mark, 'its use, disposition, management and control involve national interests and national responsibilities.' . . . There are persuasive legal arguments in Texas' case. . . . But . . . common sense counsels that the oil under the sea rightfully belongs to the people of the United States, not to a few individual states."

Fort Worth (Texas) Star-Telegram (Ind.-Dem.): "If the needs of defense and foreign affairs are sufficient to warrant the federal government confiscating some oil-bearing lands which happen to be submerged in the Gulf of Mexico, those factors could be used at a later date to justify the confiscation of oil-bearing lands that are not submerged. A dangerous predicate has been laid in this case. The federal government at any time it sees fit may now seek to transfer from state to federal ownership any land anywhere, particularly land on which are found natural resources, because the defense of such land is a paramount responsibility of the federal government."

Birmingham (Ala.) News (Ind.-Dem.): "The majority on the supreme court (6-to-0 in the Louisiana, 4-to-3 in the Texas case) holds that rights to these disputed tidelands have always rested with the federal government and there they should remain for reasons of national security and commerce. . . . In times of international stress and fear, control of offshore waters could become important. . . . The decisions affect only waters that are not land-locked and lie beyond the low-tide mark. . . . Owners of shore property need not be alarmed. They will not be affected."

Dallas (Texas) News (Ind.-Dem.): "The needs of defense and foreign affairs alone can not transfer ownership of an ocean bed from a state to a federal government any more than they could transfer iron ore under uplands from state to federal ownership. . . . National responsibility is no greater in respect to the marginal sea than it is toward every other particle of American territory. . . The paragraphs above are lifted bodily from the dissenting tidelands opinion of Justices Stanley F. Reed (Kentucky) and Sherman Minton (Indiana)."

Cincinnati (Ohio) Times-Star (Rep.): "The question of who owns the tidelands rested peacefully for 150 years until the New Deal, and specifically Harold Ickes, raised it. . . . Perhaps . . . legal ownership resides in the federal government. But morally and historically the states, which bonded together to form the union, should hold ownership. There is now, more than ever, reason for congress to pass a law renouncing federal ownership and returning to the states what should be rightfully theirs."

Prevention Of Odors Is Called Best Cure

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(AP)—The government is offering a new booklet for sale.

The title: "Control of odors."

The publisher: the bureau of standards.

In a foreward the bureau says it "receives many requests for information or advice regarding odors, especially their elimination . . . ."

Then, for the price of 10 cents, the bureau reaches a simple conclusion in its 12-page publication: "The best solution of an odor problem is to find the material that is the source of the odor and remove it, if possible."

PITCHING HORSESHOES

YIP-YIP FOR MOOM PITCHERS

For the past eight months the Roses have been sticking pretty close to home, hearth and television set, and as I've reported in this space from time to time, Eleanor and I have been pleasantly overwhelmed by some of the shows we've seen on our one-foot screen. A couple of week-ends back, however, my missus dusted off the projector in the midget movie theater we built in our barn in Mt. Kisco several summer ago, and since then we've been catching up with some of the films we've missed. And from what we've seen to date it's as plain as the mustache on Groucho Marx's face that a good film is still a country mile ahead of anything TV has to offer.

Let's see if I can't make my point with four flickering for-instances. . . .

"Annie Get Your Gun." If video has put on a musical to compare with this Technicolor translation of the Rodgers-Hammerstein stage hit, I haven't seen it. What's more, I'm willing to bet a candied apple that it'll be several years and inventions before it does.

Speaking generally of chorus girls—and that's what I'm generally speaking of—the five-inch glamour-puss on television is a novelty and, in an academic way, interesting, but she'll never hold candle or come-on to the bigger-and-buxomer-than-life cuties on the king-size movie screen.

"The Asphalt Jungle." There are plenty of thrillers and shoot-'em-ups on the cathode circuit these nights, but for my pesos and applause they're high-school productions alongside the panel-by-panel slickness of this new film directed by John Huston. And this isn't meant as a thumb in the eye to the lads who produce for TV. Until such time as their sponsors can afford the luxury of months of preparation and weeks of rehearsals, I don't see how they can begin to compete with top Hollywood product.

"Father of the Bride." I don't know whether you've seen this one yet, but it's a celluloid cinch that TV hasn't as yet come up with a comparable 90 minutes in either the laugh or tear departments. The Ford dramatic hour is plenty good, but no performer on it has ever reached out and grabbed me by the heart and funny bone as Spencer Tracy did in his portrayal of Elizabeth Taylor's distracted pop. I don't know how this feature is doing at the box office, but if I owned the movie studio that produced it and didn't clean up, I'd nail the front door shut.

"The Next Voice You Hear." This strange and provocative chunk of film was produced by Dore Schary who less than two years ago took over thw wobbly M-G-M lot and got the kinks out of its legs. Production-wise, "Voice' is as unpretentious as an Italian movie — I understand it was brought in for about $400,000, which is peanut-brittle money in Hollywood. Yet it has been booked into the Radio City Music Hall—the first quickie ever to crash its platinum precincts—and the smart talk is that it will wind up with plenty of cash and comment.

"Voice' delineates, in terms of the family next door, what would happen if God were to go on the radio and present His case for decency and kindness to the world. this theme, played by a cast of unknowns, would find either sponsor or audience, but with the Metro boodle-bag behind it it figures to reach at least a hundred million people around the world and do a lot of them plenty of good.

• • •

Does this yip-yip for moom pitchers mean that I'm planning to give my TV set to the spiders? Not on your selector switch. But as long as I've got a couple of loose quarters in my pocket, I do intend to keep up with the more eye-worthy films—at least until such a time as TV can match the better stuff at my neighborhood theater.

Of course, on the nights when the Bijou is playing one of those ho-humdingers, it will have to get along without my four bitses. If I must look at fair-to-piddlin' entertainment, I'd rather do it for free in my parlor with my shoes off.

DOWN SOUTH

supply was thenceforward in the hands of the politicians, to manipulate as they pleased.

The American citizen is no longer a free man when it comes to choosing his monetary standard. He now accepts a piece of paper for his goods and services, a piece of paper whose value depends upon no "natural" law but only upon the whim of his rulers.

Thus it is that government gains control over the people, and thus it is that the government that gains such control so entrenches itself that it is almost impossible to dislodge it short of a revolution. It so happened that this came about in the United States under a Democratic administration; it would have been just as bad had it happened under a Republican administration. This is a matter that is much bigger than political parties.

What the people of the United States should know, if they do not already know it, is that they have lost control of their government by surrendering their right to control their money supply. We can be quite sure that politicians of any party will always spend whatever amounts of money they can get their hands on, because spending money means patronage and patronage means votes and votes are the life-blood of politicians.

By taking control of the money supply out of the hands of the people's government is enabled to pay no attention to the national debt—the debt load piles higher and higher on the backs of the people. Government is enabled to pay no attention to a balanced budget—it can spend as much money as it wishes, without regard to income or who will eventually, if ever, pay the bill. In other words, government is enabled to grant unlimited "favors" to unlimited numbers of persons—and thereby perpetuate itself in office.

It looks good while it lasts—but an economy built on paper is just as substantial as a house built on sand—they are both doomed to destruction.

Another Civil Rights Battle Seen In Draft Legislation

By Edwin B. Haakinson

WASHINGTON, June 17. —(AP)— Senators were lining up today for a showdown battle over President Truman's "equality of treatment" order under which segregation of Negroes and whites is being gradually ended in the armed services.

The test will come during the next week when the senate considers a proposed three-year extension of the peacetime draft act now due to expire June 24.

This time usual positions in the bitter senate disputes over so-called civil rights legislation will be reversed.

Senator Russell (D.-Ga.), leader of Dixie senators who have won most recent battles against civil rights measures, will be pushing for an amendment he termed a "true civil rights move."

At Russell's urging the senate armed services committee adopted a provision which would allow all persons who enlist or are drafted into the army, navy, air force or marines to request service with units made up of "his own race." Officers who failed to carry out this stipulation would be subject to court martial.

Russell told a reporter he regards this proposal as a "true civil rights move because it protects the rights of an individual to select his own associates when he is under military compulsion."

Majority Leader Lucas (D.-Ill.) and other Democrats who have had no success with civil rights measure in the past already have filed a motion to knock out the Russell provision.

"I think we'll be able to take it out," Lucas said in a separate interview.

His anti-Russell amendment also is sponsored by Senators Myers (D.-Pa.), Lehman (D.-N. Y.), Douglas (D.-Ill.), McMahon (D.-Conn) and Benton (D.-Conn).

Two Republican members of the armed services committee, Senators Saltonstall (Mass.) and Knowland (Calif.), also have filed a motion to remove the Russell provision.

Russell however, is expected to have near solid support of southern senators and he also has promises of votes from several Republicans.

PITTSBURGH MAN COMMITS SUICIDE

Was Prominent Figure In 'Free Work' Probe; Was Due To Testify

PITTSBURGH, June 17.—(AP)—A prominent figure in the city's "free work" probe shot himself to death today, only a few hours before he was to take the witness stand.

The victim, Robert Laun, 36, kept labor and material records at the tunnel street shop of the department of lands and buildings.

In this job, he was an aid to Howard (Buck) Gross, boss of the department's skilled laborers. Gross has been accused of benefitting by free use of city labor on city time.

City council has been conducting the charges.

Both Gross and Homer R. Greene, director of the department, had named Laun responsible for tabulating the material used and hours worked at the shop.

Laun had been slated to explain his records before council today. At 6:30 a.m., his wife, Margaret heard a shot ring out as she was changing the baby's diapers.

She rushed to the basement and found her husband dead from a gunshot wound in the chest. A 30-30 Winchester rifle lay near the body.

Mrs. Laun, mother of four small children, told police:

"I would have taken the gun out of the house if I had any idea he was going to do this.

"But he was desperate about testifying in this probe."

The current investigation stems from a damage suit filed against the city by Mrs. Salvatore Diielsi in the death of her husband, a city workman, wh o was killed in a crash in Butler county. The suit charged Diielsi was enroute to Gross's home to do private work although he was on city time.

Her charges touched off the investigation, first undertaken by the law department and later, at Mayor David L. Lawrence's request, taken over by council.

For five days, Gross and council President Thomas E. Kilgallen have been accused of using city labor to build and remodel their country homes.

The heads of Moore barley, a new strain, stay on when ripe, thus allowing the farmer to wait until the whole crop is ready to harvest.

OUR CHILDREN

SUMMER JOB

Schools close usually for about ten weeks in the summer and that leaves a goodly number of active boys and girls footloose and rather at a loss. For ten months they were set to a steady rhythmic routine of home and school; then on the last day of June things come to an abrupt halt. The first day is like a holiday in its relief from duty's yoke, the second day is not so pleasant and the third day usually find them asking "What shall I do?"

Something must be found for them to do and speedily. Satan finds mischief for idle hands—to say nothing of idle minds—to do and it is our business to get in a hand before he does and furnish occupation for the children that will be helpful to their future work, interesting, profitable in financial ways as well as intellectual growth. What shall it be and how do we start?

Talk this over with the boys and girls. They are likely to have plans. Discuss the plans they have and add your own if that is necessary or feasible. The best job is the one that is related to the work the children have elected as their life work, if such work can be found. The next best is something they find close at hand that offers them daily occupation, some money, some free time, and at the same time keeps them happy.

No job is ever the ideal one. There will be something that requires adjustment of feelings and tastes, someone associated with it whose personality requires the adjustment of the workers' attitudes. Unless such adjustments would require a violation of principles of conduct and action they should be made. Life demands that of us all; we cannot live alone but always in association with others. The discipline that this entails is somethings to be grateful for because it strengthens the soul and enlightens the mind.

No boy, no girl should be allowed to work where liquor is sold. The reasons are obvious. The family into which a young girl does as a helper of any sort should be most carefully investigated before hand. The reasons for that, too, are obvious. When conditions are fundamentally wholesome the rest must be taken as it comes. Experiences with people and their ways with work done for money paid, are part of the essential disciplines of life.

In any case, children should be occupied wholesomely during the summer so that these ten precious weeks of growing time may not be wasted. The younger children, was well as these older ones, must be provided for lest they fall into habits that will trouble them and their parents later on. Vacation time should never be vacant time.

"The Baby Carriage; Its Importance to Baby," is the subject of a helpful leaflet, P-20, written by Dr. Patri. To obtain a copy send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to him, c/o this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G. New York 19, N.Y.

EDITORS' ROUNDTABLE

THE TIDELANDS ISSUE

In continuing discussion of the recent supreme court tidelands decisions, editors appear to divide about equally on whether Texas' treaty of annexation with the United States reserved to Texas paramount rights in its tidelands. Majority opinion approves the court's finding of paramount federal rights in the Louisiana tidelands, as in the earlier California case. But a rather large minority disapproves the Louisiana and California, as well as Texas, decisions, as simply nother extension of federal powers against rights traditonally recognized as reserved to states until oil was discovered in the tidelands.

Pittsburgh (Pa.) Post-Gazette (Ind.): "The supreme court has ruled wisely in giving the federal government control over the oil rich land under the marginal sea —that is, between low-water mark and the three-mile limit—off the coasts of Louisiana and Texas. The court could not have ruled otherwise in view of its 1947 decision in a similar case involving the oil under the marginal seas off the coast of California. . . . This oil should be considered not as a source of revenue for individuals and states but as a reservoir vital to the security of this nation."

San Francisco (Calif.) Chronicle (Ind.-Rep.): "The federal government has only to find something valuable in the offsh re lands of other states to go after them, too. . . . The supreme court's decisions should spur action on the bill now pending in the house to quit-claim all these lands to the states. (Note: A similar bill was vetoed by President Truman in 1946.) . . . Texas is unique among the states in that it was an independent sovereign country that joined the union under a compact. By the terms of the compact Texas reserved for itself all its public lands. Presumably this included its offshore lands."

Youngstown (Ohio) Vindicator (Ind.-Dem.): "Justice Douglas pointed out that congress admitted the Republic of Texas to the union "on an equal footing with the existing states.' He asserted that in respect to property lying seaward of low-water mark, 'its use, disposition, management and control involve national interests and national responsibilities.' . . . There are persuasive legal arguments in Texas' case. . . . But . . . common sense counsels that the oil under the sea rightfully belongs to the people of the United States, not to a few individual states."

Fort Worth (Texas) Star-Telegram (Ind.-Dem.): "If the needs of defense and foreign affairs are sufficient to warrant the federal government confiscating some oil-bearing lands which happen to be submerged in the Gulf of Mexico, those factors could be used at a later date to justify the confiscation of oil-bearing lands that are not submerged. A dangerous predicate has been laid in this case. The federal government at any time it sees fit may now seek to transfer from state to federal ownership any land anywhere, particularly land on which are found natural resources, because the defense of such land is a paramount responsibility of the federal government."

Birmingham (Ala.) News (Ind.-Dem.): "The majority on the supreme court (6-to-0 in the Louisiana, 4-to-3 in the Texas case) holds that rights to these disputed tidelands have always rested with the federal government and there they should remain for reasons of national security and commerce. . . . In times of international stress and fear, control of offshore waters could become important. . . . The decisions affect only waters that are not land-locked and lie beyond the low-tide mark. . . . Owners of shore property need not be alarmed. They will not be affected."

Dallas (Texas) News (Ind.-Dem.): "The needs of defense and foreign affairs alone can not transfer ownership of an ocean bed from a state to a federal government any more than they could transfer iron ore under uplands from state to federal ownership. . . . National responsibility is no greater in respect to the marginal sea than it is toward every other particle of American territory. . . . The paragraphs above are lifted bodily from the dissenting tidelands opinion of Justices Stanley F. Reed (Kentucky) and Sherman Minton (Indiana)."

Cincinnati (Ohio) Times-Star (Rep.): "The question of who owns the tidelands rested peacefully for 150 years until the New Deal, and specifically Harold Ickes, raised it. . . . Perhaps . . . legal ownership resides in the federal government. But morally and historically the states, which bonded together to form the union, should hold ownership. There is now, more than ever, reason for congress to pass a law renouncing federal ownership and returning to the states what should be rightfully theirs."

Prevention Of Odors Is Called Best Cure

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(AP)—The government is offering a new booklet for sale.

The publisher: the bureau of standards.

In a foreward the bureau says it "receives many requests for information or advice regarding odors, especially their elimination . . . ."

Then, for the price of 10 cents, the bureau reaches a simple conclusion in its 12-page publication: "The best solution of an odor problem is to find the material that is the source of the odor and remove it, if possible."

The 2,500,000 inhabitants of Hainan Island are mostly Chinese.

PITCHING HORSESHOES

YIP-YIP FOR MOOM PITCHERS

For the past eight months the Roses have been sticking pretty close to home, hearth and television set, and as I've reported in this space from time to time, Eleanor and I have been pleasantly overwhelmed by some of the shows we've seen on our one-foot screen. A couple of week-ends back, however, my missus dusted off the projector in the midget movie theater we built in our barn in Mt. Kisco several summer ago, and since then we've been catching up with some of the films we've missed. And from what we've seen to date it's as plain as the mustache on Groucho Marx's face that a good film is still a country mile ahead of anything TV has to offer.

Let's see if I can't make my point with four flickering for-instances. . . .

"Annie Get Your Gun." If video has put on a musical to compare with this Technicolor translation of the Rodgers-Hammerstein stage hit, I haven't seen it. What's more, I'm willing to bet a candied apple that it'll be several years and inventions before it does.

Speaking generally of chorus girls—and that's what I'm generally speaking of—the five-inch glamour-puss on television is a novelty and, in an academic way, interesting, but she'll never hold candle or come-on to the bigger-and-buxomer-than-life cuties on the king-size movie screen.

"The Asphalt Jungle." There are plenty of thrillers and shoot-'em-ups on the cathode circuit these nights, but for my pesos and applause they're high-school productions alongside the panel-by-panel slickness of this new film directed by John Huston. And this isn't meant as a thumb in the eye to the lads who produce for TV. Until such time as their sponsors can afford the luxury of months of preparation and weeks of rehearsals, I don't see how they can begin to compete with top Hollywood product.

"Father of the Bride." I don't know whether you've seen this one yet, but it's a celluloid cinch that TV hasn't as yet come up with a comparable 90 minutes in either the laugh or tear departments. The Ford dramatic hour is plenty good, but no performer on it has ever reached out and grabbed me by the heart and funny bone as Spencer Tracy did in his portrayal of Elizabeth Taylor's distracted pop. I don't know how this feature is doing at the box office, but if I owned the movie studio that produced it and didn't clean up, I'd nail the front door shut.

"The Next Voice You Hear." This strange and provocative chunk of film was produced by Dore Schary who less than two years ago took over thw wobbly M-G-M lot and got the kinks out of its legs. Production-wise, "Voice' is as unpretentious as an Italian movie — I understand it was brought in for about $400,000, which is peanut-brittle money in Hollywood. Yet it has been booked into the Radio City Music Hall—the first quickie ever to crash its platinum precincts—and the smart talk is that it will wind up with plenty of cash and comment.

"Voice' delineates, in terms of the family next door, what would happen if God were to go on the radio and present His case for decency and kindness to the world. this theme, played by a cast of unknowns, would find either sponsor or audience, but with the Metro boodle-bag behind it it figures to reach at least a hundred million people around the world and do a lot of them plenty of good.

• • •

Does this yip-yip for moom pitchers mean that I'm planning to give my TV set to the spiders? Not on your selector switch. But as long as I've got a couple of loose quarters in my pocket, I do intend to keep up with the more eye-worthy films—at least until such a time as TV can match the better stuff at my neighborhood theater.

Of course, on the nights when the Bijou is playing one of those ho-humdingers, it will have to get along without my four bitses. If I must look at fair-to-piddlin' entertainment, I'd rather do it for free in my parlor with my shoes off.

DOWN SOUTH

supply was thenceforward in the hands of the politicians, to manipulate as they pleased.

The American citizen is no longer a free man when it comes to choosing his monetary standard. He now accepts a piece of paper for his goods and services, a piece of paper whose value depends upon no "natural" law but only upon the whim of his rulers.

Thus it is that government gains control over the people, and thus it is that the government that gains such control so entrenches itself that it is almost impossible to dislodge it short of a revolution. It so happened that this came about in the United States under a Democratic administration; it would have been just as bad had it happened under a Republican administration. This is a matter that is much bigger than political parties.

What the people of the United States should know, if they do not already know it, is that they have lost control of their government by surrendering their right to control their money supply. We can be quite sure that politicians of any party will always spend whatever amounts of money they can get their hands on, because spending money means patronage and patronage means votes and votes are the life-blood of politicians.

By taking control of the money supply out of the hands of the people's government is enabled to pay no attention to the national debt—the debt load piles higher and higher on the backs of the people. Government is enabled to pay no attention to a balanced budget—it can spend as much money as it wishes, without regard to income or who will eventually, if ever, pay the bill. In other words, government is enabled to grant unlimited "favors" to unlimited numbers of persons—and thereby perpetuate itself in office.

It looks good while it lasts—but an economy built on paper is just as substantial as a house built on sand—they are both doomed to destruction.

Another Civil Rights Battle Seen In Draft Legislation

By Edwin B. Haakinson

WASHINGTON, June 17. —(AP)— Senators were lining up today for a showdown battle over President Truman's "equality of treatment" order under which segregation of Negroes and whites is being gradually ended in the armed services.

The test will come during the next week when the senate considers a proposed three-year extension of the peacetime draft act now due to expire June 24.

This time usual positions in the bitter senate disputes over so-called civil rights legislation will be reversed.

Senator Russell (D.-Ga.), leader of Dixie senators who have won most recent battles against civil rights measures, will be pushing for an amendment he termed a "true civil rights move."

At Russell's urging the senate armed services committee adopted a provision which would allow all persons who enlist or are drafted into the army, navy, air force or marines to request service with units made up of "his own race." Officers who failed to carry out this stipulation would be subject to court martial.

Russell told a reporter he regards this proposal as a "true civil rights move because it protects the rights of an individual to select his own associates when he is under military compulsion."

Majority Leader Lucas (D.-Ill.) and other Democrats who have had no success with civil rights measure in the past already have filed a motion to knock out the Russell provision.

"I think we'll be able to take it out," Lucas said in a separate interview.

His anti-Russell amendment also is sponsored by Senators Myers (D.-Pa.), Lehman (D.-N. Y.), Douglas (D.-Ill.), McMahon (D.-Conn) and Benton (D.-Conn).

Two Republican members of the armed services committee, Senators Saltonstall (Mass.) and Knowland (Calif.), also have filed a motion to remove the Russell provision.

Russell however, is expected to have near solid support of southern senators and he also has promises of votes from several Republicans.

PITTSBURGH MAN COMMITS SUICIDE

Was Prominent Figure In 'Free Work' Probe; Was Due To Testify

PITTSBURGH, June 17.—(AP)—A prominent figure in the city's "free work" probe shot himself to death today, only a few hours before he was to take the witness stand.

The victim, Robert Laun, 36, kept labor and material records at the tunnel street shop of the department of lands and buildings.

In this job, he was an aid to Howard (Buck) Gross, boss of the department's skilled laborers. Gross has been accused of benefitting by free use of city labor on city time.

City council has been conducting the charges.

Both Gross and Homer R. Greene, director of the department, had named Laun responsible for tabulating the material used and hours worked at the shop.

Laun had been slated to explain his records before council today. At 6:30 a.m., his wife, Margaret heard a shot ring out as she was changing the baby's diapers.

She rushed to the basement and found her husband dead from a gunshot wound in the chest. A 30-30 Winchester rifle lay near the body.

Mrs. Laun, mother of four small children, told police:

"I would have taken the gun out of the house if I had any idea he was going to do this.

"But he was desperate about testifying in this probe."

The current investigation stems from a damage suit filed against the city by Mrs. Salvatore Diielsi in the death of her husband, a city workman, wh o was killed in a crash in Butler county. The suit charged Diielsi was enroute to Gross's home to do private work although he was on city time.

Her charges touched off the investigation, first undertaken by the law department and later, at Mayor David L. Lawrence's request, taken over by council.

For five days, Gross and council President Thomas E. Kilgallen have been accused of using city labor to build and remodel their country homes.

OUR CHILDREN

SUMMER JOB

Schools close usually for about ten weeks in the summer and that leaves a goodly number of active boys and girls footloose and rather at a loss. For ten months they were set to a steady rhythmic routine of home and school; then on the last day of June things come to an abrupt halt. The first day is like a holiday in its relief from duty's yoke, the second day is not so pleasant and the third day usually find them asking "What shall I do?"

Something must be found for them to do and speedily. Satan finds mischief for idle hands—to say nothing of idle minds—to do and it is our business to get in a hand before he does and furnish occupation for the children that will be helpful to their future work, interesting, profitable in financial ways as well as intellectual growth. What shall it be and how do we start?

Talk this over with the boys and girls. They are likely to have plans. Discuss the plans they have and add your own if that is necessary or feasible. The best job is the one that is related to the work the children have elected as their life work, if such work can be found. The next best is something they find close at hand that offers them daily occupation, some money, some free time, and at the same time keeps them happy.

No job is ever the ideal one. There will be something that requires adjustment of feelings and tastes, someone associated with it whose personality requires the adjustment of the workers' attitudes. Unless such adjustments would require a violation of principles of conduct and action they should be made. Life demands that of us all; we cannot live alone but always in association with others. The discipline that this entails is somethings to be grateful for because it strengthens the soul and enlightens the mind.

No boy, no girl should be allowed to work where liquor is sold. The reasons are obvious. The family into which a young girl does as a helper of any sort should be most carefully investigated before hand. The reasons for that, too, are obvious. When conditions are fundamentally wholesome the rest must be taken as it comes. Experiences with people and their ways with work done for money paid, are part of the essential disciplines of life.

In any case, children should be occupied wholesomely during the summer so that these ten precious weeks of growing time may not be wasted. The younger children, was well as these older ones, must be provided for lest they fall into habits that will trouble them and their parents later on. Vacation time should never be vacant time.

"The Baby Carriage; Its Importance to Baby," is the subject of a helpful leaflet, P-20, written by Dr. Patri. To obtain a copy send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to him, c/o this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G. New York 19, N.Y.

Jaycee Conventioners Feast On Louisiana Rice And Yams

CHICAGO, Ill., June 17.—(Special)—More than 6,000 persons in attendance at the annual convention of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce in Chicago will feast on an old fashioned rice jambalaya and Louisiana yams in a testimonial luncheon at Navy Pier Friday, Jack Howard, Louisiana Jaycee president from Monroe, announced today.

A display booth in the exhibition hall of the Sherman Hotel in Chicago depicting Louisiana produce, industry and culture was opened Wednesday through the cooperation of Pelican State Junior Chamber members and Louisiana business interests. As visitors from throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico, Hawaii, Alaska, the Philippine Islands and other points streamed by 3,000 jars of Louisiana remoulade sauce, over 5,000 one pound packages of vice, Gulf shrimp, literature and other information on the state were given away.

The Louisiana display included exhibits and information on International House, asbestos siding and vehicle manufacturers, the famed French Quarters, the New Orleans Spring Fiesta, public utility concerns, air lines, Mardi Gras, and such varied state industries as seafood, sulphur, rice, sugar and oil.

The jambalaya and yam recipes will be prepared by a South Louisiana culinary expert, Louissey Bouillion of Kaplan. The dressing will contain Louisiana rice, chicken giblets, pork ground meat, and lobsters. The program was sponsored by the Jaycees and business concerns of Louisiana with Jaycee Vice President Warren Simon of Kaplan coordinating. Kaplan Jaycees assisting Simon were Ivan Bourque and Sidney Broussard.

Other Louisiana Jaycees in charge of the exhibit booth were Jules Peytral, Marshall McClelland, and L. A. Schmitt of New Orleans; Walter Platt of Shreveport; and William Clark, Alexandria.

Jaycees from 10 Louisiana cities are in attendance at the convention that opened June 14 and will close June 17. Parades, exhibits, luncheons, a chuck wagon dinner, presentation of awards, an inaugural ball and an address by former President Herbert Hoover are on the convention agenda.

The interest, it is explained, on E Bonds is the highest offered by the treasury—2.9 per cent compounded semi-annually when held to maturity. With funds so safeguarded, a few dollars set aside from each pay day will be a lifesaver when little Johnny or Billy needs money to go to college. When there is a sudden domestic crisis, when old age steals up on one and funds provided through this source will then be doubly welcome. Remember its our government and we must back it with all we have, our time, our every effort our money! Neesboys are doing a wonderful job. Lets make them see that their efforts are meeting with hearty response!

Population figures released by Dallas R. Mims, supervisor of the U. S. census for the fifth Louisiana district, late Friday showed that the Twin Cities failed to make the 50,000 mark. Some had optimistically anticipated that the figures for the two towns would be 55,000 to 60,000. But they missed their guess. Monroe with 38,375 had a gain of 10,066 reported for the past 10 years.

With only 1,728 increase in its 10,286 population, West Monroe failed to show up as well as expected. However that city has not annexed outlying suburbs where probably 1,000 or 2,000 people uncounted in the city's census figures reside. Had they taken these into the city limits, Monroe and West Monroe would have exceeded 50,000 population.

Harold W. Kamman, of Seymour, Indiana, who served Trinity Lutheran Church here as pastor during 1948 and 1949, was graduated recently from Concorida Theological Seminary, Saint Louis, Missouri. He served the local church during the vacancy following the term of the Rev. Normand J. Widiger and until the arrival of the present pastor, the Rev. Harold L. Reinhardt.

Mr. Kamman, a graduate of Concordia College, Fort Wayne, seminary at Saint Louis in 1945, has received a call to become pastor of Faith Lutheran Church at Abilene, Kansas. He expects to begin his work there in August.

At the same academic exercises at which Mr. Kamman received his theological diploma, the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred on the Rev. Martin W. Holls, of New Orleans, who is president of the Southern District of the Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod.

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Slater are deeply interested in the progress of James Schneider, Monroe young man who is soon to get his Master's degree from the University of Pennsylvania. Also he has a job waiting for him on graduation with the T. V. A. and his future seems exceptionally bright. Mrs. Slator is his godmother and this connection has served to strengthen ties through the years.

Hessel Cahn, well known Monroe young man, spent the weekend in Monroe. He is now manager of Hotel Ford at Picayune, and as this is but 55 miles from New Orleans, he and his wife delight in their new location. For years Hessel was extremely active in Boy Scouting and in all that concerns the Monroe fire department in which he served as honorary member for many years.

When the high school in Texas City, Tex., had its commencement recently, Foster Jones, Monroe young man, was speaker. He is son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Jones, of Monroe, and today is a prominent resident of the city in which he resides.

Mr. Jones was graduated from the old Monroe city high school in 1924 and from Baylor University in 1928. With the exception of time spent in the army, he has resided in Texas City ever since he graduated. He is president of the Costal Association, building contractors which have erected large numbers of dwellings in Texas City, Houston, Galveston and La Marque. He is vice-president of the Texas City Kiwanis Club, member of the Galveston Community Council, associate member of the Texas City Jaycees and member of the First Baptist church. He also is president of the Chamber of Commerce in Texas City.

In this last named capacity he has doubled the membership of the organization in the last 12 months. He also was a leader in the organization of the Council of Mainland Chambers of Commerce.

He is married and has a young daughter. During the war he served in the U. S. Navy.

Asked if Peurifoy indicated to him in any way that his record was clear with respect to government employment, Larsen replied: "No sir. He merely indicated that my record in the state department had no annotation to disloyalty."

The transcript showed that on the day before Larsen testified for the official record, he was questioned by the senate investigators in an "off the record" session. Some of this testimony also dealt with the Peurifoy-Larsen meeting but since it was off-the-record, no transcript was available.

In his testimony for the record, Larsen said that he also had been questioned by a McCarthy aide, who pointed a finger at him and called him "guilty" but said everything would be easier for him if he would testify "correctly."

Larsen said he complained about such treatment to Senator Wherry of Nebraska, Republican leader, and was told:

GERMAN VOTING

clue to the tides of public opinion in Western Germany since the Bonn Republic was established.

When the West German parliament was elected a year ago, the Nationalists had insufficient strength even to campaign.

Now they are more noisy. They have won headlines by extremist acts and statements, by inferring that things were better under Hitler.

Only two of a dozen parties called Neo-Nationalistic by allied observers were able to gather enough signatures to enter candidates in the Ruhr election, however.

One party is the Deutsche Reichspartei (German Empire Party), headed by a former school teacher named Dr. Franz Richterwith a Hitler-type mustache. It has campagined under the flag of the Kaiser's Reich.

In the state capital of Duesseldorf, observers expect Richter's party to gather only two or three per cent of the total vote. The party has entered candidates in 99 out of the state's 150 counties.

The second extreme right party is the Socialistische Reichspartei (Socialist Empire Party). It has candidates in only three counties. The party's top speaker is former Maj. Gen. Otto Remer, who broke up the anti-Hitler bomb plot of July, 1944. Remer, however, is not running for office in North Rhine-Westphalia.

Communism is much more firmly entrenched in the Ruhr. In 1947, Communist candidates garnered 14 per cent of the vote and 28 seats in the state assembly.

They gained more votes in North Rhine-Westphalia than anywhere else in West Germany. In the federal elections their average throughout West Germany was 5.7 per cent.

In the last week of campaigning, the Communists have pulled out all the stops in an effort to hold on at least to their present number of seats.

They are estimated to have flooded the state with 2,500,000 to 3,000,000 posters, many of them printed in the Russian zone.

They have brought in Communist chiefs from the east zone to rouse supporters.

But losses for the Communists are confidently predicted by other parties. Former Communist functionaries expelled from the party for "Titoism" also claim that losses are expected by the party's own leaders.

Max Reimann, No. 1 Communist in West Germany, is among the candidates.

Political observers believe that the Christian Democrats, the dominant party in Western Germany, will lose some strength to two right wing parties—the free Democrats and the Deutsche Partei (German Party).

Both of these parties have been making big bids to win votes among the 800,000 refugees eligible to vote.

The refugees were expelled from territories now occupied by Poland and Czechoslovakia or forced to flee East Germany.

They are West Germany's discontents. Thousands are without homes or jobs. Spurning communism, they have a tendency to turn to the extreme right.

FLORIDA CITRUS PLANT DESTROYED

Multi-Million Dollar Fire Wipes Out One Of Largest Processing Houses

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., June 17 —(AP)—A multi-million dollar fire swept one of Florida's largest citrus plants early today, destroying many buildings before firemen from eight towns brought it under control.

John Snively, owner of the sprawling Polk Packing Association plant, estimated the loss at between $2,000,000 and $2,500,000.

C. B. Wilkes, a taxi driver, discovered the blaze about 11 p. m. (E.S.T) last night in a second floor office in a building adjoining the main packing plant.

The fire spread quickly to other structures on the 10-acre installation at Eloise, a little community about three miles from downtown Winter Haven.

Flames leaped 400 to 500 feet in the air and persons 40 miles distant reported they could see the glow.

All available fire apparatus rushed to the scene. Aid was summoned from fire departments at Bartow, Lake Wales, Lake Alfred, Haines City, Lakeland, Eagle Lake and Auburndale.

Three firemen were injured—none seriously—as the blaze raged out of control until just before dawn. Curtains of water kept the flames from reaching several gasoline storage tanks and a switch engine pulled six gasoline tank cars from the area.

The huge processing and canning plant, with about four acres of building space under roof, produced both orange and grapefruit concentrates. About 400,000 cases of canned juice and some concentrate were lost in the fire.

W. W. Giddins, general manager of the big citrus farm, said the concentrate plant was saved.

Destroyed were warehouses, maintenance shops, a packing house, sectionizing plant, a canning plant and a "hot pack" concentrate plant. The buildings contained intricate machinery and much valuable packing equipment.

Cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

Winter Haven is in Mid-Florida, about 40 miles from Tampa and in the heart of the lush citrus producing district.

Getting back to Denver's moths, the experts say four varieties are on the prowl — (1) great black dart; (2) great brown dart; (3) uncivil dart, and (4) common cutworm moth.

As far as bedevilled householders are concerned, all of them can be lumped under category No. 3. Uncivil is the least you can call the darned pests.

If time permits the tour will stop for a special ceremony to dedicate the New Airfield at Marksville on Sunday afternoon.

Chairman Roberts states that the cooperation received from the host cities on all points of the tour has been marvelous. They have met all Civil Aeronautics Authority requirements and have extended open arms of hospitality. Roberts regrets that the limitations of time on the Tour forced him to bypass many cordial invitations from other Louisiana cities. It is planned to visit these places on next year's tour.

A fabulous prize is being offered to the pilot or pilots sighting and bringing back alive a genuine "Flying Disc!" The only requirement is that the pilots, on sighting any discs, must notify their fellow pilots by calling over the radio, "Saucer-Ho!"

A large proportion of the flyers on this tour are former world war II combat veterans from all theatres of the war, ranging from B-29 pilots to the hot-shot P-51 and P-38 jockeys. General T. B. Herndon, United States Air Force, will pilot his personal plane on the tour. The largest plane any pilot will fly on this "mission" will be a twin-engine, four-passenger job.

A great deal of preparation has gone into this 1950 Air Tour and indications are that it will top all previous tours.

"We hope to find tremendous aviation interest throughout the state," says Roberts, "and we will give it all the boost we can. Louisiana's future on the air horizon's is unlimited!"

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Hill and Mrs. L. H. Richards are happy over an anticipated visit from Mrs. L. H. Richards, Jr., and young daughter, Joan Catherine, of Okmulgee, Okla.

Miss Pat Gore, who taught in Shaw, Miss., the past school year, is home to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. Gore. Miss Gore will teach in Yazoo City for the 1950-51 session.

Mrs. Ben Bradford and children, Ben, Jr., and Zelma were in Lake Village Wednesday that Ben, Jr., might have his tonsils removed.

Miss Evelyn Smilow, recent Lake Providence High School graduate, plans to enter St. Joseph hospital, Memphis, in September for a course in nursing.

Dr. and Mrs. T. G. Biggs are on a vacation trip and will visit in Dallas.

A son, James Peter McCain, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCain at Terral's clinic on Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. McCain of Lake Providence are paternal grandparents, and Mrs. Blanche Delpi, Sacramento, Calif., is maternal grandmother.

ARREST NEGROES IN 'JOB SALES'

Accuse Teacher, Principal's Wife Of Selling Teaching Positions

JACKSON, Miss., June 17.—(AP)—Police today reported the arrest of a Jackson Negro school principal's wife and a Negro school teacher on charges of selling teaching jobs.

Detectives E. L. Browne and S. B. Barnes identified the two as Elva Cobbins, wife of O. B. Cobbins, principal of the city's Negro schools, and Pecola Ceola Haley, a teacher in the Smith-Robinson School here.

The officers said Cobbins and Bettie Haley, mother of Pecola-Haley, are being held for investigation. No charges have been filed against them.

Browne and Barnes said they had obtained six signed statements from Elva Cobbins and four signed statements from Pecola Haley. A preliminary hearing is scheduled for Wednesday afternoon.

City attorney E. W. Stennett said the investigation was touched off by a complaint from a job applicant, Matilda Barney. She was given marked money for use in completing a transaction, he reported, and the arrests followed.

City school superintendent Kirby Walker called the arrests "something of a shock." He said he knew no details, since it is being handled by police.

Stennett termed it "just about the rottenest deal that's been uncovered here for a long time."

The city attorney quoted Cobbins as saying he knew nothing of the accusations other than his wife, 10 years ago, reported a job sale offer to him. He turned the applicant down, he told Stennet, and forbade his wife to accept such offers.

Later the Negro educator told newsmen he did not wish to make a statement until he conferred with his attorney, John G. Bunkett.

FLASH FLOODS HIT 2 STATES

One Person Killed, Over $1,000,000 Property Damage In Ohio And Wash0

By The Associated Press

Flash floods that struck in Washington and Ohio left one person dead, three missing and presumed drowned and well over $1,000,000 in property damage Saturday.

A surge of polar air that brought freezing temperatures and scattered frosts to a few sections chilled the midwest and spread eastward.

A four hour cloudburst preceded the Ohio flood Friday night. The Moxahala and Jonathan creeks surged out of their banks and roared down a narrow southwestern Ohio valley.

Thousands fled their homes as the flood waters hit Crooksville, Roseville and about 20 tiny mining towns.

Some residents scrambled to their rooftops, and at least five houses were swept away. Water rose to a seven foot depth in Crooksville's main streets. One woman was carried to her death near Crooksville.

The wave of water knocked out a power station in Crooksville and service in five other communities.

A hot kiln was exploded by the flood waters. The blast set the Acme pottery company plant in Crooksville afire. The entire plant became a mass of flames and was destroyed. Supt. Harold Shower estimated the loss at $1,000,000. Another kiln at the Crooksville china company blew up, but the plant escaped damage.

A cloudburst sent the flood roaring down a gulch into the Baden home. The gulch flows into Pataha creek, a tributary of the Snake river.

The cold Canadian air that spread over the midwest, brought an abrupt end to a warm humid spell. The temperature in Chicago plunged from 92 to 47 in a few hours and tied the record low reading for the date.

Jaycee Conventioners Feast On Louisiana Rice And Yams

CHICAGO, Ill., June 17.—(Special)—More than 6,000 persons in attendance at the annual convention of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce in Chicago will feast on an old fashioned rice jambalaya and Louisiana yams in a testimonial luncheon at Navy Pier Friday, Jack Howard, Louisiana Jaycee president from Monroe, announced today.

A display booth in the exhibition hall of the Sherman Hotel in Chicago depicting Louisiana produce, industry and culture was opened Wednesday through the cooperation of Pelican State Junior Chamber members and Louisiana business interests. As visitors from throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico, Hawaii, Alaska, the Philippine Islands and other points streamed by 3,000 jars of Louisiana remoulade sauce, over 5,000 one pound packages of vice, Gulf shrimp, literature and other information on the state were given away.

The Louisiana display included exhibits and information on International House, asbestos siding and vehicle manufacturers, the famed French Quarters, the New Orleans Spring Fiesta, public utility concerns, air lines, Mardi Gras, and such varied state industries as seafood, sulphur, rice, sugar and oil.

The jambalaya and yam recipes will be prepared by a South Louisiana culinary expert, Louissey Bouillion of Kaplan. The dressing will contain Louisiana rice, chicken giblets, pork ground meat, and lobsters. The program was sponsored by the Jaycees and business concerns of Louisiana with Jaycee Vice President Warren Simon of Kaplan coordinating. Kaplan Jaycees assisting Simon were Ivan Bourque and Sidney Broussard.

Other Louisiana Jaycees in charge of the exhibit booth were Jules Peytral, Marshall McClelland, and L. A. Schmitt of New Orleans; Walter Platt of Shreveport; and William Clark, Alexandria.

Jaycees from 10 Louisiana cities are in attendance at the convention that opened June 14 and will close June 17. Parades, exhibits, luncheons, a chuck wagon dinner, presentation of awards, an inaugural ball and an address by former President Herbert Hoover are on the convention agenda.

Population figures released by Dallas R. Mims, supervisor of the U. S. census for the fifth Louisiana district, late Friday showed that the Twin Cities failed to make the 50,000 mark. Some had optimistically anticipated that the figures for the two towns would be 55,000 to 60,000. But they missed their guess. Monroe with 38,375 had a gain of 10,066 reported for the past 10 years.

With only 1,728 increase in its 10,286 population, West Monroe failed to show up as well as expected. However that city has not annexed outlying suburbs where probably 1,000 or 2,000 people uncounted in the city's census figures reside. Had they taken these into the city limits, Monroe and West Monroe would have exceeded 50,000 population.

Harold W. Kamman, of Seymour, Indiana, who served Trinity Lutheran Church here as pastor during 1948 and 1949, was graduated recently from Concorida Theological Seminary, Saint Louis, Missouri. He served the local church during the vacancy following the term of the Rev. Normand J. Widiger and until the arrival of the present pastor, the Rev. Harold L. Reinhardt.

Mr. Kamman, a graduate of Concordia College, Fort Wayne, seminary at Saint Louis in 1945, has received a call to become pastor of Faith Lutheran Church at Abilene, Kansas. He expects to begin his work there in August.

At the same academic exercises at which Mr. Kamman received his theological diploma, the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred on the Rev. Martin W. Holls, of New Orleans, who is president of the Southern District of the Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod.

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Slater are deeply interested in the progress of James Schneider, Monroe young man who is soon to get his Master's degree from the University of Pennsylvania. Mrs. Slator is his godmother and this connection has served to strengthen ties through the years.

Hessel Cahn, well known Monroe young man, spent the weekend in Monroe. He is now manager of Hotel Ford at Picayune, and as this is but 55 miles from New Orleans, he and his wife delight in their new location. For years Hessel was extremely active in Boy Scouting and in all that concerns the Monroe fire department in which he served as honorary member for many years.

When the high school in Texas City, Tex., had its commencement recently, Foster Jones, Monroe young man, was speaker. He is son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Jones, of Monroe, and today is a prominent resident of the city in which he resides.

Mr. Jones was graduated from the old Monroe city high school in 1924 and from Baylor University in 1928. With the exception of time spent in the army, he has resided in Texas City ever since he graduated. He is president of the Costal Association, building contractors which have erected large numbers of dwellings in Texas City, Houston, Galveston and La Marque. He is vice-president of the Texas City Kiwanis Club, member of the Galveston Community Council, associate member of the Texas City Jaycees and member of the First Baptist church. He also is president of the Chamber of Commerce in Texas City.

In this last named capacity he has doubled the membership of the organization in the last 12 months. He also was a leader in the organization of the Council of Mainland Chambers of Commerce.

He is married and has a young daughter. During the war he served in the U. S. Navy.

Asked if Peurifoy indicated to him in any way that his record was clear with respect to government employment, Larsen replied:

The transcript showed that on the day before Larsen testified for the official record, he was questioned by the senate investigators in an "off the record" session. Some of this testimony also dealt with the Peurifoy-Larsen meeting but since it was off-the-record, no transcript was available.

GERMAN VOTING

clue to the tides of public opinion in Western Germany since the Bonn Republic was established.

When the West German parliament was elected a year ago, the Nationalists had insufficient strength even to campaign.

Now they are more noisy. They have won headlines by extremist acts and statements, by inferring that things were better under Hitler.

Only two of a dozen parties called Neo-Nationalistic by allied observers were able to gather enough signatures to enter candidates in the Ruhr election, however.

One party is the Deutsche Reichspartei (German Empire Party), headed by a former school teacher named Dr. Franz Richterwith a Hitler-type mustache. It has campagined under the flag of the Kaiser's Reich.

In the state capital of Duesseldorf, observers expect Richter's party to gather only two or three per cent of the total vote. The party has entered candidates in 99 out of the state's 150 counties.

The second extreme right party is the Socialistische Reichspartei (Socialist Empire Party). It has candidates in only three counties. The party's top speaker is former Maj. Gen. Otto Remer, who broke up the anti-Hitler bomb plot of July, 1944. Remer, however, is not running for office in North Rhine-Westphalia.

Communism is much more firmly entrenched in the Ruhr. In 1947, Communist candidates garnered 14 per cent of the vote and 28 seats in the state assembly.

They gained more votes in North Rhine-Westphalia than anywhere else in West Germany. In the federal elections their average throughout West Germany was 5.7 per cent.

In the last week of campaigning, the Communists have pulled out all the stops in an effort to hold on at least to their present number of seats.

They are estimated to have flooded the state with 2,500,000 to 3,000,000 posters, many of them printed in the Russian zone.

They have brought in Communist chiefs from the east zone to rouse supporters.

But losses for the Communists are confidently predicted by other parties. Former Communist functionaries expelled from the party for "Titoism" also claim that losses are expected by the party's own leaders.

Political observers believe that the Christian Democrats, the dominant party in Western Germany, will lose some strength to two right wing parties—the free Democrats and the Deutsche Partei (German Party).

Both of these parties have been making big bids to win votes among the 800,000 refugees eligible to vote.

The refugees were expelled from territories now occupied by Poland and Czechoslovakia or forced to flee East Germany.

They are West Germany's discontents. Thousands are without homes or jobs. Spurning communism, they have a tendency to turn to the extreme right.

Multi-Million Dollar Fire Wipes Out One Of Largest Processing Houses

John Snively, owner of the sprawling Polk Packing Association plant, estimated the loss at between $2,000,000 and $2,500,000.

C. B. Wilkes, a taxi driver, discovered the blaze about 11 p. m. (E.S.T) last night in a second floor office in a building adjoining the main packing plant.

The fire spread quickly to other structures on the 10-acre installation at Eloise, a little community about three miles from downtown Winter Haven.

Flames leaped 400 to 500 feet in the air and persons 40 miles distant reported they could see the glow.

All available fire apparatus rushed to the scene. Aid was summoned from fire departments at Bartow, Lake Wales, Lake Alfred, Haines City, Lakeland, Eagle Lake and Auburndale.

Three firemen were injured—none seriously—as the blaze raged out of control until just before dawn. Curtains of water kept the flames from reaching several gasoline storage tanks and a switch engine pulled six gasoline tank cars from the area.

The huge processing and canning plant, with about four acres of building space under roof, produced both orange and grapefruit concentrates. About 400,000 cases of canned juice and some concentrate were lost in the fire.

W. W. Giddins, general manager of the big citrus farm, said the concentrate plant was saved.

Destroyed were warehouses, maintenance shops, a packing house, sectionizing plant, a canning plant and a "hot pack" concentrate plant. The buildings contained intricate machinery and much valuable packing equipment.

Cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

Winter Haven is in Mid-Florida, about 40 miles from Tampa and in the heart of the lush citrus producing district.

Chairman Roberts states that the cooperation received from the host cities on all points of the tour has been marvelous. They have met all Civil Aeronautics Authority requirements and have extended open arms of hospitality. Roberts regrets that the limitations of time on the Tour forced him to bypass many cordial invitations from other Louisiana cities. It is planned to visit these places on next year's tour.

A fabulous prize is being offered to the pilot or pilots sighting and bringing back alive a genuine "Flying Disc!" The only requirement is that the pilots, on sighting any discs, must notify their fellow pilots by calling over the radio, "Saucer-Ho!"

A large proportion of the flyers on this tour are former world war II combat veterans from all theatres of the war, ranging from B-29 pilots to the hot-shot P-51 and P-38 jockeys. General T. B. Herndon, United States Air Force, will pilot his personal plane on the tour. The largest plane any pilot will fly on this "mission" will be a twin-engine, four-passenger job.

A great deal of preparation has gone into this 1950 Air Tour and indications are that it will top all previous tours.

"We hope to find tremendous aviation interest throughout the state," says Roberts, "and we will give it all the boost we can. Louisiana's future on the air horizon's is unlimited!"

ARREST NEGROES IN 'JOB SALES'

Accuse Teacher, Principal's Wife Of Selling Teaching Positions

JACKSON, Miss., June 17.—(AP)—Police today reported the arrest of a Jackson Negro school principal's wife and a Negro school teacher on charges of selling teaching jobs.

Detectives E. L. Browne and S. B. Barnes identified the two as Elva Cobbins, wife of O. B. Cobbins, principal of the city's Negro schools, and Pecola Ceola Haley, a teacher in the Smith-Robinson School here.

The officers said Cobbins and Bettie Haley, mother of Pecola-Haley, are being held for investigation. No charges have been filed against them.

Browne and Barnes said they had obtained six signed statements from Elva Cobbins and four signed statements from Pecola Haley. A preliminary hearing is scheduled for Wednesday afternoon.

City attorney E. W. Stennett said the investigation was touched off by a complaint from a job applicant, Matilda Barney. She was given marked money for use in completing a transaction, he reported, and the arrests followed.

City school superintendent Kirby Walker called the arrests "something of a shock." He said he knew no details, since it is being handled by police.

Stennett termed it "just about the rottenest deal that's been uncovered here for a long time."

The city attorney quoted Cobbins as saying he knew nothing of the accusations other than his wife, 10 years ago, reported a job sale offer to him. He turned the applicant down, he told Stennet, and forbade his wife to accept such offers.

Later the Negro educator told newsmen he did not wish to make a statement until he conferred with his attorney, John G. Bunkett.

FLASH FLOODS HIT 2 STATES

One Person Killed, Over $1,000,000 Property Damage In Ohio And WashO

By The Associated Press

Flash floods that struck in Washington and Ohio left one person dead, three missing and presumed drowned and well over $1,000,000 in property damage Saturday.

A surge of polar air that brought freezing temperatures and scattered frosts to a few sections chilled the midwest and spread eastward.

A four hour cloudburst preceded the Ohio flood Friday night. The Moxahala and Jonathan creeks surged out of their banks and roared down a narrow southwestern Ohio valley.

Thousands fled their homes as the flood waters hit Crooksville, Roseville and about 20 tiny mining towns.

Some residents scrambled to their rooftops, and at least five houses were swept away. Water rose to a seven foot depth in Crooksville's main streets. One woman was carried to her death near Crooksville.

A cloudburst sent the flood roaring down a gulch into the Baden home. The gulch flows into Pataha creek, a tributary of the Snake river.

The cold Canadian air that spread over the midwest, brought an abrupt end to a warm humid spell. The temperature in Chicago plunged from 92 to 47 in a few hours and tied the record low reading for the date.

Engineers Accept Many Happy Birthday Wishes

By Jim Reynolds
Of The Morning World Staff

The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers celebrated its anniversary this year with a review of the work it has accomplished in the century and three-quarters of its existence, with special emphasis on its primary peacetime function, the control of the Mississippi.

By way of listing the accomplishments of the government in its battle against the most treacherous of rivers, the Vicksburg District, C. E., invited several members of the press from Mississippi and Louisiana on a tour of the district, including a trip on the Mississippi from Greenville to Vicksburg on the government snagboat "Charles H. West."

The Vicksburg district, as it now operates, dates from the year 1928, when the old Engineer District and the Third District office of the Mississippi River Commission were consolidated, and now work out of the Hill City, patrolling, improving and fighting the river from slightly north of Rosedale, Miss., to Palmetto Bend, at the southern border of Mississippi.

Primary duties of the district workers of course, are the care of the channel and the strengthening and improvement of flood control.

Every week, in pursuance of its duties in connection with channel navigaton, the district issues a complete report on the current channelcondition and direction, an information sheet without which most pilots would have difficulty navigating.

Dredges operating under the authority of the district keep on the move constantly, deepening the channel when the river begins to change course and fill in its old route and maintaining the proper depth in the regular traffic lanes.

The main trouble and headache of the engineers, however, is the problem of controlling and standardizing the path of the Mississippi. Most other rivers keep to their channels without too much trouble, but Old Man River seems to take a perverse delight in writhing across its wide, flat bottom, tearing at one bank for a few years perhaps, and then twisting without warning to strike at the other shore, building sandbars where the channel had been previously, slicing through the middle of old bars and generally changing itself and its surroundings as much and as rapidly as possible.

When the familiar channel begins disappearing and depth measurements indicate a change in the river's recent behavior, the engineers start at once to trace the cause of the movement, remove it if possible, and return the mighty stream to its former path.

If the motion of the river is too great, however, their job consists of plotting and following the new movement, confining it to the least possible change and notifying the river pilots of the variations in the channel.

One of the more successful methods of standardizing the path of the river is the laying of heavy revetments on the sloping banks, thereby cutting the tendency of the river to wash away and undermine the shoreline. The Casting plant at Greenville, Miss., is occupied presently with the full-time production of these revetment mattresses, cast concrete forms closely connected into mats by rustproof cooper cables. The forms are strung together in the form of huge mats which are then laid on the river bank.

The mats are first secured to a point on the bank above water and are rolled out toward the center of the river, sometimes as far as 500 feet.

The work of the engineers has served to increase the speed of the river currents by cutting down the length of the river itself. The Mississippi itself is now about 115 miles shorter than in its "natural" state, due to cutoffs which have eliminated torturous and dangerous writhings of the river bed.

The effectiveness of this shortening and speeding up of the river was demonstrated at Vicksburg during this year's high water period. During a test period the same volume of water passed the city as had during a similar test in 1927, but the river level was 11 feet lower than it had been 23 years ago. The reason was the greatly increasee velocity of the shorter, improved river.

The placing of buoys as aids to navigation is also the duty of Vicksburg district engineers. During the low water season, when treacherous bars and currents lurk a few feet below the water, approximately 450 buoys are in the river. High water, which covers many menaces safely, requires only about 80 buoys.

With the problems of navigation regulation and flood control occupying its full time, the Corps had little opportunity to celebrate its birthday in very fancy fashion. All its time is spent nowadays keeping Old Man River on the straight and narrow path to the gulf.

Mississippi To Observe 'Safety Week'

JACKSON, Miss., June 17.—(AP)—Mississippi, its highway death toll running 61 per cent higher than last year, will observe "Mississippi safety week" from June 23 through 29.

The official observance was proclaimed today by Gov. Fielding L. Wright, who called for "a concerted endeavor to make every person in Mississippi safety conscious."

As the governor's office issued the proclamation, highway safety patrol headquarters revealed that traffic deaths for the first four months of 1950 totalled 153, an increase of 61 per cent over 1949 and 65 per cent over 1948. Figures on May fatalities are incomplete but so far are approximately 25 per cent ahead of May, 1949, headquarters said.

"Forty per cent of our highway deaths are in one car accidents," a patrol spokesman said. "Speed is doing it. These deaths are in wrecks where the car smashes a telephone pole, runs off the road at curves, hits a bridge abutment and the like. This type of fatality is up 23 per cent this year."

Flood Turns Salmon Loose On Pastures

AGGASSIZ, B. C., June 17—(AP)—In the flooding Fraser valley, you can chase salmon across pastures on foot.

The water has backed up at Glen Valley near here and neatly skirted a dike, spilling into the fields.

The salmon are swimming about in the fields of clover, now covered with six inches to two feet of water. Their wakes are clearly visible as they poke about the field and the fins of large ones stick out above the water.

Gypsum has been used as a plaster since ancient times.

CONTROLLING THE MISSISSIPPI

Engineers Accept Many Happy Birthday Wishes

By Jim Reynolds
Of The Morning World Staff

The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers celebrated its anniversary this year with a review of the work it has accomplished in the century and three-quarters of its existence, with special emphasis on its primary peacetime function, the control of the Mississippi.

By way of listing the accomplishments of the government in its battle against the most treacherous of rivers, the Vicksburg District, C. E., invited several members of the press from Mississippi and Louisiana on a tour of the district, including a trip on the Mississppi from Greenville to Vicksburg on the government snagboat "Charles H. West."

The Vicksburg district, as it now operates, dates from the year 1928, when the old Engineer District and the Third District office of the Mississippi River Commission were consolidated, and now work out of the Hill City, patrolling, improvng and fighting the river from sighty north of Rosedale, Miss., o Palmetto Bend, at the southern border of Mississippi.

JUDGES WHIP SPORTS TO REGAIN LOOP LEAD

PINE BLUFF NIPS MAZURMEN, 8-5, TO EVEN SERIES

Allen Cross Sparks Attack In Losing Cause With 2-Run Homer

PINE BLUFF, Ark., June 17. (Special)—The Pine Bluff judges, after giving the Monroe Sports a brief lease on the Cotton States League lead, moved a half a game out in front of the pack again here tonight by defeating the Sports, 8 to 5, and squaring their three-game series at a victory apiece. Rubber game of the series will be played here Sunday afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock.

Adam Stempkowski, going all the way for the Judges, scored his eighth victory of the season after a shaky start in which the Sports got all their runs in the first three innings.

BACK TOMORROW

The Monroe Sports, winding up their current road trip at Pine Bluff, today come back home tomorrow to open a three-game stand with the Greenville Bucks, who will be followed by the El Dorado Oilers for two games beginning Thursday.

After the El Dorado visit the Sports take to the road again for three games at Greenville and two at El Dorado.

Billy Muffett went the route for the Sports, allowing nine hits, but wildness enabled the Judges to get eight bases on balls and one batter hit by a pitched ball. Four of the walked batters scored and one run came in for the Judges on a wild pitch.

Big blow of the game was a two-run homer by Allen Cross, Monroe outfielder. Longest hit for Pine Bluff was a triple by Hal Bollinger.

The Judges opened the scoring when Harry Schwegman walked in the first inning, went to second on Jack Ramm's sacrifice, advanced on an infield out and scored on a wild pitch, but the Sports came charging back to go ahead in the second frame.

Leonard Morrison walked in the top of the second, and Cliff Coggin followed with a single. Allen Cross fanned, but Carl Tucker was hit by a pitched ball, filling the sacks. Ray Mendoza punched a grounder to second that got through Schwegman's legs, allowing Morrison and Coggin to score. Tucker and Mendoza then pulled a double steal on which Tucker scored to give the Sports a 3-1 edge.

Monroe stretched the lead in the third. Two were out when Coggin hammered a double into left field, and Cross followed with his fourth home run of the season to make it 5-1.

The Judges used three bases on balls and a pair of hits, one of them a double by Ramm, to tie up the ball game with four runs in the fourth. Frank Scarpace walked. Harry Chozen followed with a single, and Roland Stuckmeyer walked to fill the bases. Stempkowski drew a free pass, forcing Scarpace to score. Chozen scored as Schwegman grounded out, and a double by Ramm brought home Stuckmeyer and Stempkowski to deadlock the game.

The Judges jumped out in front again in the sixth as Hal Bollinger singled, went to third on a single by Chozen and scored as Stempkowski grounded out.

They pushed over two more runs in the seventh to lead the Sports by three runs. Two were out in the bottom of the seventh with Bob Kurtz on first with a single when Bollinger smashed a triple into center field, scoring Kurtz. A hit by Stuckmeyer scored Bollinger.

Relay Wrestling Features Show At Kallio's Tuesday

CURTIS BROTHERS RETURN FOR BALL, MOBLEY CONTEST

Two One-Fall Matches Serve As Preliminaries For Mat Program

A tag team wrestling brawl in which the Curtis brothers, Jack and George, will be matched against Q. Ball, the latest villain to this section from Tulsa, Okla., and Rex Mobley, the crafty bruiser from Texas City, Tex., will headline Tuesday night's show at Gus Kallio's Arena.

"The fans enjoy seeing the Curtis boys paired in tag matches," Promoter Kallio said last night. "So I'm bringing them back this week against Q. Ball and Mobley, the best opposition that could be found for them at this time."

The big main event will have a time limit of 90 minutes with two falls to win.

A pair of one-fall matches will serve to open the night's performance at 8:15 o'clock.

NICHOLS TO PLAY ATLANTA OUTFIT

Powerful Softball Teams Will Tangle Friday Night At Fairbanks

Bailey's Supreme Coffee softball team of Atlanta, Ga., one of the nation's foremost amateur aggregations, will pay its second visit in two years to this area next Friday night for a meeting with Nichols Motors, leaders of the City League of Monroe.

Curtis Nichols, sponsor of the local club, last night announced the game will be played on the fine Fairbanks diamond, beginning at 8 o'clock. The advanced ticket sale is already underway at Lockhart-Blair Sports Shop and Silverstein's. Tickets are selling for 50 cents straight. Children under 12 years old will be admitted free.

Sambo Elliott, Bailey's pitching ace, is expected to be matched against Carl Russ, the No. 1 softball hurler in this section for two seasons.

In the past for years Bailey's has won 232 games while losing only 63, playing in 150 cities in 17 different states. The Supremes hold wins over state champions of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, West Virginia, Ohio, Illinois, and metropolitan champions of Cleveland, O. and Milwaukee, Wis.

So far this year Bailey's have won 16 while losing a lone contest to Peerless Mills of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Injured Athletics Pitcher In Satisfactory Condition

CLEVELAND, June 17.—(AP)—Alex Kellner, Philadelphia pitcher who was hit in the head by a line drive last night, was in "very satisfactory" condition today in Lakeside Hospital.

Kellner was injured in the fifth inning of the Athletics game with the Cleveland Indians. Outfielder Dale Mitchell hit a low pitch and the ball struck the southpaw below

X-rays showed no fractures. Additional X-rays are being taken, but physicians said they expect to release the hurler shortly.

The Jackson - Bienville League reached the half way mark last Sunday, as Danville continued to lead the Western Division and Eros moved into a tie with Chatham for the top berth in the Eastern Division.

This week Eros moves over to Quitman to defend its record, while Chatham takes on Ansley at Chatham. Danville gets a chance to relax against Martin, but since the little Martin team has pulled two upsets this season the Danville team was not being over optomistic. Simsboro and Oil Feld Center will wage a battle for the runner-up spot in the Western Division at Oil Field Center, while West Monroe plays at Weston and Saline has a home game with Ashland.

JUDGES WHIP SPORTS TO REGAIN LOOP LEAD

PINE BLUFF NIPS MAZURMEN, 8-5, TO EVEN SERIES

Allen Cross Sparks Attack In Losing Cause With 2-Run Homer

PINE BLUFF, Ark., June 17. (Special)—The Pine Bluff judges, after giving the Monroe Sports a brief lease on the Cotton States League lead, moved a half a game out in front of the pack again here tonight by defeating the Sports, 8 to 5, and squaring their three-game series at a victory apiece. Rubber game of the series will be played here Sunday afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock.

Adam Stempkowski, going all the way for the Judges, scored his eighth victory of the season after a shaky start in which the Sports got all their runs in the first three innings.

Billy Muffett went the route for the Sports, allowing nine hits, but wildness enabled the Judges to get eight bases on balls and one batter hit by a pitched ball. Four of the walked batters scored and one run came in for the Judges on a wild pitch.

Big blow of the game was a two-run homer by Allen Cross, Monroe outfielder. Longest hit for Pine Bluff was a triple by Hal Bollinger.

The Judges opened the scoring when Harry Schwegman walked in the first inning, went to second on Jack Ramm's sacrifice, advanced on an infield out and scored on a wild pitch, but the Sports came charging back to go ahead in the second frame.

Leonard Morrison walked in the top of the second, and Cliff Coggin followed with a single. Allen Cross fanned, but Carl Tucker was hit by a pitched ball, filling the sacks. Ray Mendoza punched a grounder to second that got through Schwegman's legs, allowing Morrison and Coggin to score. Tucker and Mendoza then pulled a double steal on which Tucker scored to give the Sports a 3-1 edge.

Monroe stretched the lead in the third. Two were out when Coggin hammered a double into left field, and Cross followed with his fourth home run of the season to make it 5-1.

The Judges used three bases on balls and a pair of hits, one of them a double by Ramm, to tie up the ball game with four runs in the fourth. Frank Scarpace walked. Harry Chozen followed with a single, and Roland Stuckmeyer walked to fill the bases. Stempkowski drew a free pass, forcing Scarpace to score. Chozen scored as Schwegman grounded out, and a double by Ramm brought home Stuckmeyer and Stempkowski to deadlock the game.

The Judges jumped out in front again in the sixth as Hal Bollinger singled, went to third on a single by Chozen and scored as Stempkowski grounded out.

They pushed over two more runs in the seventh to lead the Sports by three runs. Two were out in the bottom of the seventh with Bob Kurtz on first with a single when Bollinger smashed a triple into center field, scoring Kurtz. A hit by Stuckmeyer scored Bollinger.

Relay Wrestling Features Show At Kallio's Tuesday

Two One-Fall Matches Serve As Preliminaries For Mat Program

A tag team wrestling brawl in which the Curtis brothers, Jack and George, will be matched against Q. Ball, the latest villain to this section from Tulsa, Okla., and Rex Mobley, the crafty bruiser from Texas City, Tex., will headline Tuesday night's show at Gus Kallio's Arena.

"The fans enjoy seeing the Curtis boys paired in tag matches," Promoter Kallio said last night. "So I'm bringing them back this week against Q. Ball and Mobley, the best opposition that could be found for them at this time."

The big main event will have a time limit of 90 minutes with two falls to win.

A pair of one-fall matches will serve to open the night's performance at 8:15 o'clock.

NICHOLS TO PLAY ATLANTA OUTFIT

Powerful Softball Teams Will Tangle Friday Night At Fairbanks

Bailey's Supreme Coffee softball team of Atlanta, Ga., one of the nation's foremost amateur aggregations, will pay its second visit in two years to this area next Friday night for a meeting with Nichols Motors, leaders of the City League of Monroe.

Curtis Nichols, sponsor of the local club, last night announced the game will be played on the fine Fairbanks diamond, beginning at 8 o'clock. The advanced ticket sale is already underway at Lockhart-Blair Sports Shop and Silverstein's. Tickets are selling for 50 cents straight. Children under 12 years old will be admitted free.

Sambo Elliott, Bailey's pitching ace, is expected to be matched against Carl Russ, the No. 1 softball hurler in this section for two seasons.

In the past for years Bailey's has won 232 games while losing only 63, playing in 150 cities in 17 different states. The Supremes hold wins over state champions of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, West Virginia, Ohio, Illinois, and metropolitan champions of Cleveland, O. and Milwaukee, Wis.

So far this year Bailey's have won 16 while losing a lone contest to Peerless Mills of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Injured Athletics Pitcher In Satisfactory Condition

CLEVELAND, June 17.—(AP)—Alex Kellner, Philadelphia pitcher who was hit in the head by a line drive last night, was in "very satisfactory" condition today in Lakeside Hospital.

Kellner was injured in the fifth inning of the Athletics game with the Cleveland Indians. Outfielder Dale Mitchell hit a low pitch and the ball struck the southpaw below

X-rays showed no fractures. Additional X-rays are being taken, but physicians said they expect to release the hurler shortly.

Simsboro at Oil Field Center

The Jackson - Bienville League reached the half way mark last Sunday, as Danville continued to lead the Western Division and Eros moved into a tie with Chatham for the top berth in the Eastern Division.

This week Eros moves over to Quitman to defend its record, while Chatham takes on Ansley at Chatham. Danville gets a chance to relax against Martin, but since the little Martin team has pulled two upsets this season the Danville team was not being over optomistic. Simsboro and Oil Feld Center will wage a battle for the runner-up spot in the Western Division at Oil Field Center, while West Monroe plays at Weston and Saline has a home game with Ashland.

DODGERS HANG 10-2 DEFEAT ON CARDINALS

ROBERTS HURLS PHILLIES TO 5-2 WIN OVER REDS

Braves Rout Buccaneers; Chicago Cubs Turn Back New York Giants

BROOKLYN, June 17. Big Don Newcombe pitched the Brooklyn Dodgers to within a game and a half of the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals today as he turned back the Red Birds, 10-2, on a five hitter.

The Dodgers supported Newcombe's classy pitching with a 14-hit attack against Howie Pollet, Fred Martin and Cloyd Boyer that included home runs by Jim Russell, Roy Campanella and Duke Snider.

Newcombe fanned eight and walked only one in hanging up his seventh victory of the season. Both the Cardinal runs came on home runs by Red Schoendienst and Eddie Kazak in the first and ninth innings respectively.

The Dodgers lowered the boom on Pollet in the first inning, scoring four times on singles by Russell and Snider and doubles by Jackie Robinson and Carl Furillo.

Russell homered in the second and Campanella parked his 14th and his fifth in as many games out of the lot in the third.

Martin was touched for two runs in the fifth when Pee Wee Reese singled with the bases loaded. Snider completed the Dodger scoring in the eighth off Boyer when he rifled his 12th home run into the centerfield stands with Russell aboard.

Newcombe held the Cards hitless after Marion singled in the second until the eighth inning when Rookie Johnny Bucha doubled with none out. Kazak homered with two down in the ninth.

The victory was Brooklyn's seventh in ten meetings over the Cards. The Cards have dropped all five games they have played in Brooklyn.

PHILS TRIP REDS

PHILADELPHIA, June 17.—(AP)—Robin Roberts scored his eighth victory in ten decisions as the Philadelphia Phils defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 5 to 2, today. Roberts outlasted Ewell Balckwell, who was pulled for a pinchhitter in the eighth.

Cincinnat scored its two runs in the first inning on a home run by Johnny Wyrostek with Peanuts Lowrey on. Lowrey got a single when Willie Jones lost a fly ball in the sun.

The Phils went ahead in the fourth with two more runs. Roberts walked, and Richie Ashburn, Gran Hamner and Waitkus singled in succession.

CHICAGO, June 17. —(AP)— Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., continued today to lead professional golf's money winners with $20,861 already snared as the P. G. A. meet — and more money —was set to start Wednesday.

As of June 12, the Professional Golfers' Association official figures showed Snead a healthy $7,000 ahead of his nearest rival, Jim Demaret, of Ojai, Calif., who won $13,791. Jim Ferrier, San Francisco, maintained third place with $12,046.

Cary Middlecoff, Ormond Beach, Fla., who gave up dentistry for the links, was fourth with $11,195, followed by Jack Burke, White Plains, N. Y., who has won $9,187.

Lloyd Mangrum, Chicago, jumped from 19th place among the money winners to eight spot by picking up $5,100 in two weeks, not including his cut of the gate in the National Open playoff which he lost to Ben Hogan. Mangrum has won $7,568 to June 12.

Hogan's $4,000 prize in the open moved him into seventh place ahead of Mangrum with, $7,836 in prize money.

E. J. "Dutch" Harrison, St. Andrews, Ill., is in sixth place with $8,044.

Importation From Stables Of Ali Kahn Sets New Racing Record

By Russ Newland

ALBANY, Calif., June 17. —(AP)— Irish-bred Noor made it three in a row over mighty Citation today with a world record shatering mile and one eighth at Golden Gate Fields. The time was 1 minute 46 4-5 seconds, clipping 4-5 off the old mark.

The five - year - old son of Nasrullah, sold by the Ali Khan to the late Charles S. Howard, proved his superiority with a tremendous stretch run after trailing the five horse field until the far turn.

Citation had moved into second place early in the running. At the far turn, he moved up on the pacesetting On Trust. The pride of the Calumet farm, all time money-winning champion, charged into the lead as they rounded the turn for home.

Meanwhile Noor, under urging by Veteran Jockey Johnny Longden, was flying as they came into the stretch.

Roman In was several lengths back. On Trust ran fourth and Stepfather fifth and last.

Noor paid $5.60 and $2.30, Citation, the three to five favorite, returned $2.20 for the place position. There was no show betting

The setting for the third clash between the two great handicap stars was the $10,000-added Forty Niners Handicap. The victory was worth $6,940 to Noor, bringing his total earnings in 11 starts in this country to $172,740.

Citation picked up $2,000 to boost his all-time record winnings $926,-630.

When big citation, the public favorite, came on to the track, the throng gave him a rousing round of applause. Most of them were rooting for the Calumet comet as Steve Brooks brought him into contention in the early part. And they were pulling for Big Cy as the field charged the stretch for home but Noor was not to be denied.

He had been trailing in last place by about eight lengths but was running easily in hand. When Longden gave the signal, the foreign star was ready.

He came up on the outside with a thrilling burst of speed and suddenly was challenging the then pace-setting Citation. In the final st.. feet, Noor had more than Citation.

Only two weeks ago, Citation set a new world's mile record of one minute 33 3-5 seconds.

Citation packed 128 pounds to 123 for his keenest rival. It was the most equitable weight differential of their three meetings. When Noor defeated Citation by a length and a quarter in the $100,000 added Santa Anita handicap over a mile and a quarter, he had a 22 pound weight pull, 132 to 110. A week later, in the $50,000 added San Juan Capistrano over a mile and three quarters, Citation gave Noor a 13 pound advantage, 130 to 117. The Irish-bred won by a nose.

Both horses are nominated for the $50,000 added mile and a quarter Golden Gate handicap which will wind up the meeting next Saturday.

Dooly Beats Favored Ferd To Capture Shelvin Stakes

NEW YORK, June 17.—(AP)—Dooly, who has been with the better three-year-olds all spring without much success, scampered to victory today over the favored Ferd in the $22,600 Shevlin Stakes.

A crowd of 29,745 persons at Aqueduct thought so little of Sonny Whitney's colt they let him get away at 12 to 1, while backing Ferd down to 9 to 20 favoritism.

Ferd had taken the lead from Belair stud's Hyphasis on the turn and with Eddie Arcaro up, seemed a sure winner until Ted Atkinson brought Dooly up in a stretch drive to win by 1 1-2 lengths.

Dooly, who was making this the first stakes victory of his career, was clocked in 1:46 1-5 for the mile and one-sixteenth and paid $27.50, $4.90 and $3.30.

SWEDEN, POLAND GAIN IN DOUBLES

Italy, Denmark Also Running Strong In Davis Cup Competition

LONDON, June 17. —(AP)— Sweden won the doubles from the Philippines today and advanced to the semi-final round of the European zone Davis Cup tennis competition against Poland.

In the other two quarter-final matches, Italy won the doubles from Belgium at Brussels and Denmark captured the doubles test from France at Copenhagen.

Both Italy and Denmark now hold 2-1 leads in the best of-five matches. They will be decided tomorrow when the final two singles are scheduled.

Gianni Cucelli and Rolando Del Bello put Italy in the lead with a 4-6, 6-2, 6-2, 8-6 triumph over Philippe Washer and Jackie Brichant. Kurt Nielson and Torben Ulrich chalked up the Denmark victory, beating Paul Remey and Jacques Thomas, 7-5, 6-4, 12-10.

In Stockholm, the Swedish pair of Lennart Bergelin and Sven Davidsson had little trouble crushing Felicisimo Ampon and Cesar Carmona of the Philippines, 6-2, 6-3, 6-3.

The hard - stroking Swedes led throughout the match, and although Ampon showed flashes of court strategy, neither he nor his partner had the equipment to cope with Bergelin and Davidsson.

The triumph gave the Swedes a 3-0 lead with the final two singles slated for tomorrow.

Swedish officials indicated the semi - final match with Poland, which advanced last week by beating Ireland, probably will be held at Bastad on the Swedish west coast in the middle of July.

Long Shot Ballydam Wins Narragansett Park Race

PAWTUCKET, R. I. June 17.—(AP)—Mrs. Hattie Toffel's Ballydam, an Irish - bred three - year - old brought to this country last winter, won the $5,000, six furlong Spring Handicap at Narragansett Park today before 19,601.

Ballydam, a 15-1 shot, covered the distance in 1:12 1-5 on the heavy track. He finished four lengths in front of Mrs. B. F. Lister's Evening Rose. Phil Schwartz' Charleston was third.

MANGRUM RUNS AWAY IN MEET

Has Practical Cinch To Take Palm Beach Round Robin Tourney

By Gayle Talbot

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y. June 17.—(AP)—That fly which landed on Lloyd Mangrum's ball and cost him two strokes in the National Open playoff at Merion six days ago must have made the man from Chicago mad.

In the past three days he has shot a brand of golf which breathes of vengeance, and tonight the mustachioed star was so far ahead of his fellow professionals in the $15,000 Palm Beach Round Robin tournament that they were shaking their collective heads and wondering what hit them.

With only a single round to go in the rich 90-hole event, Mangrum was the far away leader with a "plus" score of 35 showing the way to his closest pursuer, Herman Barron of nearby White Plain by a big 13 points.

Only a near-collapse could deprive Mangrum of the $3,000 first prize tomorrow night. It seemed extremely unlikely he would weaken after the four rounds he had shot over Wykagul's 6,659 rolling yards.

His medal scores were 70-70-65-68, or 15 strokes under par for the 72 holes. His fourth straight sub-par round today won him 18 points over the three companions in his foursome—Ben Hogan, Paul Runyan and Norman Van Nida.

Barron, the winner two years ago, picked up 14 points with a steady 70 today to climb from fifth into the runner-up spot. Claude Harmon of Mamaroneck, N. Y., who started today in second place, fell into a third place tie with the surprising Art Bell of San Francisco, each at plus 21.

Bell, the 41-year-old coast newcomer, had the galleries talking about him. When the field originally was drawn, the question was "who is Bell?" Tonight they were asking "where has this guy Bell been?"

As of tonight, the slender pleasant veteran had put together rounds of 71-73-68-68. He was eight shots under par for the four rounds, excelled only by Mangrum and equalled only by Harmon. He had more than justified the faith of those who invited him to match his game against the nation's golfing elite.

Lawson Little, the former open and amateur champion who led at the end of the first and second days, stubbed his toe badly in today's searching wind and dropped seven big points with a 74. That placed the veteran in sixth place with a score of plus 14.

Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, the recently deposed open champion, was in lone possession of fifth place with a plus 16 after shooting a 72 today and gaining six points.

Jimmy Demaret, whose good 70 today gave him a plus four after a hard uphill climb, was the last of the players to have won more holes than he had lost. Below him, and hopelessly out of the important money, were nine others who had found the rough too thick, including Sammy Snead at minus one and Ben Hogan at minus 22.

DODGERS HANG 10-2 DEFEAT ON CARDINALS

ROBERTS HURLS PHILLIES TO 5-2 WIN OVER REDS

Braves Rout Buccaneers; Chicago Cubs Turn Back New York Giants

BROOKLYN, June 17. Big Don Newcombe pitched the Brooklyn Dodgers to within a game and a half of the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals today as he turned back the Red Birds, 10-2, on a five hitter.

The Dodgers supported Newcombe's classy pitching with a 14-hit attack against Howie Pollet, Fred Martin and Cloyd Boyer that included home runs by Jim Russell, Roy Campanella and Duke Snider.

Newcombe fanned eight and walked only one in hanging up his seventh victory of the season. Both the Cardinal runs came on home runs by Red Schoendienst and Eddie Kazak in the first and ninth innings respectively.

The Dodgers lowered the boom on Pollet in the first inning, scoring four times on singles by Russell and Snider and doubles by Jackie Robinson and Carl Furillo.

Russell homered in the second and Campanella parked his 14th and his fifth in as many games out of the lot in the third.

Martin was touched for two runs in the fifth when Pee Wee Reese singled with the bases loaded. Snider completed the Dodger scoring in the eighth off Boyer when he rifled his 12th home run into the centerfield stands with Russell aboard.

Newcombe held the Cards hitless after Marion singled in the second until the eighth inning when Rookie Johnny Bucha doubled with none out. Kazak homered with two down in the ninth.

The victory was Brooklyn's seventh in ten meetings over the Cards. The Cards have dropped all five games they have played in Brooklyn.

PHILS TRIP REDS

PHILADELPHIA, June 17.—(AP)—Robin Roberts scored his eighth victory in ten decisions as the Philadelphia Phils defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 5 to 2, today. Roberts outlasted Ewell Balckwell, who was pulled for a pinchhitter in the eighth.

Cincinnat scored its two runs in the first inning on a home run by Johnny Wyrostek with Peanuts Lowrey on. Lowrey got a single when Willie Jones lost a fly ball in the sun.

The Phils went ahead in the fourth with two more runs. Roberts walked, and Richie Ashburn, Gran Hamner and Waitkus singled in succession.

CHICAGO, June 17. —(AP)— Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., continued today to lead professional golf's money winners with $20,861 already snared as the P. G. A. meet — and more money —was set to start Wednesday.

As of June 12, the Professional Golfers' Association official figures showed Snead a healthy $7,000 ahead of his nearest rival, Jim Demaret, of Ojai, Calif., who won $13,791. Jim Ferrier, San Francisco, maintained third place with $12,046.

Cary Middlecoff, Ormond Beach, Fla., who gave up dentistry for the links, was fourth with $11,195, followed by Jack Burke, White Plains, N. Y., who has won $9,187.

Lloyd Mangrum, Chicago, jumped from 19th place among the money winners to eight spot by picking up $5,100 in two weeks, not including his cut of the gate in the National Open playoff which he lost to Ben Hogan. Mangrum has won $7,568 to June 12.

Hogan's $4,000 prize in the open moved him into seventh place ahead of Mangrum with $7,836 in prize money.

E. J. "Dutch" Harrison, St. Andrews, Ill., is in sixth place with $8,044.

Importation From Stables Of All Kahn Sets New Racing Record

By Russ Newland

ALBANY, Calif., June 17. —(AP)— Irish-bred Noor made it three in a row over mighty Citation today with a world record shatering mile and one eighth at Golden Gate Fields. The time was 1 minute 46 4-5 seconds, clipping 4-5 off the old mark.

The five - year - old son of Nasrullah, sold by the Ali Khan to the late Charles S. Howard, proved his superiority with a tremendous stretch run after trailing the five horse field until the far turn.

Citation had moved into second place early in the running. At the far turn, he moved up on the pace-setting On Trust. The pride of the Calumet farm, all time money-winning champion, charged into the lead as they rounded the turn for home.

Meanwhile Noor, under urging by Veteran Jockey Johnny Longden, was flying as they came into the stretch.

Roman In was several lengths back. On Trust ran fourth and Stepfather fifth and last.

Noor paid $5.60 and $2.30, Citation, the three to five favorite, returned $2.20 for the place position. There was no show betting

The setting for the third clash between the two great handicap stars was the $10,000-added Forty Niners Handicap. The victory was worth $6,940 to Noor, bringing his total earnings in 11 starts in this country to $172,740.

Citation picked up $2,000 to boost his all-time record winnings $926,-630.

When big citation, the public favorite, came on to the track, the throng gave him a rousing round of applause. Most of them were rooting for the Calumet comet as Steve Brooks brought him into contention in the early part. And they were pulling for Big Cy as the field charged the stretch for home but Noor was not to be denied.

He had been trailing in last place by about eight lengths but was running easily in hand. When Longden gave the signal, the foreign star was ready.

He came up on the outside with a thrilling burst of speed and suddenly was challenging the then pace-setting Citation. In the final si.. feet, Noor had more than Citation.

Only two weeks ago, Citation set a new world's mile record of one minute 33 3-5 seconds.

Citation packed 128 pounds to 123 for his keenest rival. It was the most equitable weight differential of their three meetings. When Noor defeated Citation by a length and a quarter in the $100,000 added Santa Anita handicap over a mile and a quarter, he had a 22 pound weight pull, 132 to 110. A week later, in the $50,000 added San Juan Capistrano over a mile and three quarters, Citation gave Noor a 13 pound advantage, 130 to 117. The Irish-bred won by a nose.

Both horses are nominated for the $50,000 added mile and a quarter Golden Gate handicap which will wind up the meeting next Saturday.

Dooly Beats Favored Ferd To Capture Shelvin Stakes

NEW YORK, June 17.—(AP)—Dooly, who has been with the better three-year-olds all spring without much success, scampered to victory today over the favored Ferd in the $22,600 Shevlin Stakes.

A crowd of 29,746 persons at Aqueduct thought so little of Sonny Whitney's colt they let him get away at 12 to 1, while backing Ferd down to 9 to 20 favoritism.

Ferd had taken the lead from Belair stud's Hyphasis on the turn and with Eddie Arcaro up, seemed a sure winner until Ted Atkinson brought Dooly up in a stretch drive to win by 1 1-2 lengths.

Dooly, who was making this the first stakes victory of his career, was clocked in 1:46 1-5 for the mile and one-sixteenth and paid $27.50, $4.90 and $3.30.

SWEDEN, POLAND GAIN IN DOUBLES

Italy, Denmark Also Running Strong In Davis Cup Competition

LONDON, June 17. —(AP)— Sweden won the doubles from the Philippines today and advanced to the semi-final round of the European zone Davis Cup tennis competition against Poland.

In the other two quarter-final matches, Italy won the doubles from Belgium at Brussels and Denmark captured the doubles test from France at Copenhagen.

Both Italy and Denmark now hold 2-1 leads in the best of-five matches. They will be decided tomorrow when the final two singles are scheduled.

Gianni Cucelli and Rolando Del Bello put Italy in the lead with a 4-6, 6-2, 6-2, 8-6 triumph over Philippe Washer and Jackie Brichant. Kurt Nielson and Torben Ulrich chalked up the Denmark victory, beating Paul Remey and Jacques Thomas, 7-5, 6-4, 12-10.

In Stockholm, the Swedish pair of Lennart Bergelin and Sven Davidsson had little trouble crushing Felicisimo Ampon and Cesar Carmona of the Philippines, 6-2, 6-3, 6-3.

The hard - stroking Swedes led throughout the match, and although Ampon showed flashes of court strategy, neither he nor his partner had the equipment to cope with Bergelin and Davidsson.

The triumph gave the Swedes a 3-0 lead with the final two singles slated for tomorrow.

Swedish officials indicated the semi - final match with Poland, which advanced last week by beating Ireland, probably will be held at Bastad on the Swedish west coast in the middle of July.

Long Shot Ballydam Wins Narragansett Park Race

PAWTUCKET, R. I. June 17.—(AP)—Mrs. Hattie Toffel's Ballydam, an Irish - bred three - year - old brought to this country last winter, won the $5,000, six furlong Spring Handicap at Narragansett Park today before 19,601.

MANGRUM RUNS AWAY IN MEET

Has Practical Cinch To Take Palm Beach Round Robin Tourney

By Gayle Talbot

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y. June 17.—(AP)—That fly which landed on Lloyd Mangrum's ball and cost him two strokes in the National Open playoff at Merion six days ago must have made the man from Chicago mad.

In the past three days he has shot a brand of golf which breathes of vengeance, and tonight the mustachioed star was so far ahead of his fellow professionals in the $15,-000 Palm Beach Round Robin tournament that they were shaking their collective heads and wondering what hit them.

With only a single round to go in the rich 90-hole event, Mangrum was the far away leader with a "plus" score of 35 showing the way to his closest pursuer, Herman Barron of nearby White Plain by a big 13 points.

Only a near-collapse could deprive Mangrum of the $3,000 first prize tomorrow night. It seemed extremely unlikely he would weaken after the four rounds he had shot over Wykagul's 6,659 rolling yards.

His medal scores were 70-70-65-68, or 15 strokes under par for the 72 holes. His fourth straight sub-par round today won him 18 points over the three companions in his foursome—Ben Hogan, Paul Runyan and Norman Van Nida.

Barron, the winner two years ago, picked up 14 points with a steady 70 today to climb from fifth into the runner-up spot. Claude Harmon of Mamaroneck, N. Y., who started today in second place, fell into a third place tie with the surprising Art Bell of San Francisco, each at plus 21.

Bell, the 41-year-old coast newcomer, had the galleries talking about him. When the field originally was drawn, the question was "who is Bell?" Tonight they were asking "where has this guy Bell been?"

As of tonight, the slender pleasant veteran had put together rounds of 71-73-68-68. He was eight shots under par for the four rounds, excelled only by Mangrum and equalled only by Harmon. He had more than justified the faith of those who invited him to match his game against the nation's golfing elite.

Lawson Little, the former open and amateur champion who led at the end of the first and second days, stubbed his toe badly in today's searching wind and dropped seven big points with a 74. That placed the veteran in sixth place with a score of plus 14.

Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, the recently deposed open champion, was in lone possession of fifth place with a plus 16 after shooting a 72 today and gaining six points.

Jimmy Demaret, whose good 70 today gave him a plus four after a hard uphill climb, was the last of the players to have won more holes than he had lost. Below him, and hopelessly out of the important money, were nine others who had found the rough too thick, including Sammy Snead at minus one and Ben Hogan at minus 22.

TIGERS EDGE RED SOX; BROWNS STOP YANKS

DETROIT BOOSTS LOOP LEAD WITH 2 TO 1 TRIUMPH

Bronx Bombers Fall, 7-3; Cleveland Outlasts Athletics, 8-7

DETROIT, June 17.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers increased their American League lead to two and one half games today as they nosed out the Boston Red Sox 2-1 behind Teddy Gray's eight-hit pitching.

The Tiger victory came as the second place New York Yankees were bowing 7-3 to the St. Louis Browns.

Gray, posting his fourth straight decision over the Boston club this season, had to quell a ninth-inning uprising to get his seventh victory as against two losses.

The Red Sox, who suffered their fifth straight setback at the hands of the Tigers, got a lively rally underway in the final inning when Bobby Doerr singled and moved to third on Al Zarilla's double with one out. Pinchhitter Birdie Tebbetts walked to load the bases.

Gray then struck out Pinch Hitter Clyde Vollmer and forced Don DiMaggio to line out to George Kell to end the game.

Kell, American League batting champion, was the offensive star even though he hit into two double plays. Detroit's first run was scored on Kell's initial double play ball and he drove in the winning run with a fifth inning double.

It was Grey's second decision over the Red Sox in a week, as he beat them 6-2 at Boston Sunday in a nine-inning relief pitching performance. Mel Parnell, who was the losing pitcher in that 14-inning affair, also was the loser today.

Detroit pushed over a first-inning run to take a lead which the Red Sox equalized with a second-inning run. The Tigers pushed over what proved to be the winning run in the fifth as Johnny Lipon singled, moved to second when Jerry Priddy was walked an scored on Kell's line single to right.

The Bernice club, is was reported, has won its last ten straight games, but Sports Manager Hardy Goins says he thinks "we'll be able to take them."

Battery for the Monroe team will be Goins and Treadway.

BROWNS STOP YANKS

ST. LOUIS, June 17.—(AP)—Stubby Overmire, who won only one game in 1949, turned in his second victory of the season today as he pitched the St. Louis Browns to a 7-3 decision over the New York Yankees.

Overmire had a five hit shutout working going into the ninth when he wilted and surrendered three runs on four hits and two walks. Overmire left with the bases loaded and two out in favor of Duane Pillette, obtained from the Yanks Thursday night. Pillette got pinch-hitter Gene Woodling to ground out to end the game.

Rookie Outfielder Don Lenhardt starred at the plate for the Browns who now have won 11 out of their last 17 games. Lenhardt drove in four runs on his ninth homer, a double and a fly ball.

Fred Sanford started for the Yanks and yielded all the Brownie runs during his seven innings on the hill. The loss was Sanford's first compared to four victories.

Gertrude Moran Claims First British Net Title

LONDON, June 17. —(AP)— Gertrude Moran of Santa Monica, Calif., won the women's singles in the Kent County Lawn Tennis championships today — her first title in a British tournament. She defeated Nancy Morrison of Palm Beach, Fla., 4-6, 6-1, 6-2.

In a three-set marathon of 62 games which lasted over three hours, Geoff Brown won the all-Australian men's final from Billy Sidell, 8-6, 7-9, 17-15.

Sidwell was the better stroke player and master at the net but Brown's cannonball service and fierce, two - handed drives carried him through.

Gardnar Mulloy of Miami and Eric Sturgess of South Africa won the men's doubles, defeating the Australian pair, Brown and Sidwell, 10-8, 3-6, 6-2.

Mrs. Helen Rihbany of Boston, and Betty Rosenquest of South Orange, N. J., teamed to win the women's doubles, 6-2, 8-6, from an English pair, Ethel Andrews and Patty Rodgers.

Ramm Takes Tighter Grip On Cotton States League Batting Leadership

By J. P. Friend

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., June 17.—(Special)—Jack Ramm, Pine Bluff's slugging outfielder, continues to set the hitting pace for the Cotton States League.

Blasting a dozen hits in 26 times at bat during the week, the Judge star picked up 11 points to take a firmer grip on first place with a mark of .379, according to the Friend News Service records released Saturday that include night games of June 13.

Harry Schwegman, second baseman for the league leaders, moved up to a notch into second place by the margin of a single point ahead of Ben (Rosey) Cantrell, .357 to .356. Schwegman gained eight points while the reliable Cantrell lopped off 14 decimals from his .370 figure of last week.

Others within the select .300 circle include: Alex Cosmidis, Hot Springs, .333; Dick Adkins, Natchez manager, .329; Jim Gilbert, Natchez, .328; Len Morrison, Monroe, .325; Chet Morgan, Clarksdale pilot, .324; Dan Phalen, Hot Springs, .322; Roy Coss, El Dorado, .308; Frank Quientis, El Dorado, .306; Bob Kurtz, Pine Bluff, .305; Jerry Lynch, Greenville, .305; Roy Schalk, El Dorado skipper, .305.

Bobby Johnson, Monroe ace, failed to add to his unbeaten string during the past week and held on the pitching choice seat with seven wins and no defeats. Two hurlers who joined the league late have racked up three straight victories and have yet to taste the bitter dregs. They are Freddy Bates, Greenville, and Ralph Daugherty, El Dorado, Ted Gardner, Pine Bluff, has won four and dropped one. Teammate Bob Picken has 6-2; Norm (Bud) Warfel, Hot Springs, 3-1. Five pitchers have joined Johnson in the seven-wins club. Included are: Bob Loddeke, Greenville, (7-3); Charles Rugg, Greenwood (7-3); George Locher, Clarksdale (7-4); Everett Hill, Pine Bluff (7-5); Adam Stempkowski, Pine Bluff (7-5). Cliff Coggin, Monroe, has the most wins with 8-3. He also has fanned the most, 92 in 95 2-3 innings. Nearest to him in whiffings is Earl Stephens, Clarksdale, with 74.

Bill Muffett, Monroe, came in for his share of the week's spotlight, with successive shutouts. Two others, Dan Caccavo and Stephens, have duplicated the stunt already this season.

TIGERS EDGE RED SOX; BROWNS STOP YANKS

DETROIT BOOSTS LOOP LEAD WITH 2 TO 1 TRIUMPH

Bronx Bombers Fall, 7-3; Cleveland Outlasts Athletics, 8-7

DETROIT, June 17.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers increased their American League lead to two and one half games today as they nosed out the Boston Red Sox 2-1 behind Teddy Gray's eight-hit pitching.

The Tiger victory came as the second place New York Yankees were bowing 7-3 to the St. Louis Browns.

Gray, posting his fourth straight decision over the Boston club this season, had to quell a ninth-inning uprising to get his seventh victory as against two losses.

The Red Sox, who suffered their fifth straight setback at the hands of the Tigers, got a lively rally underway in the final inning when Bobby Doerr singled and moved to third on Al Zarilla's double with one out. Pinchhitter Birdie Tebbetts walked to load the bases.

Gray then struck out Pinch Hitter Clyde Vollmer and forced Don DiMaggio to line out to George Kell to end the game.

Kell, American League batting champion, was the offensive star even though he hit into two double plays. Detroit's first run was scored on Kell's initial double play ball and he drove in the winning run with a fifth inning double.

It was Grey's second decision over the Red Sox in a week, as he beat them 6-2 at Boston Sunday in a nine-inning relief pitching performance. Mel Parnell, who was the losing pitcher in that 14-inning affair, also was the loser today.

Detroit pushed over a first-inning run to take a lead which the Red Sox equalized with a second-inning run. The Tigers pushed over what proved to be the winning run in the fifth as Johnny Lipon singled, moved to second when Jerry Priddy was walked an scored on Kell's line single to right.

Cinderella Sports Open Against Bernice Tigers

The reorganized Cinderella Sports, Negro baseball club of Monroe, open their summer campaign here this afternoon at 3 o'clock against the Bernice Tigers at Casino Park.

The Bernice club, is was reported, has won its last ten straight games, but Sports Manager Hardy Goins says he thinks "we'll be able to take them."

Battery for the Monroe team will be Goins and Treadway.

BROWNS STOP YANKS

ST. LOUIS, June 17.—(AP)—Stubby Overmire, who won only one game in 1949, turned in his second victory of the season today as he pitched the St. Louis Browns to a 7-3 decision over the New York Yankees.

Overmire had a five hit shutout working going into the ninth when he wilted and surrendered three runs on four hits and two walks. Overmire left with the bases loaded and two out in favor of Duane Pillette, obtained from the Yanks Thursday night. Pillette got pinch-hitter Gene Woodling to ground out to end the game.

Rookie Outfielder Don Lenhardt starred at the plate for the Browns who now have won 11 out of their last 17 games. Lenhardt drove in four runs on his ninth homer, a double and a fly ball.

Fred Sanford started for the Yanks and yielded all the Brownie runs during his seven innings on the hill. The loss was Sanford's first compared to four victories.

Gertrude Moran Claims First British Net Title

LONDON, June 17. —(AP— Gertrude Moran of Santa Monica, Calif., won the women's singles in the Kent County Lawn Tennis championships today — her first title in a British tournament. She defeated Nancy Morrison of Palm Beach, Fla., 4-6, 6-1, 6-2.

In a three-set marathon of 62 games which lasted over three hours, Geoff Brown won the all-Australian men's final from Billy Sidell, 8-6, 7-9, 17-15.

Sidwell was the better stroke player and master at the net but Brown's cannonball service and fierce, two-handed drives carried him through.

Gardnar Mulloy of Miami and Eric Sturgess of South Africa won the men's doubles, defeating the Australian pair, Brown and Sidwell, 10-8, 3-6, 6-2.

Mrs. Helen Rihbany of Boston, and Betty Rosenquest of South Orange, N. J., teamed to win the women's doubles, 6-2, 8-6, from an English pair, Ethel Andrews and Patty Rodgers.

Ramm Takes Tighter Grip On Cotton States League Batting Leadership

By J. P. Friend

Blasting a dozen hits in 26 times at bat during the week, the Judge star picked up 11 points to take a firmer grip on first place with a mark of .379, according to the Friend News Service records released Saturday that include night games of June 13.

Harry Schwegman, second baseman for the league leaders, moved up to a notch into second place by the margin of a single point ahead of Ben (Rosey) Cantrell, .357 to .356. Schwegman gained eight points while the reliable Cantrell lopped off 14 decimals from his .370 figure of last week.

Others within the select .300 circle include: Alex Cosmidis, Hot Springs, .333; Dick Adkins, Natchez manager, .329; Jim Gilbert, Natchez, .328; Len Morrison, Monroe, .325; Chet Morgan, Clarksdale pilot, .324; Dan Phalen, Hot Springs, .322; Roy Coss, El Dorado, .308; Frank Quientis, El Dorado, .306; Bob Kurtz, Pine Bluff, .305; Jerry Lynch, Greenville, .305; Roy Schalk, El Dorado skipper, .305.

Bobby Johnson, Monroe ace, failed to add to his unbeaten string during the past week and held on the pitching choice seat with seven wins and no defeats. Two hurlers who joined the league late have racked up three straight victories and have yet to taste the bitter dregs. They are Freddy Bates, Greenville, and Ralph Daugherty, El Dorado, Ted Gardner, Pine Bluff, has won four and dropped one. Teammate Bob Picken has 6-2; Norm (Bud) Warfel, Hot Springs, 3-1. Five pitchers have joined Johnson in the seven-wins club. Included are: Bob Loddeke, Greenville, (7-3); Charles Rugg, Greenwood (7-3); George Locher, Clarksdale (7-4); Everett Hill, Pine Bluff (7-5); Adam Stempkowski, Pine Bluff (7-5). Cliff Coggin, Monroe, has the most wins with 8-3. He also has fanned the most, 92 in 95 2-3 innings. Nearest to him in whiffings is Earl Stephens, Clarksdale, with 74.

Bill Muffett, Monroe, came in for his share of the week's spotlight, with successive shutouts. Two others, Dan Caccavo and Stephens, have duplicated the stunt already this season.

Churchill To Get Medal On July 4th

LONDON, June 17.—(AP)—Winston Churchill is to receive a gold medal July 4 for his writings about wars and world affairs.

The award was announced today by the Royal United Service Institution. The medal is the Chesney gold medal, given as a memorial to Gen. Sir George Chesney, a distinguished 19th century officer of the British army engineers.

It has been given 19 times since it was established in 1899. First winner was Capt. A. T. Mahan, of the United States navy, who got it for his classic book, "The Influence of Sea Power Upon History."

As Churchill's "outstanding contributions to military history" the institution cited nine of his books, ranging from the Sudanese and South African Wars, where Churchill was a newspaper correspondent, to the several volumes of "the Second World War," which he saw as Britain's prime minister.

Ex-Brazilian Leader To Seek Re-election

RIO DE JANERIO, June 17.—(AP) Former President Getulio Vargas announced today he will accept the presidential nomination as candidate for the Brazilian labor party at its national convention tomorrow.

Vargas, long a fiery leader in Brazilian politics, is 67 years old. He was president for 15 years until he was ousted in 1945 in a military coup. Elections are scheduled for Oct. 3.

The former president had already been named a candidate by the party's executive committee.

The major parties opposing Vargas are the social democrats of President Eurico Gaspar Dutra and the national democratic union. The latter party has named Eduardo Gomes as its candidate.

REPORT SPELLMAN CALLED MEETING

Probably Discussed U.S. Representation In Vatican With Puerifoy

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(AP)—Officials said today Cardinal Spellman asked for the meeting he held with Deputy Undersecretary of State John E. Peurifoy yesterday. They suggested that the main purpose may have been to discuss U. S. representation at the Vatican.

The Chicago Tribune said last night Peurifoy had told associates earlier he planned to call on the Cardinal in New York to ask his intervention with Senator McCarthy (R.-Wis.), who has repeatedly charged the state department with harboring Communists and their friends.

The paper said Peurifoy had denied after seeing Spellman that he had asked the Cardinal to intervene.

Reached by telephone in New York today, the state department official told a reporter he had discussed the McCarthy case with the churchman only "in the most casual manner, and added:

"That was certainly not the purpose of my visit."

Asked whether he had urged the Cardinal to "call off McCarthy," Peurifoy said, "I most certainly did not."

McCarthy said he had known in advance of the visit, but did not know its purpose. He would not name his informant, but told a reporter:

"I'd just like to say that nobody in the world has the power to call me off. The only way I can be called off is for the administration to get rid of the Communists in the government."

Peurifoy is an Episcopalian. Speculation that his meeting with the Cardinal concerned U. S.-Vatican relations was prompted by the fact that the president has not appointed a successor to Myron Taylor, who resigned earlier this year as his special envoy to the Vatican.

Taylor, also an Episcopallan, originally had gone to the Vatican as the late President Roosevelt's personal representative.

Mr. Truman reportedly has decided against sending another personal delegate to the papal state. However, there has been some discussion since Taylor's resignation of setting up formal diplomatic relations.

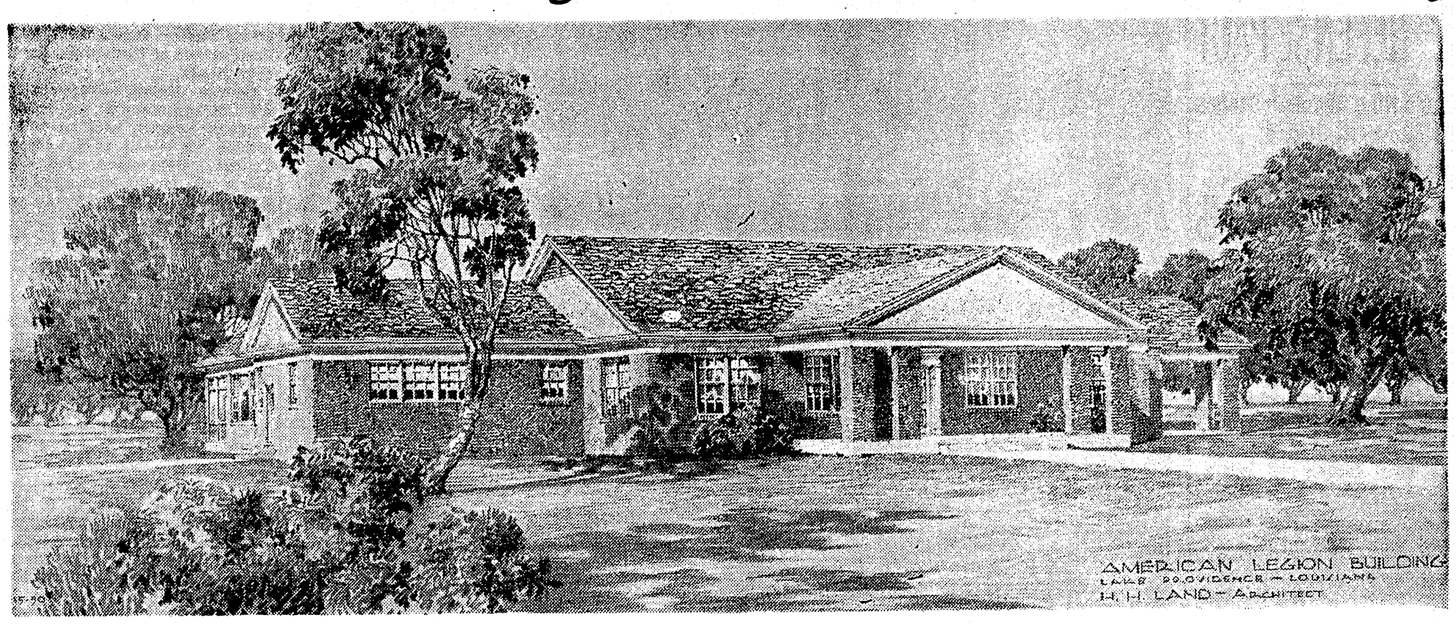
Lake Providence Legion Home To Be Finished In July



Above is a sketch of the Legion Home now being constructed in Lake Providence by the Powell-Martin-Barrett Post No. 37 which will be completed in July. Plans for the modern Legion Home, which is being erected adjacent to Lake Providence and overlooks the Tensas Basin, were drawn by Architect H. H. Land, of Monroe. The building is being constructed at a cost of $77,800 and will contain 16 rooms.

Legion Home For Powell-Martin-Barrett Post Nears Completion; Projeck To Climax $174,500 Program

Completion of the modern brick veneer structure will climax the Legion post's extensive $174,500 building program which now includes a swimming pier, tennis courts, a ball park and golf course.

The Legion Home now being erected on the 92 acre legion plot, overlooks the Tensas basin and is adjacent to the pier on Lake Providence.

The main entrance to the building will be marked with white brick columns with large picture windows across the front. The 16-room building includes two porches a porte cochere and consists of 7,000 square feet of floor space. The building will be equipped with an electric air-cooled and heating system.

The floor plan includes a social room which is 36 by 58 feet; a hall to the rear of the large social room; powder rooms along each side of the hall; a committee room and office for both the Legion and Auxiliary to the rear of the hall; a large assembly room, with five large windows opening on a view of the patio. There is a large kitchen and storage room at the opposite end of the building, and a screened porch to the rear of the bar. A service entrance marks the south side. The porches will be shaded by metal awnings.

The interior is to be finished in a wainscoting of white knotty pine, and the color schemes and furnishings have been selected by Friend and Piper, interior decorators of Shreveport.

Plans for the spacious legion home were prepared by H. H. Land, architect of Monroe.

McBride and Son, Bastrop contractors, are constructing the building.

The Legion began their building program in the summer of 1946 with the erection of a $6,000 swimming pier, which is opened to the public and located on the lake just beyond the city limits. The project was followed by a $48,000 baseball stadium equipped with lights and fence. The post's real estate investment was $10,000.

Lying directly back of and adjacent to the home will be a 70 acre nine-hole golf link with 2 tees for each hole.

In addition to the comfort and attractiveness of the home, a 300 by 700 graveled parking area has been planned.

A. J. Hart, L. S. U. landscape artist, has completed plans for landscaping all the Legion Home estate.

Though owned and maintained by the Legion, the building will be open to the public and serve as a center for all social and athletic activities, as well as home for Powell-Martin-Barrett Post.

MONROE BRANCH OF ALLEN MILLWORKS

Allen Millworks Opens Warehouse

Opening Of Warehouse And Sales Office In Monroe Is Prompted By Continuous Growth Of Twin Cities And Surrounding Area

Formal opening of the wholesale distributors was celebrated from noon to 6 p. m. Saturday with more than 100 persons participating in the celebration.

The building is constructed of asbestos-siding and contains 20,000 square feet of floor space. In addition the warehouse has its private switch track which connects with the Missouri Pacific railroad.

Construction of the building began in January and was completed in June. Allen Millworks Manufacturing Corp., maintains its main office in Shreveport with branches in Jackson, Miss., and Monroe.

The concern has done business in the Monroe area for the past several years.

W. E. Wheless, president, pointed out, "the opening of this warehouse and sales office is prompted by the continuing growth of Monroe and the surrounding area."

In addition to the president, other officials of the corporation taking part in the formal opening were W. A. Compton, Sr., vice-president; K. C. Williams, vice-president; Drake Lee, secretary; E. M. Higginbotham, treasurer.

The Monroe branch of Allen Millworks will be managed by J. W. Hightower.

C. A. Copenhaver, V. B. Thaggard and Frank R. Gaulden, are salesmen for the firm.

Boll Weevil Infestation In Louisiana Fields Is High

Boll Weevils continued entering cotton fields from hibernation in large numbers during the past week according to Rudolph Strong, assistant entomologist, Louisiana Agricultural Extension Service. Strong said that during that past week, federal and state entomologists and county agents examined fields in 20 cotton growing parishes finding a range of no weevils to as high as 1980 weevils per acre on cotton that was not squaring well. The weather was generally favorable for cultivation during the week throughout the state, with little or no rain.

Cotton fields examined in South Louisiana had an infestation as follows: two fields in Acadia parish had an average of 450 weevils per acre; 14 fields in Avoyelles parish had an average of 475 weevils per acre; 5 fields in Evangeline parish had an average of 240 weevils per acre; 6 fields in Lafayette parish had an average of 130 weevils per acre; 16 fields in St. Landry parish had an average of 941 weevils per acre; one field examined in Vermillion parish did not have any weevils present.

Cotton fields examined in the Red River Valley area has in infection of weevils as follows: 10 fields in Bossier parish had an average of 755 weevils per acre; three fields in Caddo parish had an average of 914 per acre; one field in Grant parish had an average of 1,918 weevils per acre; 15 fields in Rapides parish had an average of 952 weevils per acre; three fields in Red River parish had an average of 708 weevils per acre.

Cotton fields examined in the hill area of northwest Louisiana had an infestation as follows; 9 fields in Bienville parish had an average of 927 weevils per acre and one field in Caliborne parish had 885 weevils per acre.

Cotton fields evamined in the Monroe area had an infestation as follows: 7 fields in Caldwell parish had an average of 340 weevils per acre; 18 fields in Ouachita parish had an average of 340 weevils per acre; 2 fields in Union parish had an average of 900 wevils per acre.

Cotton fields examined in northeast Louisiana had an infestation as follows: 53 fields in Madison parish had an average of 864 weevils per acre; 2 fields in Morehouse parish had an average of 500 weevils per acre; 5 fields in Richland parish had an average of 816 weevils per acre; 4 fields in Tensas parish had an average of 781 weevils per acre. Cotton is beginning to square generally over the state in the earlier planted fields. Square counts will soon begin to be made weekly throughout the state by cotton farmers to determine the correct time to start mid season poison applications.

Aphid infestations varied throughout Louisiana, but no serious infestations were observed. Lady bugs were present in large numbers in many fields of cotton. Thrips are still injuring some young cotton, but older cotton is rapidly recovering from earlier attacks of these pests. Eggs and larvae of boll worms were present in May fields in small number in the Shreveport and central Louisiana areas. Rapid and tarnished plant bugs and fleahoppers were observed generally throughout the state. But only occasionally in injurions numbers. Formulators of cotton poisons are concerned about future supplies for Louisiana. Some poisons are scarce at the present time, but this condition may be temporary. However, some recommended materials are still in good supply and entomologists urge cotton farmers to use one of the recommended materials that is available if any particular poison is scarce when desired.

Cotton growers are warned to be careful about some materials that are coming into the state at the present time which are not recommended since these may be of a dangerous nature or of little benefit to the cotton growers.

Boy, 13, Missing In Rugged Mountain Area

Neighbors and friends on horseback searched through the night but found only what appeared to be the boy's footprints on a ridge behind the ranch house.

How a dream comes true—This house was built and the bathroom, shown on the plan, photographed as shown in the middle picture. The mirror is above the built-in vanity table adjoining the lavatory. The plan was worked out from a list of features people ask for most frequently. Cost controlled this, but such demands as ease of circulation, open planning, adequate storage and low rambling lines were carried out. The result is what the Small Homes Guide calls "The Home America Needs." This is plan 4750 by Rudolph A. Matern, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 2, N. Y. The plan covers, 1,114 square feet. It has been construction tested on a 1,000-house project at Forest City, Wantagh, L. I., N. Y., where it was sold for $11,000 on a plot 60 by 100.

Churchill To Get Medal On July 4th

LONDON, June 17.—(AP)—Winston Churchill is to receive a gold medal July 4 for his writings about wars and world affairs.

The award was announced today by the Royal United Service Institution. The medal is the Chesney gold medal, given as a memorial to Gen. Sir George Chesney, a distinguished 19th century officer of the British army engineers.

It has been given 19 times since it was established in 1899. First winner was Capt. A. T. Mahan, of the United States navy, who got it for his classic book, "The Influence of Sea Power Upon History."

As Churchill's "outstanding contributions to military history" the institution cited nine of his books, ranging from the Sudanese and South African Wars, where Churchill was a newspaper correspondent, to the several volumes of "the Second World War," which he saw as Britain's prime minister.

Ex-Brazilian Leader To Seek Re-election

RIO DE JANERIO, June 17.—(AP)—Former President Getulio Vargas announced today he will accept the presidential nomination as candidate for the Brazilian labor party at its national convention tomorrow.

Vargas, long a fiery leader in Brazilian politics, is 67 years old. He was president for 15 years until he was ousted in 1945 in a military coup. Elections are scheduled for Oct. 3.

The former president had already been named a candidate by the party's executive committee.

The major parties opposing Vargas are the social democrats of President Eurico Gaspar Dutra and the national democratic union. The latter party has named Eduardo Gomes as its candidate.

REPORT SPELLMAN CALLED MEETING

Probably Discussed U.S. Representation In Vatican With Puerifoy

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(AP)—Officials said today Cardinal Spellman asked for the meeting he held with Deputy Undersecretary of State John E. Peurifoy yesterday. They suggested that the main purpose may have been to discuss U. S. representation at the Vatican.

The Chicago Tribune said last night Peurifoy had told associates earlier he planned to call on the Cardinal in New York to ask his intervention with Senator McCarthy (R.-Wis.), who has repeatedly charged the state department with harboring Communists and their friends.

The paper said Peurifoy had denied after seeing Spellman that he had asked the Cardinal to intervene.

Reached by telephone in New York today, the state department official told a reporter he had discussed the McCarthy case with the churchman only "in the most casual manner, and added:

"That was certainly not the purpose of my visit."

Asked whether he had urged the Cardinal to "call off McCarthy," Peurifoy said, "I most certainly did not."

McCarthy said he had known in advance of the visit, but did not know its purpose. He would not name his informant, but told a reporter:

"I'd just like to say that nobody in the world has the power to call me off. The only way I can be called off is for the administration to get rid of the Communists in the government."

Peurifoy is an Episcopalian. Speculation that his meeting with the Cardinal concerned U. S.-Vatican relations was prompted by the fact that the president has not appointed a successor to Myron Taylor, who resigned earlier this year as his special envoy to the Vatican.

Taylor, also an Episcopalian, originally had gone to the Vatican as the late President Roosevelt's personal representative.

Mr. Truman reportedly has decided against sending another personal delegate to the papal state. However, there has been some discussion since Taylor's resignation of setting up formal diplomatic relations.

Allen Millworks Opens Warehouse

Opening Of Warehouse And Sales Office In Monroe Is Prompted By Continuous Growth Of Twin Cities And Surrounding Area

Formal opening of the wholesale distributors was celebrated from noon to 6 p. m. Saturday with more than 100 persons participating in the celebration.

The building is constructed of asbestos-siding and contains 20,000 square feet of floor space. In addition the warehouse has its private switch track which connects with the Missouri Pacific railroad.

Construction of the building began in January and was completed in June. Allen Millworks Manufacturing Corp., maintains its main office in Shreveport with branches in Jackson, Miss., and Monroe.

The concern has done business in the Monroe area for the past several years.

W. E. Wheless, president, pointed out, "the opening of this warehouse and sales office is prompted by the continuing growth of Monroe and the surrounding area."

In addition to the president, other officials of the corporation taking part in the formal opening were W. A. Compton, Sr., vice-president; K. C. Williams, vice-president; Drake Lee, secretary; E. M. Higginbotham, treasurer.

The Monroe branch of Allen Millworks will be managed by J. W. Hightower.

C. A. Copenhaver, V. B. Thaggard and Frank R. Gaulden, are salesmen for the firm.

Boll Weevil Infestation In Louisiana Fields Is High

Boll Weevils continued entering cotton fields from hibernation in large numbers during the past week according to Rudolph Strong, assistant entomologist, Louisiana Agricultural Extension Service. Strong said that during that past week, federal and state entomologists and county agents examined fields in 20 cotton growing parishes finding a range of no weevils to as high as 1980 weevils per acre on cotton that was not squaring well. The weather was generally favorable for cultivation during the week throughout the state, with little or no rain.

Cotton fields examined in South Louisiana had an infestation as follows: two fields in Acadia parish had an average of 450 weevils per acre; 14 fields in Avoyelles parish had an average of 475 weevils per acre; 5 fields in Evangeline parish had an average of 240 weevils per acre; 6 fields in Lafayette parish had an average of 130 weevils per acre; 16 fields in St. Landry parish had an average of 941 weevils per acre; one field examined in Vermillion parish did not have any weevils present.

Cotton fields examined in the Red River Valley area has in infection of weevils as follows: 10 fields in Bossier parish had an average of 755 weevils per acre; three fields in Caddo parish had an average of 914 per acre; one field in Grant parish had an average of 1,918 weevils per acre; 15 fields in Rapides parish had an average of 952 weevils per acre; three fields in Red River parish had an average of 708 weevils per acre.

Cotton fields examined in the hill area of northwest Louisiana had an infestation as follows; 9 fields in Bienville parish had an average of 927 weevils per acre and one field in Caliborne parish had 885 weevils per acre.

Cotton fields evamined in the Monroe area had an infestation as follows: 7 fields in Caldwell parish had an average of 340 weevils per acre; 18 fields in Ouachita parish had an average of 340 weevils per acre; 2 fields in Union parish had an average of 900 weevils per acre.

Cotton fields examined in northeast Louisiana had an infestation as follows: 53 fields in Madison parish had an average of 864 weevils per acre; 2 fields in Morehouse parish had an average of 500 weevils per acre; 5 fields in Richland parish had an average of 816 weevils per acre; 4 fields in Tensas parish had an average of 781 weevils per acre. Cotton is beginning to square generally over the state in the earlier planted fields. Square counts will soon begin to be made weekly throughout the state by cotton farmers to determine the correct time to start mid season poison applications.

Aphid infestations varied throughout Louisiana, but no serious infestations were observed. Lady bugs were present in large numbers in many fields of cotton. Thrips are still injuring some young cotton, but older cotton is rapidly recovering from earlier attacks of these pests. Eggs and larvae of boll worms were present in May fields in small number in the Shreveport and central Louisiana areas. Rapid and tarnished plant bugs and fleahoppers were observed generally throughout the state. But only occasionally in injurions numbers. Formulators of cotton poisons are concerned about future supplies for Louisiana. Some poisons are scarce at the present time, but this condition may be temporary. However, some recommended materials are still in good supply and entomologists urge cotton farmers to use one of the recommended materials that is available if any particular poison is scarce when desired.

Cotton growers are warned to be careful about some materials that are coming into the state at the present time which are not recommended since these may be of a dangerous nature or of little benefit to the cotton growers.

Boy, 13, Missing In Rugged Mountain Area

Neighbors and friends on horseback searched through the night but found only what appeared to be the boy's footprints on a ridge behind the ranch house.

Legion Home For Powell-Martin-Barrett Post Nears Completion; Projeck To Climax $174,500 Program

Completion of the modern brick veneer structure will climax the Legion post's extensive $174,500 building program which now includes a swimming pier, tennis courts, a ball park and golf course.

The Legion Home now being erected on the 92 acre legion plot, overlooks the Tensas basin and is adjacent to the pier on Lake Providence.

The main entrance to the building will be marked with white brick columns with large picture windows across the front. The 16-room building includes two porches a porte cochere and consists of 7,000 square feet of floor space. The building will be equipped with an electric air-cooled and heating system.

The floor plan includes a social room which is 36 by 58 feet; a hall to the rear of the large social room; powder rooms along each side of the hall; a committee room and office for both the Legion and Auxiliary to the rear of the hall; a large assembly room, with five large windows opening on a view of the patio. There is a large kitchen and storage room at the opposite end of the building, and a screened porch to the rear of the bar. A service entrance marks the south side. The porches will be shaded by metal awnings.

The interior is to be finished in a wainscoting of white knotty pine, and the color schemes and furnishings have been selected by Friend and Piper, interior decorators of Shreveport.

Plans for the spacious legion home were prepared by H. H. Land, architect of Monroe.

McBride and Son, Bastrop contractors, are constructing the building.

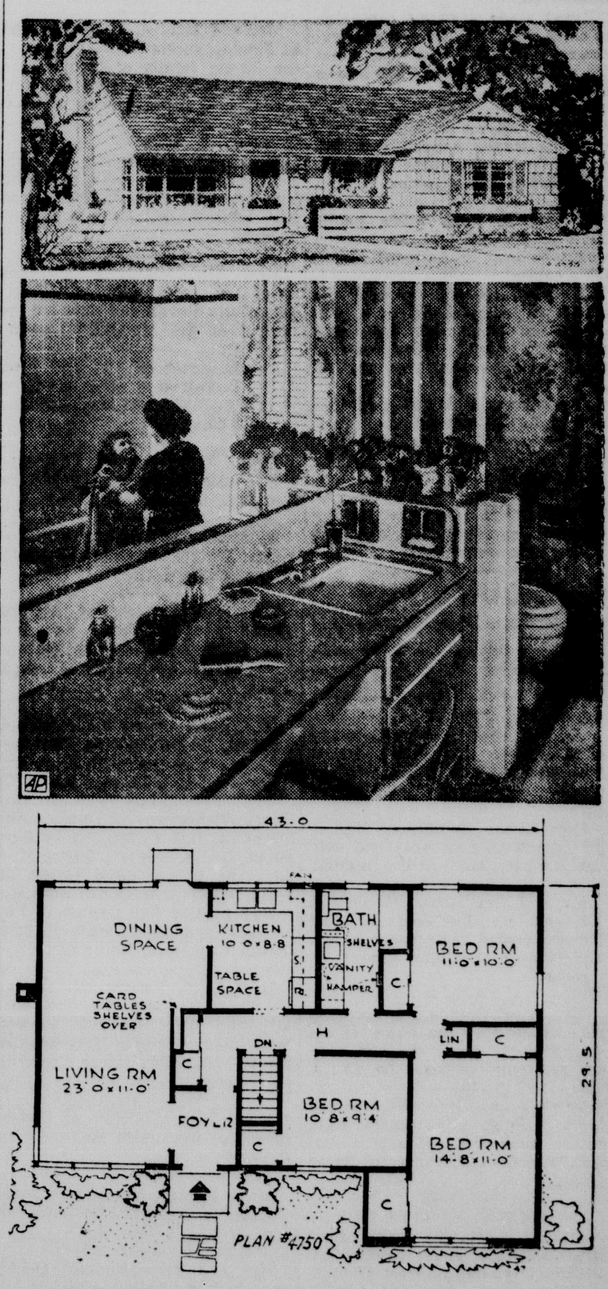
The Legion began their building program in the summer of 1946 with the erection of a $6,000 swimming pier, which is opened to the public and located on the lake just beyond the city limits. The project was followed by a $48,000 baseball stadium equipped with lights and fence. The post's real estate investment was $10,000.

Lying directly back of and adjacent to the home will be a 70 acre nine-hole golf link with 2 tees for each hole.

In addition to the comfort and attractiveness of the home, a 300 by 700 graveled parking area has been planned.

A. J. Hart, L. S. U. landscape artist, has completed plans for landscaping all the Legion Home estate.

Though owned and maintained by the Legion, the building will be open to the public and serve as a center for all social and athletic activities, as well as home for Powell-Martin-Barrett Post.



How a dream comes true—This house was built and the bathroom, shown on the plan, photographed as shown in the middle picture. The mirror is above the built-in vanity table adjoining the lavatory. The plan was worked out from a list of features people ask for most frequently. Cost controlled this, but such demands as ease of circulation, open planning, adequate storage and low rambling lines were carried out. The result is what the Small Homes Guide calls "The Home America Needs." This is plan 4750 by Rudolph A. Matern, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 2, N. Y. The plan covers, 1,114 square feet. It has been construction tested on a 1,000-house project at Forest City, Wantagh, L. I., N. Y., where it was sold for $11,000 on a plot 60 by 100.

5 ARAB NATIONS IN DEFENSE PACT

Jordan's King Abdullah Stages Boycott, Joined By Iraq

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, June 17.—(AP)— In the face of a boycott by Jordan's King Abdulla, five of the seven Arab League Nations united themselves today in a defense pact for the Middle East.

The agreement may be tied to a western power decision to arm the strategic crossroads countries against any Soviet aggression.

Iraq, the other league nation, held off from the collective security and economic treaty because of its Hashemite family and other ties with Jordan.

(Jordan was the only league member that scored a major victory in the Arab war with the Israelis for Palestine. Abdullah's British-equipped and trained Arab legion captured eastern Palestine and the old city of Jerusalem.)

The five-nation pact was accompanied by conditioned reply to the recent American-British - French decision lifting arms embargoes on Middle East countries—including Israel—and promising arms against aggression.

The pact signers are Egypt, Saudi Arabia, Syria, Lebanon and Yemen.

The text of their joint reply to Washington, London and Paris on arms is to be puclished June 21, after delivery to the big powers. Informed sources said they believed the note:

1-Refuses to accept the present armistice lines with Israel as permanent boundaries.

2-Rejects any big power interference in Arab internal affairs.

3-Expresses hope that the big powers do not intend to "equalize" total Arab country arms with those of Israel.

Some observers said the big power declaration was criticized because it was made outside the United Nations.

They said they believed the western powers may issue a joint reply clarifying the challenged points.

Jordan's split with the other five led by the Egyptians-Saudi Arabian combination grew out of Abdullah's annexation of Eastern Palestine and his apparent refusal to cut other Arab nations in on his war winnings.

Iraq Premier Tewfik El Suwedi Bey said his country may sign the pact before the league's next meeting in October.

Arab diplomatic sources said Iraq promised to work on Abdullah in the meantime to get his acceptance of a league decision on Palestine in order to avoid Jordan's expulsion from the league.

Abdullah says his annexation of eastern Palestine is final; the league majority says it cannot be considered so.

Egypt made a strong campaign to expel Jordan after the political committee decided last month that the annexation violated the league charter.

The communique issued after the final session of this meeting said the league council approved a political committee decision "concerning the question of Jordan."

No details were made public but a spokesman said the decision would be sent to Amman, Abdullah's capital.

Informed sources reported the league is telling Abdullah it considers the annexation temporary pending ultimate "liberation" of all Palestine—eviction of the Israelis.

The general belief here is that unless Jordan agrees to a temporary occupation Abdullah's kingdom will be kicked out by the league majority in October.

Punitive action was understood to have been postponed in the hope of avoiding wrecking the loosely-knit organization.

GROUND BREAKING CEREMONY

Break Ground For Church's New Educational Building

Ground breaking ceremonies for the new two story educational building of Grace Episcopal church which were held Saturday at 2 p.m., were witnessed by about 30 persons. Bishop Girault M. Jones, bishop of Louisiana, who presided over the service, broke the first piece of ground.

Bishop Jones stated that the building would be a monument to a balanced faith. He also offered his congratulations to the members of Grace church on the achievements which they had made throughout the years that enabled them to build an educational building for the teaching of God's truth to their children, congregation and community.

Father David Jones, Father Edward Hayward, and W. W. Kellogg also participated in the service with each lifting a piece of earth. Owen Johnson and Richard Morrison assisted with the ceremonies.

Plans for the $65,000 spacious educational building were drawn by H. H. Land's architectural firm of Monroe. The building will provide classrooms for the entire church school, facilities for adult classes, a general assembly room for the primary and kindergarten departments, a special visual educational room for illustrations with movies and slides, and three offices.

Administration offices of the church and the rector's office will all be located in the educational building. The building will also allow more space for the choir studio, by making the upstairs of the church available for their use.

The new structure will be erected of brick matching those in Grace Church and along the same lines. The building will connect to the church with a cloister on the north side.

The contract for the building which is to be 75 feet long and 37 feet wide, has been awarded to McBride and Son of Bastrop. It is to be completed in 180 days.

Construction will begin Monday, June 19.

Jordan's King Abdullah Stages Boycott, Joined By Iraq

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, June 17.—(AP)— In the face of a boycott by Jordan's King Abdulla, five of the seven Arab League Nations united themselves today in a defense pact for the Middle East.

The agreement may be tied to a western power decision to arm the strategic crossroads countries against any Soviet aggression.

Iraq, the other league nation, held off from the collective security and economic treaty because of its Hashemite family and other ties with Jordan.

(Jordan was the only league member that scored a major victory in the Arab war with the Israelis for Palestine. Abdullah's British-equipped and trained Arab legion captured eastern Palestine and the old city of Jerusalem.)

The five-nation pact was accompanied by conditioned reply to the recent American-British - French decision lifting arms embargoes on Middle East countries—including Israel—and promising arms against aggression.

The text of their joint reply to Washington, London and Paris on arms is to be puclished June 21, after delivery to the big powers. Informed sources said they believed the note:

1-Refuses to accept the present armistice lines with Israel as permanent boundaries.

2-Rejects any big power interference in Arab internal affairs.

3-Expresses hope that the big powers do not intend to "equalize" total Arab country arms with those of Israel.

Some observers said the big power declaration was criticized because it was made outside the United Nations.

They said they believed the western powers may issue a joint reply clarifying the challenged points.

Jordan's split with the other five led by the Egyptians-Saudi Arabian combination grew out of Abdullah's annexation of Eastern Palestine and his apparent refusal to cut other Arab nations in on his war winnings.

Iraq Premier Tewfik El Suweidi has said his country may sign the pact before the league's next meeting in October.

Arab diplomatic sources said Iraq promised to work on Abdullah in the meantime to get his acceptance of a league decision on Palestine in order to avoid Jordan's expulsion from the league.

Abdullah says his annexation of eastern Palestine is final; the league majority says it cannot be considered so.

Egypt made a strong campaign to expel Jordan after the political committee decided last month that the annexation violated the league charter.

The communique issued after the final session of this meeting said the league council approved a political committee decision "concerning the question of Jordan."

No details were made public but a spokesman said the decision would be sent to Amman, Abdullah's capital.

Informed sources reported the league is telling Abdullah it considers the annexation temporary pending ultimate "liberation" of all Palestine—eviction of the Israelis.

The general belief here is that unless Jordan agrees to a temporary occupation Abdullah's kingdom will be kicked out by the league majority in October.

Punitive action was understood to have been postponed in the hope of avoiding wrecking the loosely-knit organization.

Break Ground For Church's New Educational Building

Ground breaking ceremonies for the new two story educational building of Grace Episcopal church which were held Saturday at 2 p.m., were witnessed by about 30 persons. Bishop Girault M. Jones, bishop of Louisiana, who presided over the service, broke the first piece of ground.

Bishop Jones stated that the building would be a monument to a balanced faith. He also offered his congratulations to the members of Grace church on the achievements which they had made throughout the years that enabled them to build an educational building for the teaching of God's truth to their children, congregation and community.

Father David Jones, Father Edward Hayward, and W. W. Kellogg also participated in the service with each lifting a piece of earth. Owen Johnson and Richard Morrison assisted with the ceremonies.

Plans for the $65,000 spacious educational building were drawn by H. H. Land's architectural firm of Monroe. The building will provide classrooms for the entire church school, facilities for adult classes, a general assembly room for the primary and kindergarten departments, a special visual educational room for illustrations with movies and slides, and three offices.

Administration offices of the church and the rector's office will all be located in the educational building. The building will also allow more space for the choir studio, by making the upstairs of the church available for their use.

The new structure will be erected of brick matching those in Grace Church and along the same lines. The building will connect to the church with a cloister on the north side.

The contract for the building which is to be 75 feet long and 37 feet wide, has been awarded to McBride and Son of Bastrop. It is to be completed in 180 days.

Construction will begin Monday, June 19.

Event Takes Place Sunday At Official Opening Of Bayou DeSiard Country Club Pool

The Style Show which recently took place at the Bayou DeSaird Country Club last Sunday proved to be one of the most popular of this season. Over four hundred members and out-of-town guests were present at the opening of the Country Club Swimming Pool and the Style Review which took place on the patio.

Leon Hammond at the organ furnished the music and was accompanied by Miss Bonnie Williams at the piano. Mac Ward, as narrator proved to be an apt interpreter of the feminine models.

Mrs. C. P. Gray, Jr. was modeling an attractive golfing outfit in mauve cravanetted action back jacket with knitted waistband and cuffs, and unpressed front pleats on skirt. She was wearing a visor hat to match.

Miss Sue Ann Winds was lovely in summer suit in citron. The skirt was a narrow four - gored with the eight pearl button closing. Her hat was a navy braided straw with narrow velvet band around crown. In center front were two small birds perched with fine mesh veiling.

Modeling a white eyelet embroidered waffle pique which featured a fitted bodice was Mrs. Richard Bradley. The lapel effect collar of white pique graduated to the waistline closing with four covered buttons. Mrs. Bradley's hat was of red milam with wide brim and grosgrain ribbon encircling crown and falling into a bow at either side.

Mrs. Aileen Guthrie modeled a sailor dress in honey beige chambray with a black woven dot. Her wide brim candy braid straw hat was encircled with velvet ribbon.

Mrs. A. Scott Hamilton was lovely in a red and white checkered gingham over red cotton net with sleevless bodice and a heart shape neckline. With this she was wearing a white hat with a wide band of red grosgrain.

Another sun dress was modeled by Miss Jo Ann Rizzo in printed pique. The fitted bolero was worn over a halter neckline dress.

Mrs. James Schonlau appeared in a waffle pique with organdy applique in blue. Her hat was the ever favorite sailor with a band of bronze beads and honey biege flowers.

Miss Patricia Ann Guerriero was also wearing an all over eyelet embroidered batiste in navy over white sundress with matching bolero. She was wearing a white cloche with narrow velvet band circling crown.

Mrs. W. S. Husted, Jr. modeled an imported brown dotted swiss with square neckline outlined with a large bow of white organdy, short sleeves and fitted bodice. Her hat was a brown milan with grosgrain band encircling crown.

Mrs. Carroll Summer was wearing an imported Swiss permanent finish organdy in a soft shade of brown, frosted with embroidery. With this she chose a wide brim milan in bonnet effect of same soft brown as dress.

Ceremony Takes Place At First Methodist Church On June 10

One of the loveliest weddings of the season was that of Miss Gene Petty Smith, daughter of Mrs. Jesse James Smith, when she became the bride of Richard Penn Boyd, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Penn Boyd, Sr., of Jonesville, Louisiana.

The marriage was solemnized at the First Methodist Church June 10 at 8:00 in the evening with the Rev. A. M. Serex officiating.

The bridal couple exchanged the vows of the impressive double-ring service before the altar which was beautifully decorated with fern, gladioli and majestic daisies. The chancel rail was decorated in greenery of airy fern. Branched candelabra held a myriad of slender white cathedral tapers. Reserved pews were marked with bows of white satin ribbons.

Mr. Leon Hammonds, organist, played several selections of prenuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Roy Brooks as she sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" and Miss Betty Rinehart as she rendred "At Dawning". The traditional wedding marches marked the beginning and the end of the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. J. Dwight Petty, was lovely in her wedding gown of satin and Chantilly lace fashioned with a deep-set yoke of nylon tulle. The long Chantilly lace sleeves coming to points over her hands were fastened with covered buttons which also adorned the front of the lace bodice. The full skirt extended into a chapel-length train. Her veil of fingertip length was of imported silk illusion and fell from a coronet embroidered with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white stephanotis centered with a single white orchid and cascade streamers of white satin ribbon.

Mrs. Merlin Lee Milstead, sister of the bride, was matron-of-honor and Mrs. Charles Guerriero, III of New Orleans, Mrs. Dudley Lankford, Jr., of Birmingham, Alabama Mrs. Raymond Henry and Mrs. Lawrence Fox, Jr. of Monroe were bridesmaids. Little Miss Mary Lee Milstead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Lee Milstead, served as flower girl. They wore tissue faille models of bouffant design in colors of lilac and nile, with matching mittens and off-the-face hats. They carried bouquets of yellow daisies with ribbons matching the dresses. The flower girl wore a band of pastel daisies and carried a basket of petals.

Mr. Richard Penn Boyd, Sr. served his son as best man. The ushers were Merlin L. Milstead, David Garrett, Jr., of Monroe, E. Y. Peyton and Weden Smith of Jonesville, and L. Yancey of Rayville.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the home of the bride. The three-tiered wedding cake centered the bride's table which was covered with a handwork imported lace tablecloth, and arranged with fern and white stephanotis. White streamers led to tapers at each end of the table.

Guests were received by the bride and bridegroom, the bride's mother, parents of the groom and members of the wedding party. Tea girls were Miss Margaret Ann Hunter and Miss Elizabeth Ann Golson of Monroe and Miss June Evelyn Austin of Vicksburg, Mississippi. Mrs. Bob Sanford and Mrs. Eddie Kester served the cake, while Mrs. J. Dwight Petty and Mrs. H. B. Austin presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. William Husted, Jr. was in charge of the guest book.

The bride is a graduate of Neville High School, Northeast Junior College and Louisiana State University. The groom is a graduate of the Louisiana State University Law School.

The young couple will be at home to their friends in Jonesville, Louisiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bruce Bufkin entertained at a wedding reception Saturday, June 10, in honor of the bridal couple. The reception was held on the lawn of their Sunnyside Plantation Home.

The bride's table was laid with an imported lace cloth centered with a wedding cake arrangement of gardenias. The three-tiers were surmounted with miniature bride and groom dolls and white satin ribbon. A second punch table had as its centerpiece a low horizontal arrangement of yellow gladioli blending with the yellow and white individual cakes which were decorated in delicate pastel colors. Silver compotes held dainty yellow and green cutwork cloth, was centered by a reflector holding an arrangement of pale yellow snapdragons and marigolds with white daisies. White tapers in silver holders were on the dining table as on the buffet, where there was an arrangement of pink roses, snapdragons and larkspur in a milke white glass wedding jar. Placed at vantage points throughout the reception rooms were arrangements of gladioli, regal lilies, snapdragons, dahlias, and roses.

Presiding at the punch bowls were Mrs. James Reed, Mrs. Clifton Singletary, Mrs. John Carpenter and Mrs. Thompson Clark. Serving dainty tea sandwiches were Mesdames George Bagley, James C. Crigler, W. B. Dumas, W. Robert Cash, Harry Bumgardner, Fred Miller, John Redditt, Russell Ratcliff, Robert James Lancaster, Oliver Berry, William Oehmig, Burton Wade, Robert Rife and Misses Emogene Tomlin and Mary Asseff. Mrs. J. L. Crigler presided at the guest book.

The bride wore a brown and white embroidered organdy dress and a corsage of yellow orchids. The bride's mother wore an orchid linen dress and a corsage of orchid and white gladioli.

Out of town guests were: Rev. and Mrs. Shirley Briggs and Gloria Dawn of Tallulah; Mr. H. E. McFalter of Homer; Mr. and Mrs. W. Robert Cash, Mrs. James S. Miner, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Durham, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dumas and Bryan, Mrs. R. C. Nelson, Mrs. Harry Bumgardner and Marvin of Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Crigler and Johnnie, Mr. A. S. Mrs. H. Rupert Sledge, whose marriage was solemnized on June 16 in Augusta, Georgia, is the former Miss Margaret Geer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Geer of that city. Mr. Sledge is the son of Mrs. Henry R. Sledge and the late Mr. Sledge of Arcadia.

Impressive Ceremony Takes Place At The First Baptist Church In Augusta, Georgia

In an impressive and beautiful ceremony taking place at the First Baptist Church in Augusta, Georgia, Miss Margaret Geer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Geer of Augusta, Georgia and Mr. H. Rupert Sledge, son of Mrs. Henry R. Sledge of Arcadia and the late Mr. Slege were united in marriage by Rev. Robert S. Geer, brother of the bride at seven o'clock, June the 16th in a double ring cremony preformed against a background of white gladioli in Grecian urns on cathedral columns banked with palms and nine branched candelabra holding white tapers. The church pews were marked with aisle arrangements of gladioli.

A program of nuptial music was rendered by Mr. Robert J. Watson, organist, and Miss Kathleen Allen soloist. The traditional wedding marches were used along with "I Love Thee," "O Perfect Love" and "Prayer Perfect."

James E. Walker of Arcadia, La., served as the groom's best man. Usher-groomsman were H. Calvin Geer of Augusta, Ga., William D. Geer of Eustis, Fla., brothers of the bride, Henry M. Williams of Atlanta, Ga., and Roy G. Ryan, Jr., of Augusta, Ga.

Mrs. Robert S. Cook, former classmate of the bride served as matron of honor. She was beautifully gowned in a floor length dress a fitted taffeta bodice with a bouffant skirt of net over taffeta. She wore green taffeta gloves of elbow length to match her dress. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow carnations showered with matching satin ribbons.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. W. D. Geer, sister-in-law of the bride, Mary McAllister, Evelyn Poole, and Virginia Farr all of Augusta wore pink gowns fashioned along the line of that of the matron of honor. They carried Colonial bouquets of Charm pink carnations.

Little Myrtle Schaeffer of Augusta was adorable in her white organdy dress with a fitted bodice, a large ruffle at the neck, and a very full skirt as she scattered pink rose petals from a crochet basket in the pathway of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of white Duchesse satin fashioned with a V yoke forming a Queen Ann's collar, the fitted bodice featured tiny satin covered buttons to the waist, close fitting sleeves coming to a point over the hand and a very full skirt forming a long train. Her full length veil was of imported Rosepoint lace caught to a Juliet cap ornamented with orange blossoms and seed pearls. The bride's bouquet was of snow white roses centered with a white orchid, maline, cascade showered with stephanotis.

After the ceremony a reception was given by the bride's parents in the reception room of the church. The room was decorated with arrangements of white gladioli, lilies, and fern. The bride's table was covered with a white Chinese linen cloth and centered with three-tiered wedding cake. Mrs. L. B. Willis presided at the brides table. The punch table was lovely with a punch bowl at either end, an arrangement of white gladioli in the center, two candleabras holding white tapers, and silver trays of pink and green mints. Those serving at the punch bowls were Miss Bertha Carswell and Mrs. John Rabun. Mrs. Callaway Otwell kept the Bride's book.

For traveling the bride wore a navy blue two-piece suit with white accessories and a white orchid corsage. After a honeymoon to an unannounced destination the couple will be at home in Arcadia, La.

Mrs. Sledge is a graduate of the Junior College of Augusta, Ga., and received her A. B. degree from Baylor University Waco, Tex. ## NEWS FROM THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

As the days grow warmer and people spend more time indoors, the circulation figures of the Ouachita Parish Public Library soar with the temperature. Reading is a most pleasant hot weather occupation. In order to take care of the demand for books many new titles have recently been purchased. A very excellent new novel is "Too Little Love" by Robert Henriques. This is the story of an English community and a way of life that is now gone. The story begins in the twenties with a fox hunt. On this day we see the life of the country estate at its best. The next scene takes place during the depression period. The third scene is during the Munich crisis and the last one is after the war, when the upper classes find it so hard to live under the Socialist regime. Mr Henriques writes with discrimination and feeling. It is a book to make one think and it also tells a most interesting story. This is a thoroughly mature novel and is written for the adult reader.

Robert Penn Warren, who won the Pulitzer prize for his "All the King's Men" has a new novel, "World Enough and Time." This story is based on a murder trial in Kentucky one hundred years ago. Mr. Warren is considered one of the leading figures of modern American literature. He knows how to write and he turns out a finished product. His characters are realistic and his plot is interesting. He will probably have a large following for this book. "Sorrow by Day" by Marjorie Coryn is a historical novel with a background of the French court of Louis XIV.

"The Troubled Spring" by John Brick deals with the problem of a returned war veteran from the Civil War. It is uncanny how many parallels can be drawn between that war and this past one. "The Sheltering Sky" by Paul Bowles and "The Big Wheel" by John Brooks are novels well worth reading. "The Doctor's Wife Comes to Stay" by Frank Swinnerton is an English novel of the present day. "The Turquoise Trail" by Shirley Seifert will be popular as will "Deepwood" by Blanche C. Perrin.

Mystery writers will welcome "The Curious Custard Pie" by Margaret Scherf; "The Night at the Mocking Widow" by Carter Dickson; "The Case of the Musical Cow" by Erle Stanley Gardner; "Double, Double" by Ellery Queen and "A Murder is Announced" by Agatha Christie. This book is Agatha Christie's 50th novel. This most unusual story of the announcement of the murder in the Times before it took place is one of Miss Christie's best.

The children of Ouachita parish are showing great interest in the summer reading club. Many new books for them have been recently purchased. If you are not using the Ouachita Parish Public Library, you are missing a great opportunity, which is free to all.

Mrs. James Shamblin and daughter, Mary Alta, of Rayville visited here recently in the home of Mrs. G. W. Dalgarn and attended the graduation of Miss Walter May Dalgarn at Bastrop High School.

Impressive Ceremony Takes Place At The First Baptist Church In Augusta, Georgia

In an impressive and beautiful ceremony taking place at the First Baptist Church in Augusta, Georgia, Miss Margaret Geer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Geer of Augusta, Georgia and Mr. H. Rupert Sledge, son of Mrs. Henry R. Sledge of Arcadia and the late Mr. Slege were united in marriage by Rev. Robert S. Geer, brother of the bride at seven o'clock, June the 16th in a double ring cremony preformed against a background of white gladioli in Grecian urns on cathedral columns banked with palms and nine branched candelabra holding white tapers. The church pews were marked with aisle arrangements of gladioli.

A program of nuptial music was rendered by Mr. Robert J. Watson, organist, and Miss Kathleen Allen soloist. The traditional wedding marches were used along with "I Love Thee," "O Perfect Love" and "Prayer Perfect."

James E. Walker of Arcadia, La., served as the groom's best man. Usher-groomsman were H. Calvin Geer of Augusta, Ga., William D. Geer of Eustis, Fla., brothers of the bride, Henry M. Williams of Atlanta, Ga., and Roy G. Ryan, Jr., of Augusta, Ga.

Mrs. Robert S. Cook, former classmate of the bride served as matron of honor. She was beautifully gowned in a floor length dress a fitted taffeta bodice with a bouffant skirt of net over taffeta. She wore green taffeta gloves of elbow length to match her dress. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow carnations showered with matching satin ribbons.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. W. D. Geer, sister-in-law of the bride, Mary McAllister, Evelyn Poole, and Virginia Farr all of Augusta wore pink gowns fashioned along the line of that of the matron of honor. They carried Colonial bouquets of Charm pink carnations.

Little Myrtle Schaeffer of Augusta was adorable in her white organdy dress with a fitted bodice, a large ruffle at the neck, and a very full skirt as she scattered pink rose petals from a crochet basket in the pathway of the bride.

BRIDE AND GROOM

Mr. and Mrs. James Crowder, Jr. following their wedding which took place June 2nd in Minden. Mrs. Crowder is the former Miss Charlotte Rita Hoffos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Magee of Minden. Mr. Crowder is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Crowder of Ruston.

Charlotte Rita Hoffos Is Recent Bride Of James Crowder, Jr.

Miss Charlotte Rita Hoffos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Magee of Minden became the bride of James Crowder, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Crowder of Ruston, in an informal wedding, June 2 at 9:30 a.m. at the Antioch Baptist Church near Minden.

The church was artistically decorated with a profusion of lovely summer flowers. Pre-nuptial music was played by Miss Mary Savaco. The bride entered on the arm of her brother, Mr. W. L. Hoffos, and the beautiful double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. R. Hearron, pastor of the Heflin Baptist Church.

Out-of-town guests included Miss Nina Holomon of Natchez, Miss., Miss Ann Bruatt of Bonita; Miss Shelby Meek of this city; Mrs. Jack Beard, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brooks, Sr., grandparents of the groom, of Ruston; Mrs. N. E. McElwee and daughter of Delhi, and Mrs. E. J. Short of Winnsboro.

After a brief honeymoon in Hot Springs, Ark., the young couple will be at home in Ruston where they will both attend school.

* * *

This is the season for cotton frocks and cotton frocks mean constant tubbing and ironing, says Mildred G. Swift, associate home demonstration agent. It is easier, however, to keep summer cottons "ready to go" by observing a few "short cuts," believes the agent.

"The permanent finish some cottons now have for example, minates need for starching," she points out. "If a little starch is needed to pep up a dress, try one of the permanent starches.

"Sprinkle dry dresses with warm water, using some kind of sprinkler like a bottle top sprinkler. Fold the sprinkled clothes lightly and wrap them in a plastic sheet to keep them damp and to give an even dampness. There is a plastic sheet to keep them damp and to give an even dampness. There is a plastic bag available that works like magic. The clothes go into the bag, then a little water is poured in. Leave the bag closed a couple of hours, and the dresses are evenl. dampened and ready for ironing.

"The height of the ironing board can be adjusted to suit your height on many of the new boards. Why not sit down and rest while you do the ironing? The board should come almost to your elbows to be a comfortable heignt. Select a chair that you can sit well back in, with your feet on the floor.

"To save time and money, arrange your ironing so that the temperature of the iron can be stepped up from the lower temperatures to the higher ones gradually. This means the dry clothes will be ironed first, the lightly dampened ones next and the very damp ones last. Ruffles and intricate ironing requires a lower temperature than large flat surfaces," she says.

BEST YARD CONTEST

FERRIDAY, La., June 17. — (Special)— The Vidalia Garden Club will initiate its "best yard of the month" contest this month, according to Miss Inez Calloway, chairman of the committee in charge. The members of the committee are Mrs. Jack Dale, Mrs. Frank Licata, Mrs. Charles D. Breard and Mrs. Richard Campbell.

MISS MARILYN MAY WEDS MR. JOHN EARL DENT

The marriage of Miss Marilyn May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn E. May, Sr., of Winnsboro, La., and Mr. John Earl Dent, son of Mrs. Joseph P. Dent and the late Mr. Dent of Columbia, South Carolina, was solemnized Tuesday afternoon, June 6 at 3:30 o'clock in the Winnsboro First Baptist Church with the Reverend C. B. Hall officiating.

The impressive double ring ceremony was performed before the altar which was decorated with beautiful baskets of white gladioli. Lacy fronds formed an appropriate background for the tastefully arranged flowers.

Miss Annie Laurie Savage, attired in butter-cup yellow and wearing a corsage of white carnations, rendered a program of prenuptial music. The muted strain of "I Love You Truly" was woven like a golden thread through the lines of the poem "Why Do I Love Thee", so charmingly read by Mr. Robert Fleshman. Mr. Lynn E. May, Jr., sang the ever popular favorite "God Gave Me You". At the close of the service he sang "Savior Like A Shepherd Lead Us", as the benediction.

The lovely bride, given in marriage by her father, was dressed in a white organdy gown of her own creation. The perfectly fitted bodice, princess in effect, had a round yoke encircled by a wide ruffle of self material edged in lace. The skirt fell to the floor like a cascade in wide lace trimmed ruffles. Her finger tip length veil of net illusion was held in place by a coronet of lace and satin. For something old the bride wore a gold bracelet belonging to her maternal grandmother. A cameo necklace, presented by the groom, made a charming compliment to the costume. The bride carried a colonial bouquet of white roses tied with wide white satin ribbons.

Mrs. Leon Hyatt, Jr., the matron of honor, Miss Julia Ann Dent and Miss Julia Ann Trezevant, bridesmaids, wore sky blue costumes and carried colonial bouquets of pink roses. The brides mother chose a mauve rose model with chartreuse and mauve rose accessories. The groom's mother was dressed in teal blue with black accessories. Mrs. May and Mrs. Dent wore corsages of green dendrobium orchids.

Serving as ushers were: Mr. Jack Ferguson, Mr. Leon Hyatt, Jr., Mr. Robert Fleshmen, Mr. Jack McKenzie and Mr. Woodrow May.

A reception immediately following the ceremony was held in the home of the bride's parents. The color scheme in the dlightful living room and dining room was plannd around white gladioli. Centering the table which was covered with a lovely cut work cloth was the tiered wedding confection topped by a minature bride and groom. Miss Barbara Gainey presided at the punch bowl. She was assisted in serving the guests by Miss Alta Green, Mrs. Leon Hyatt, Jr., Miss Julia Ann Dent and Miss Julia Ann Trezevant.

During the reception, Miss Annie Laurie Savage and Mr. Lynn May sang beautiful selections among them being "Sweet Mystery of Life," "Always" "Because."

Out of town guests were Mrs. Joseph P. Dent and Miss Julia Ann Dent of Columbia, South Carolina; Mrs. C. H. Spangenberg, Miami, Florida, Mr. James L. Spangenberg, Clemson, South Carolina, Mr. Jack Ferguson, Ashville, North Carolina, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hyatt, Lake Charles, Louisiana, Miss Alta Green, Franklin, Louisiana, Miss Leola Greer and Miss Barbara Gainey, Shreveport, Louisiana, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Townsend, Gilbert, Louisiana, Mr. and Mrs. John Dailey, Mrs. Mattie Dailey, Mrs. M. A. Dailey, Mrs. N. B. Dailey, Miss Anette Dailey, Miss Ruth Dean and Miss Margaret Clinton of Extension, Louisiana, Miss Willie Jean Young, Jonesville, Louisiana, Mr. Robert Fleshman, Alexandria, Louisiana, Mrs. Stone Miller and Stoney of Delhi, Louisiana, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Trezevant, Miss Julia Ann Trezevant and Mrs. George M. Trezevant of Sterlington, La., Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow May of Forest, Louisiana, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kennedy, Tallulah, Louisiana, Mrs. J. W. McKenzie, Sr., Alexandria, Louisiana, Mr. G. B. McKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McKenzie and children, Barbara, Ruth, Kay and Joel, Pineville, Louisiana and Mr. and Mrs. Jack McKenzie of Mexia, Texas.

The bride is a graduate of Louisiana College. The groom received his B. S. degree from Clemson College, South Carolina, this June. For her going away costume the bride wore an aqua suit of linen with matching hat and white accessories.

After their honeymoon on the Gulf Coast the happy couple will be at home in Greenville, South Carolina.

Girls Enter For 'Miss Catahoula'

JONESVILLE, La., June 17.—(Special)—Eleven girls have qualified for the "Miss Catahoula" pageant which will be held at the Block High School gym in Jonesville on Saturday night, June 24. The pageant is being sponsored by the Jonesville Woman's Club.

In the senior contest, which is an official preliminary of the "Miss America" contest at Atlantic City, are Mary Bert Godwin of Jonesville and Barbara Louise Routon of Harrisonburg. In the junior contest, from girls 16 to 18 years, are Anne Trunzler of Harrisonburg, Velda Young, Patsy Phillips, Jean LaRavia, Flora Poole, Ann Webb, Betty Brackett and Lollie Mae Caskey of Jonesville and Maxine Bradford of Walters.

A number of other contestants are expected in both groups.

The winner of the senior group will be sent to Lake Providence on July 2 and 3 to compete in the "Miss Louisiana" contest.

BRIDE AND GROOM

Charlotte Rita Hoffos Is Recent Bride Of James Crowder, Jr.

Miss Charlotte Rita Hoffos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Magee of Minden became the bride of James Crowder, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Crowder of Ruston, in an informal wedding, June 2 at 9:30 a.m. at the Antioch Baptist Church near Minden.

The church was artistically decorated with a profusion of lovely summer flowers. Pre-nuptial music was played by Miss Mary Savaco. The bride entered on the arm of her brother, Mr. W. L. Hoffos, and the beautiful double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. R. Hearron, pastor of the Heflin Baptist Church.

Out-of-town guests included Miss Nina Holomon of Natchez, Miss., Miss Ann Bruatt of Bonita; Miss Shelby Meek of this city; Mrs. Jack Beard, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brooks, Sr., grandparents of the groom, of Ruston; Mrs. N. E. McElwee and daughter of Delhi, and Mrs. E. J. Short of Winnsboro.

After a brief honeymoon in Hot Springs, Ark., the young couple will be at home in Ruston where they will both attend school.

This is the season for cotton frocks and cotton frocks mean constant tubbing and ironing, says Mildred G. Swift, associate home demonstration agent. It is easier, however, to keep summer cottons "ready to go" by observing a few "short cuts," believes the agent.

"The permanent finish some cottons now have for example, minates need for starching," she points out. "If a little starch is needed to pep up a dress, try one of the permanent starches.

"Sprinkle dry dresses with warm water, using some kind of sprinkler like a bottle top sprinkler. Fold the sprinkled clothes lightly and wrap them in a plastic sheet to keep them damp and to give an even dampness. There is a plastic sheet to keep them damp and to give an even dampness. There is a plastic bag available that works like magic. The clothes go into the bag, then a little water is poured in. Leave the bag closed a couple of hours, and the dresses are evenl dampened and ready for ironing.

"The height of the ironing board can be adjusted to suit your height on many of the new boards. Why not sit down and rest while you do the ironing? The board should come almost to your elbows to be a comfortable heignt. Select a chair that you can sit well back in, with your feet on the floor.

"To save time and money, arrange your ironing so that the temperature of the iron can be stepped up from the lower temperatures to the higher ones gradually. This means the dry clothes will be ironed first, the lightly dampened ones next and the very damp ones last. Ruffles and intricate ironing requires a lower temperature than large flat surfaces," she says.

BEST YARD CONTEST

FERRIDAY, La., June 17. — (Special)— The Vidalia Garden Club will initiate its "best yard of the month" contest this month, according to Miss Inez Calloway, chairman of the committee in charge. The members of the committee are Mrs. Jack Dale, Mrs. Frank Licata, Mrs. Charles D. Breard and Mrs. Richard Campbell.

MISS MARILYN MAY WEDS MR. JOHN EARL DENT

The marriage of Miss Marilyn May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn E. May, Sr., of Winnsboro, La., and Mr. John Earl Dent, son of Mrs. Joseph P. Dent and the late Mr. Dent of Columbia, South Carolina, was solemnized Tuesday afternoon, June 6 at 3:30 o'clock in the Winnsboro First Baptist Church with the Reverend C. B. Hall officiating.

The impressive double ring ceremony was performed before the altar which was decorated with beautiful baskets of white gladioli. Lacy fronds formed an appropriate background for the tastefully arranged flowers.

Miss Annie Laurie Savage, attired in butter-cup yellow and wearing a corsage of white carnations, rendered a program of pre-nuptial music. The muted strain of "I Love You Truly" was woven like a golden thread through the lines of the poem "Why Do I Love Thee", so charmingly read by Mr. Robert Fleshman. Mr. Lynn E. May, Jr., sang the ever popular favorite "God Gave Me You". At the close of the service he sang "Savior Like A Shepherd Lead Us", as the benediction.

The lovely bride, given in marriage by her father, was dressed in a white organdy gown of her own creation. The perfectly fitted bodice, princess in effect, had a round yoke encircled by a wide ruffle of self material edged in lace. The skirt fell to the floor like a cascade in wide lace trimmed ruffles. Her finger tip length veil of net illusion was held in place by a coronet of lace and satin. For something old the bride wore a gold bracelet belonging to her maternal grandmother. A cameo necklace, presented by the groom, made a charming compliment to the costume. The bride carried a colonial bouquet of white roses tied with wide white satin ribbons.

Mrs. Leon Hyatt, Jr., the matron of honor, Miss Julia Ann Dent and Miss Julia Ann Trezevant, bridesmaids, wore sky blue costumes and carried colonial bouquets of pink roses. The brides mother chose a mauve rose model with chartreuse and mauve rose accessories. The groom's mother was dressed in teal blue with black accessories. Mrs. May and Mrs. Dent wore corsages of green denrobium orchids.

Serving as ushers were: Mr. Jack Ferguson, Mr. Leon Hyatt, Jr., Mr. Robert Fleshmen, Mr. Jack McKenzie and Mr. Woodrow May.

A reception immediately following the ceremony was held in the home of the bride's parents. The color scheme in the dlightful living room and dining room was plannd around white gladioli. Centering the table which was covered with a lovely cut work cloth was the tiered wedding confection topped by a minature bride and groom. Miss Barbara Gainey presided at the punch bowl. She was assisted in serving the guests by Miss Alta Green, Mrs. Leon Hyatt, Jr., Miss Julia Ann Dent and Miss Julia Ann Trezevant.

During the reception, Miss Annie Laurie Savage and Mr. Lynn May sang beautiful selections among them being "Sweet Mystery of Life," "Always" "Because."

Out of town guests were Mrs. Joseph P. Dent and Miss Julia Ann Dent of Columbia, South Carolina; Mrs. C. H. Spangenberg Miami, Florida, Mr. James L. Spangenberg, Clemson, South Carolina, Mr. Jack Ferguson, Ashville, North Carolina, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hyatt, Lake Charles, Louisiana, Miss Alta Green, Franklin, Louisiana, Miss Leola Greer and Miss Barbara Gainey, Shreveport, Louisiana, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Townsend, Gilbert, Louisiana, Mr. and Mrs. John Dailey, Mrs. Mattie Dailey, Mrs. M. A. Dailey, Mrs. N. B. Dailey, Miss Anette Dailey, Miss Ruth Dean and Miss Margaret Clinton of Extension, Louisiana, Miss Willie Jean Young, Jonesville, Louisiana, Mr. Robert Fleshman, Alexandria, Louisiana, Mrs. Stone Miller and Stoney of Delhi, Louisiana, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Trezevant, Miss Julia Ann Trezevant and Mrs. George M. Trezevant of Sterlington, La., Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow May of Forest, Louisiana, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kennedy, Tallulah, Louisiana, Mrs. J. W. McKenzie, Sr., Alexandria, Louisiana, Mr. G. B. McKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McKenzie and children, Barbara, Ruth, Kay and Joel, Pineville, Louisiana and Mr. and Mrs. Jack McKenzie of Mexia, Texas.

The bride is a graduate of Louisiana College. The groom received his B. S. degree from Clemson College, South Carolina, this June. For her going away costume the bride wore an aqua suit of linen with matching hat and white accessories.

Hazel Virginia Fisher Is Wed To Richard Albert Englerth

Impressive Double Ring Ceremony Takes Place At The First Baptist Church

A wedding of interest throughout this section was that of Miss Hazel Virginia Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Lee Fisher and Richard Albert Englerth, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Jones, Jr. Thursday evening June 8th at seven-thirty o'clock at the First Baptist Church.

The impressive double ring ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. C. S. Cadwallader, Jr., pastor of College Place Baptist Church and was assisted by the Rev. James C. Horton, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

The church was decorated for the occasion with tall white baskets overflowing with white gladioli against a background of greenery with Southern smilax and white daisies entwined in the candelabra holding the cathedral tapers. Over the baptistry was a large vase of white daisies. The candles were lighted by Mr. Max Dillingham and Mr. Robert Nelson.

Mrs. Florence Z. Allbritton at the organ rendered several numbers of familiar nuptial music while the guests were being seated by the ushers, Mr. David Russell, Mr. W. L. Moore, Mr. Robert Morris, Mr. John Etheridge and Mr. Ben C. Baugh of Ruston. Mr. Bryan Fisher, brother of the bride, was the groom's best man.

Mrs. Allbritton accompanied the soloist, Miss Beverly Ringwald, who sang "Because" and "Sweet Mystery of Life' and for the benediction sang "The Lord's Prayer.'

The traditional wedding marches were used to begin and end the service and during the ceremony "Clare de Lune" was played softly. The wedding party entered to the rendition of the Bridal chorus from "Lohengrin' by Wagner.

Mrs. Oliver Wilson, aunt of the bride, served as matron-of-honor and she wore a lovely pink gown of nylon net with moulded bodice with drop shoulder and short cap sleeves. The long full skirt worn over a hoop and a taffeta slip was accented by a peplum of vel ray pattern cascading down the sides. She wore pink nylon net elbow length mitts and carried an arm bouquet of green painted daisies circled with stiff pink meline and tied with green ribbon. In her hair she wore a crown of green daisies in halo effect.

The bridesmaids, Miss Helen Todd, Miss Dorothy Bynum, and Miss Betty Richardson wore identical gowns of nile green nylon net and carried arm bouquets of pink painted daisies in the form of rossetts circled with stiff green meline and tied with pink ribbon. They also wore in their hair crowns of pink daisies. Little Miss Linda Kay Owens, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl and wore a pink nylon net floor length gown over a taffeta slip and carried a basket filled with pink rose petals. She also wore a halo of pink daisies in her hair. Master Maurice Cottingham, cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer and was dressed in white. He carried the wedding ring on a white satin pillow.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of imported mandel lace over a satin petiskirt, fashioned with a high necked yoke of net joined to a low round neckline. The fitted bodice of lace extended into points on the full hooped skirt of nylon net ending in a train. The tight fitting lace sleeves tapered in lily points over the hands. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiara of lily-of-the-valley. Her bouquet was a cascade of stephanotis centered with a single white orchid and tied with white satin streamers. She observed the tradition of something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue and a penny in her shoe.

For something old the bride wore an antique pin handed down from the groom's step-father's family and a single string of pearls given to her by the groom.

Mrs. Fisher chose for her daughter's wedding a deep aqua blue crepe floor length gown with a lace trimmed yoke and pink elbow length gloves. Her corsage was of pink carnations tied with silver ribbon.

Mrs. Jones, mother of the groom, chose a floor length gown of rose beige crepe trimmed in lace and with it she wore lace elbow length mitts. Her corsage was of pink carnations and blue tied with blue ribbon.

The bride is a graduate of Columbia High School and Northeast Junior College. She has been employed for the past three years by a business firm in this city.

Mr. Englerth is a graduate of O. P. H. S. and studied pre-dental for three years at Baylor University in Waco, Tex. He is at the present time a sophomore at the Loyola School of Dentistry in New Orleans. He is a member of Psi Omega, national honorary dental fraternity, Alpha Epsilon Delta, honorary pre-medical fraternity, and Beta Beta Beta, national honorary biological fraternity.

Members of the wedding party received guests. Mrs. Lavern Roberts presided at the guest book. Spring flowers were used throughout the reception rooms.

The bride's table was overlaid with a handsome white Irish linen cutwork with a deep lace border. Centering the table was the beautifully decorated tiered wedding cake circled with white daisies, and on either side were crystal candelabra holding white tapers. At each end of the table punch was served by Mrs. E. M. Cottingham, aunt of the bride and Mrs. Guy Gates of Columbia. Assisting in serving individual frosted covered cakes on crystal trays to guests were: Mrs. Alta C. Faircloth, Miss Belva Dardin, Mrs. John Etheridge and Mrs. D. C. Black.

Baskets overflowing with gladioli and daisies were placed at vantage points throughout the reception rooms.

For their wedding trip to Biloxi the bride wore a two piece linen suit of brown and aqua with white hat and gloves. Her accessories were brown and white and her corsage was a white orchid.

On their return from their honeymoon the young couple will beat home with the groom's parents at 2011 Stuart street for the summer. In September Mr. Englerth will continue his studies at Loyola in New Orleans.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Owens, Mr. Frank Amerine, Mrs. Stanley Owens and daughter, Mrs. Purl Wright, Mrs. H. S. Owens, Miss Sarah Nan Owens of Jena; Mrs. F. R. Mockhardt of Dallas, Tex.; Mrs. Ben C. Baugh of Rus-ton.

Start To Build At Vidalia Soon

FERRIDAY, La., June 17. — (Special)—The construction of the new Vidalia High School is expected to get underway early next week, according to a representative of the E. O. Cooley Company of Fuston, contractors.

J. S. Burris, parish superintendent, announced that preliminary work has been completed. This includes relocating the gas and water lines, moving the flag pole and cutting down the giant pecan tree on the site.

This pecan tree has been a familiar landmark in Vidalia. It had 82 rings and it is belieed to have been over 100 years old.

The school will be built in two units, two-thirds of it to be constructed first while the students use the old building. Upon completion of the new part, students will move to it, and the old building will be demolished. The remaining one-third of the new building will be constructed on the site of the old structure.

BRIDE-ELECT

Miss Amalea Murphy whose engagement and approaching marriage to Alvin W. Ridgeway, Jr. son of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Ridgeway, Sr. of Pine Bluff, Arkansas, is announced today by her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Murphy. The wedding will take place July 1.

Location Changes This Fall In Tech

RUSTON, June 17. —(Special)—Several activities of Louisiana Tech will be operating in new locations by the time the fall semester opens on September 11.

The cafeteria was completely refurnished and is now occupied by the student center, dubbed by the students as the "Tonk."

The space formerly used by the student center is being reworked as a new location for the college bookstore, which for several years has been in the basement of Keeny Hall, the administration building.

When the bookstore is moved, its present quarters will be walled up into two sections, the south part to be used for housing a private branch exchange telephone system and the north part to be used for offices.

A room adjacent to the present main bookstore, now used as a bookstore stockroom, will be used by the student senate.

The rear of the classroom, now partitioned for use as additional store room by the bookstore, will be reconverted to enlarge the classroom to its former size.

The latter change will allow publication staff members more room to operate.

And there the chain of moving may end—unless somebody decides to move in with the publication department.

Negro Seriously Hurt In Auto-Truck Mishap

BASTROP, La., June 17.—(Special)—A 33-year-old Bastrop Negro was in a hospital here suffering serious injuries sustained in an automobile - truck collision Friday afternoon two miles north of Monroe.

The Negro, Ashford Williams, was hurt when he attempted to pass a truck driven by Loyd Noland of Sterlington. Noland was making a left turn into a driveway when the collision occurred.

Williams suffered chest bruises, nose lacerations and internal injuries. He was taken to the hospital by a passing motorist.

The truck and the automobile were both damaged considerably.

The U. S. department of agriculture is experimenting with "snowcatchers" of planted trees or fences to hold irrigation water in mountain areas until midsummer.

Library Board Now Taking Over

JONESVILLE, La., June 17.—(Special)—The administration of the Catahoula parish library has been "turned over" to the parish library board by Sallie Farrell, state library field representative who helped organize the demonstration last year.

Parish administration will become effective August 1, when the state-supported one-year demonstration period ends. After that time, the state library will serve the parish in ad advisory capacity only.

Y. E. Sheppart, parish school supervisor, has been elected president of the board to succeed O. R. Wurster of Jonesville. Mrs. Fred Fairbanks was elected vice-president.

The board adopted a tentative budget of $14,967 for the first year of its administration. Last February, Catahoula citizens voted a three and one-half mill tax for five years for maintenance of the library.

Crossings should be Seen and not Felt

WHEN the sign says "Stop, Look and Listen," the prudent driver does.

But after that what? Must you still move forward at a cautious crawl or pay toll in jar, jitter and jounce?

You step on the throttle, move easily, swiftly forward. Your wheels dance—your tires drum-roll over rail and plank.

But four gentle coil springs, one on each wheel, are working their magic—and you hear rather than feel the rough spot you have crossed.

That, of course, is only one kind of rough going you can meet in your travels. It's only one kind of discomfort your Buick's built to master.

For beside gentle coil springing, every Buick rides on soft, low-pressure tires. Every one is steadied by a rigid torque-tube. Every one boasts a rigid, weaveproof frame—soft, sure shock absorbers—even special engine mountings to minimize vibration.

They can have the special added smoothness of Dynaflow Drive,* cushioning power-thrust in spinning oil.

So rough spots seem to level out at your coming. Boulevards take on a new smoothness. You know what riding comfort is—why the Buick ride is called matchless.

So how about it?

Come climb into a Buick and see for yourself what we mean. You'll get a style-thrill and a power-thrill along with your ride-thrill—and a story on price that eliminates your last excuse for not traveling in the Buick manner!

Only BUICK has Dynaflow—and with it goes: HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD forefront, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.

CUT WEDDING CAKE

HELEN THOMASON AND RAYMOND ROY HEAR VOWS IN CHURCH CEREMONY

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Helen Thomason and Raymond Roy whose marriage took place recently in the Emanuel Baptist Church at six o'clock in the evening. The Rev. Charles Holstead officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride was wearing a floor length dress of white organdy with high yoke and long tight sleeves which came to a point at the hand. Her finger-tip veil of illusion was caught to a Juliet cap embroidered with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias and carnations centered with a single orchid.

Miss Floye Peters, maid-of-honor, and bride's only attendant, was wearing a gown of pink organdy. She carried a bouquet of painted daisies.

Anita Ruth Bradberry, flower girl and niece of the bride was wearing a blue organdy floor length dress and was also carrying a bouquet of daisies.

Preceeding the marriage ceremony, Miss Sallie Lyles played a program of prenuptial music and accompanied Mr. Kenneth Adams who sang "I Love You Truly."

Mr. David Henry Castle served the groom as best man. Ushers were Mr. C. W. Dent, Jr. and Mr. George Bradberry.

Mrs. George Thomason, the bride's mother, was wearing a dress of navy blue with accessories of white and a corsage of pink asters. The groom's mother, Mrs. Wesley Roy, was wearing a gown of blue and accessories of black. She was also wearing a corsage of pink asters.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's family, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Thomason following the wedding. The house was decorated with white shasta daisies, pink and blue hydrangeas.

Centering the bride's table was the tiered confection surrounded by gardenias. Mrs. C. W. Dent, Jr., sister of the bride, presided at the punch bowl assisted by Mrs. George Bradberry, also a sister of the bride.

CUT WEDDING CAKE

HELEN THOMASON AND RAYMOND ROY HEAR VOWS IN CHURCH CEREMONY

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Helen Thomason and Raymond Roy whose marriage took place recently in the Emanuel Baptist Church at six o'clock in the evening. The Rev. Charles Holstead officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride was wearing a floor length dress of white organdy with high yoke and long tight sleeves which came to a point at the hand. Her finger-tip veil of illusion was caught to a Juliet cap embroidered with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias and carnations centered with a single orchid.

Miss Floye Peters, maid-of-honor, and bride's only attendant, was wearing a gown of pink organdy. She carried a bouquet of painted daisies.

Anita Ruth Bradberry, flower girl and niece of the bride was wearing a blue organdy floor length dress and was also carrying a bouquet of daisies.

Preceeding the marriage ceremony, Miss Sallie Lyles played a program of prenuptial music and accompanied Mr. Kenneth Adams who sang "I Love You Truly."

Mr. David Henry Castle served the groom as best man. Ushers were Mr. C. W. Dent, Jr. and Mr. George Bradberry.

Mrs. George Thomason, the bride's mother, was wearing a dress of navy blue with accessories of white and a corsage of pink asters. The groom's mother, Mrs. Wesley Roy, was wearing a gown of blue and accessories of black. She was also wearing a corsage of pink asters.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's family, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Thomason following the wedding. The house was decorated with white shasta daisies, pink and blue hydrangeas.

Centering the bride's table was the tiered confection surrounded by gardenias. Mrs. C. W. Dent, Jr., sister of the bride, presided at the punch bowl assisted by Mrs. George Bradberry, also a sister of the bride.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mrs. W. G. Gore of Homer, grandmother of the groom, Mr. C. T. Holland of Shreveport, and Mrs. M. L. Lyles of Alto.

CUT WEDDING CAKE

CEREMONY UNITES INELL CHARLES AND IRA TAYLOR IN MARRIAGE

At an impressive ceremony characterizing the old south with gardenias and candlelight, Miss Inell Charles, daughter of Mrs. Irene Donovan, exchanged vows with Ira Taylor, son of Mrs. W. B. Odom.

The marriage was solemnized on Saturday evening at eight o'clock, June 3, at Trinity Baptist Church with the Rev. Filer J. Seal officiating in the presence of many friends and relatives.

The candles were lighted by Ross and Gayle Odom.

Miss Rita Moore rendered a program of prenuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Christine Ellis, aunt of the bride, as she sang "Because" and "Always".

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Malcolm Stone, wore the traditional white satin wedding gown. The net yoke was edged in seed pearl with lace ruffle. The sleeves extended to a point over the wrist. The fitted bodice came to a point in front and back, with the full skirt ending with a long flowing train. The bridal veil of net illusion was held in place with orange blossoms. Her lovely bouquet was of white split carnations and gardenias.

Miss Gloria Charles, sister of the bride, served as maid-of-honor and was wearing a pink organdy gown and carried a bouquet of pink and blue daisies.

Mrs. Faye Cloud served as bridesmaid and wore a gown identical to that of the maid-of-honor and carried a similar bouquet.

Mr. Leonard Cloud served as groomsman and Mr. Wayne Odom served his brother as best man.

A reception immediately following the ceremony was in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Cloud. The bride's table was overlaid with a lace cloth and centering the table was the tiered wedding confection. Mrs. Betty Stone and Mrs. Mary Stone, aunts of the bride, presided at the punch bowl.

Not Always Needed Percentage Play Is

By Oswald Jacoby
(Written For NEA Service)

"We have a problem as to the correct percentage play," writes a Dallas reader. "The argument developed as a result of this hand.

"West opened the ten of spades, dummy played the king, and East won with the ace. East led the queen of spades at the second trick, and South ruffed.

"South next laid down the king of hearts, and continued with the ten of hearts. West played a low trump both times, and South had to decide whether or not to finesse.

"As you can see, a finesse would have enabled him to make his contract. Actually South put up dummy's ace of hearts, thus losing his contract. He eventually had to give up a trump trick and two clubs.

"South claims he followed the rule that you finesse with eight trumps but not with nine trumps. North feels sure that the odds are in favor of a finesse through West, but cannot prove it. Who is correct?"

North is correct. When you have no information about the unseen cards, you follow the old rule that South quoted. The rule actually says "with eight over; with nine, never." It must be emphasized, however, that this old rule applies only when you have no information about the hands of the opponents.

In this case, however, South had heard East bid three spades in the face of strong bidding by North-South. Would East do so with two losing cards in the suit that had been bid against him? As any experienced bridge player knows, East would be much more likely to bid three spades if his hand contained only one heart then if his hand contained two hearts.

The bidding and West's choice of the opening lead indicated that East held at least seven spades. This alone would cause the odds to favor a finesse through West for the queen of hearts. With seven spades in his hand, East had only six cards in which to hold an assortment of hearts, diamonds and clubs. West, with only three spades in his hand, had ten cards in which to hold an assortment of hearts, diamonds and clubs.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. S.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. No, she still loves him. Otherwise she would not care enough to hate him that much. Her husband may be abused her so much she may make some effort after the divorce to get even. She may do things to embarrass him, but when she goes after "the other woman," you may be sure it is jealousy inspired by her continuing love. She would take him back in a minute if he would make the first gesture for them to get together again.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. No. Paul Witty, Northwestern University psychologist, studied 50 of the "graduates." Foutreen boys made straight A's in college, 10 B's, one C. Ten girls made straight A's, 14 B's and one C.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. No They read slowly chiefly because of bad mental habits. Psychologist C. O. Weber, Wells College, says that when a group of fast-talking, fast-thinking, poor-reading freshmen were given something to read, they slowed down to the ninth grade speed level. Prodding them to read faster for one hour a week for six weeks speeded up their reading and thinking. Our booklet, "How to Read Faster and Better" will help increase both your reading and thinking speed. Sent at cost, 15 cents (coin only,) plus self-addressed, stamped envelope.

A reception immediately following the ceremony was in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Cloud. The bride's table was overlaid with a lace cloth and centering the table was the tiered wedding confection. Mrs. Betty Stone and Mrs. Mary Stone, aunts of the bride, presided at the punch bowl.

Not Always Needed Percentage Play Is

By Oswald Jacoby
(Written For NEA Service)

"We have a problem as to the correct percentage play," writes a Dallas reader. "The argument developed as a result of this hand.

"West opened the ten of spades, dummy played the king, and East won with the ace. East led the queen of spades at the second trick, and South ruffed.

"South next laid down the king of hearts, and continued with the ten of hearts. West played a low trump both times, and South had to decide whether or not to finesse.

"As you can see, a finesse would have enabled him to make his contract. Actually South put up dummy's ace of hearts, thus losing his contract. He eventually had to give up a trump trick and two clubs.

"South claims he followed the rule that you finesse with eight trumps but not with nine trumps. North feels sure that the odds are in favor of a finesse through West, but cannot prove it. Who is correct?"

North is correct. When you have no information about the unseen cards, you follow the old rule that South quoted. The rule actually says "with eight over; with nine, never." It must be emphasized, however, that this old rule applies only when you have no information about the hands of the opponents.

In this case, however, South had heard East bid three spades in the face of strong bidding by North-South. Would East do so with two losing cards in the suit that had been bid against him? As any experienced bridge player knows, East would be much more likely to bid three spades if his hand contained only one heart then if his hand contained two hearts.

The bidding and West's choice of the opening lead indicated that East held at least seven spades. This alone would cause the odds to favor a finesse through West for the queen of hearts. With seven spades in his hand, East had only six cards in which to hold an assortment of hearts, diamonds and clubs. West, with only three spades in his hand, had ten cards in which to hold an assortment of hearts, diamonds and clubs.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

Answer to Question No. 1

1. No, she still loves him. Otherwise she would not care enough to hate him that much. Her husband may be abused her so much she may make some effort after the divorce to get even. She may do things to embarrass him, but when she goes after "the other woman," you may be sure it is jealousy inspired by her continuing love. She would take him back in a minute if he would make the first gesture for them to get together again.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. No. Paul Witty, Northwestern University psychologist, studied 50 of the "graduates." Foutreen boys made straight A's in college, 10 B's, one C. Ten girls made straight A's, 14 B's and one C.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. No They read slowly chiefly because of bad mental habits. Psychologist C. O. Weber, Wells College, says that when a group of fast-talking, fast-thinking, poor-reading freshmen were given something to read, they slowed down to the ninth grade speed level. Prodding them to read faster for one hour a week for six weeks speeded up their reading and thinking. Our booklet, "How to Read Faster and Better" will help increase both your reading and thinking speed. Sent at cost, 15 cents (coin only,) plus self-addressed, stamped envelope.

...Getting Along With People.... ...By Milton Wright, Noted ... ... ... ...Psychologist... ... ...

Do you really know yourself? You must—to master the art of getting along with people.

This booklet fully explains — Your seven basic emotions and how they affect getting along with people. It also tells the difference between introverts and extroverts and how to identify each.

Which are you? You can learn these important things about yourself by sending 15 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped (three cent) envelope to Dr. Wiggam, care of this newspaper. This is a non-profit service to readers. Just ask for Getting Along With People.

Miss Caroline Richard Is June Bride Of Ralph William Smith

Grace Episcopal Church Is Scene Of Impressive Double Ring Ceremony

Stock, gladioli, fever few and gleaming cathedral tapers made a bridal setting Monday at 5:30 in the evening at Grace Episcopal Church for the marriage of Miss Caroline Richard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Camp Richard, and Ralph William Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. French Lloyd Smith. Father David Jones, pastor, officiated in the impressive double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Hal Carter, organist, played several selections of prenuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Robert Wood as she sang "Oh Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches marked the beginning and end of the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a tea length gown of crisp imported organdy. It was fashioned with a tailored waist which was accented by a pointed collar and rhinestone buttons on the sleeves and down the front. It was joined to a full skirt trimmed in rows of tucks. She wore mitts of matching organdy, that stressed flared tops, and a finger tip veil of marquisette that was held to her hair by a double frill of the material. She carried a bouquet of valley lillies, white roses and stephanotis with cascade streamers of white satin ribbon.

Miss Marguerite Lamkin was maid of honor and Miss Carol Layton and Miss Carolyn Apperson were bridesmaids. Miss Lamkin was wearing a tea length white embroidered organdy over a pale pink taffeta slip with pink taffeta sash. Her crown hat was also of pink taffeta with white organdy ruffle and small pink bows. The bridesmaids were wearing tea length white embroidered dresses over blue taffeta slips and their sashes were fashioned of blue taffeta. Their hats were identical to that worn by the maid-of-honor. The attendants carried cascade bouquets of spring flowers of tulips, peonies, larkspurs and Marconi daisies.

Clarence D. Oakley, Jr. served the groom as best man. Groomsmen were James A. Noe, Jr., and Leon Fergus. Harold Woods, Jr. and Alden T. Shotwell, Jr. served as ushers.

Mrs. Richard, mother of the bride, chose a cocktail length dress of navy marquisette with flesh trim. She was wearing navy accessories and a pale pink hat with an orchard corsage pinned to her purse. Mrs. Smith was also wearing a cocktail length dress of pink with beige accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. John E. Garner, the bride's grandmother, was wearing a navy blue and white sheer dress and a corsage of white glamelias.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. Centering the cut-work lace covered bride's table was a lovely arrangement of gardenias and fever few. At one end was the tiered wedding confection surrounded by gardenias and at the other was the punch bowl.

For her wedding trip to Mexico, the bride wore a navy and white linen two - piece dress, white and blue straw hat, with other accessories of white.

The bride is a graduate of Ward-Belmont Junior College and the University of Tennessee where she received her Bachelor of Science degree. She is a member of Tri Delta sorority and Pi Omega Pi honorary fraternity.

The groom attended Tulane University and was graduated from Louisiana State University, receiving his Bachelor of Arts degree.

Off to Camp Walker

FERRIDAY, La., June17.—(Special)—Eleven 4-H Club girls from Concordia parish left Monday to attend Camp Grant Walker, according to Miss Inez Calloway, home demonstration agent. Mrs. Pearl Brooks of Clayton is chaperoning the group.

The girls arrived at camp at noon, and after making initial preparations were divided into Indian tribes with a chief and a squaw chosen. Five parishes are represented at the camp including Concordia, Catahoula, Tensas, Rapides and Avoyelles.

On the second day clases and camp activities were held including games, handicraft and swimming. Girls attending from Concordia parish are: Jeel Lazurus, Earline Dollar, Udel Dollar, Sue Morris, Laverne McNeely, Sadie Lou Green, Ada Brasher, Jeanie Crisp, Lily Marie Walman, Judy Mathews and Corinne Ohlson.

MORE OIL OUTPUT IS GOOD WEAPON

66,706-Barrel Daily Increase In State's Production Is Okayed

By Max B. Skelton

A 66,706-barrel daily increase in the state's July production has been authorized.

This comes on the heels of the 130,000-barrel daily June hike. The June increase was made the day a parade of importing company executives told the state's oil and gas regulatory body imports are not harming the domestic industry.

Most crude purchasers were happy with the June increase but they were not in complete agreement over the necessity of more oil next month.

But Ernest O. Thompson, senior member of the Texas railroad commission, told the Thursday statewide proration hearing:

". . .We're objecting to imports and if we do not allow enough to be produced to meet market demand then we are criticized."

The new hike will bring the state's daily permissable crude flow to 2,445,935 barrels, compared to 1,890,000 last July.

Thompson thinks crude stocks might be getting a bit low. Later in the year, he reasoned, it would be better to cut production than to have a shortage facing the industry.

Thompson and other members of the commission previously had indicated they are tired of having to see Texas production held back while imports remain at high levels.

In recent weeks opponents of heavy imports have become less optimistic over the chances of congress, at least this year, approving limitation legislation.

The June 5 supreme court ruling on the Texas-Louisiana tidelands control suits somewhat sidetracked a heavy Washington interest in the imports squabble.

Advocates of state ownership of the tidelands have been mobilizing their forces the past two weeks in hopes of pushing through a bill this year.

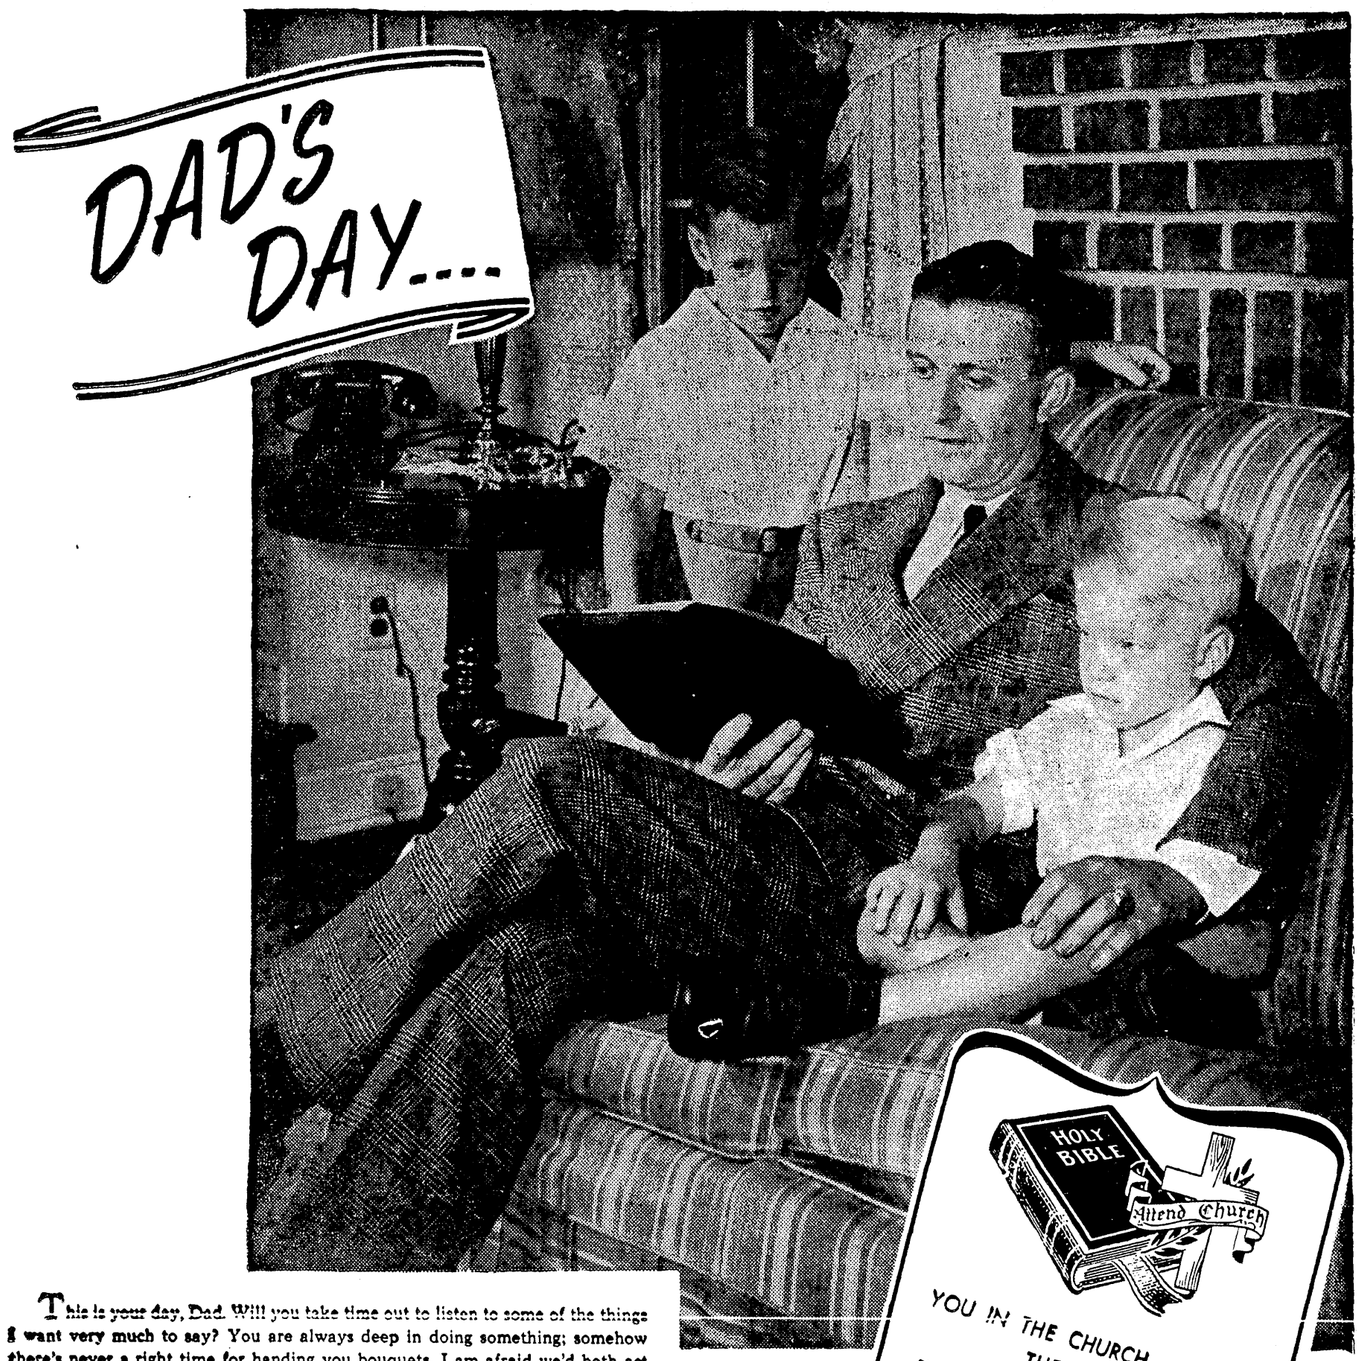
ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE TODAY AND EVERY SUNDAY



This is your day, Dad. Will you take time out to listen to some of the things I want very much to say? You are always deep in doing something; somehow there's never a right time for handing you bouquets. I am afraid we'd both act foolish if I tried to tell you, face to face, out loud, fancy words of gratitude and praise. Even on paper I can't use sticky adjectives for you, Dad... that's not your dish. Orchids, adjectives... Mother loves them, God bless her!... but for you, Dad, I'll put it to you straight: YOU ARE AN OK GUY, THROUGH AND THROUGH.

I am beginning to see what it takes to hold up your end of the plank, Dad ... to keep plugging along, day, after day, facing the same old grind, taking the licks from a crabbed public, juggling living expenses, figuring what's best to do now and planning for a family's future. STAMINA, DAD, FORTITUDE; THOSE ARE WORDS FOR YOU.

I am beginning to notice that it is a long time between shoes with you, Dad, that you postpone buying a new hat, that you manage to make one suit serve for several, that you don't buy yourself books any more. You don't look as slick as you used to. The rent is never overdue. There are no collectors banging our door. There's always good food on the table. Mother belongs to clubs and wears pretty clothes. Sister and Brother and I have everything we need... without a hitch; we haven't known any money shortage. You fight that battle for us, Dad, without one word of complaint. That's LIVING LOVE, UNSELFISHNESS.

There's something else I've learned: All Dads are not like you, and I am glad you are mine. I visit some friends and see their Dads drinking; I hear them cursing and swearing, and squabbling over money. It means a great deal to me, Dad, that I had to leave home to find that ugliness. CLEAN, DAD, THAT'S ANOTHER WORD FOR YOU... AND FINE. Thank you, Dad; my heritage is rich.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST
224 Auburn Ave.

"Is the Universe, Inlcuding Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, June 18, 1950.
The Golden Text is: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. . . . All things were made by him; and without him was not anything made that was made." (John 1:1, 3).
Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Then Job answered the Lord, and said, I know that thou canst do every thing, and that no thought can be withholden from thee" (Job 42:1, 2).
The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spirit is the life, substance, and continuity of all things" (p. 124).
Listen in on a 15 minute radio broadcast Sunday at 9:30 a.m. over radio station KNOE.
Sunday School at 9:30 a.m.
Sunday service at 11:00 a.m.
Wednesday service at 8:00 p.m.

Worship at 7:30 p.m. This will be the third in the present series of union services held in cooperation with the First Presbyterian Church. The service will be held in our church, with Dr. Ernest D. Holloway bringing the message on "I Believe in Jesus."
Mid-week meeting, Wednesday, at 7:30 p.m.

THE PRESBYTERIAN OF MONROE
Grammont at Catalpa

Ernest Duncan Holloway, Minister.
The attendances are satisfactory for the summer. If you will sit in with us the attendances for the worship and organization gatherings will even be larger. Our Lord knows best, and because of His affection for us, He wills that we worship even in the heat of summer.
"Worship, A Necessity" is the theme of the morning hour of worship. Can a man retain his strength of mind and body if he neglects the laws of health, the eating of nourishing foods? Can a man maintain the spiritual glow and absent himself from the place of worship?
"I Believe in Jesus Christ" is the subject of the evening message. The Disciples, the members of the First Christian Church, and the Presbyterians will worship together. The worship will be held in the First Christian Church sanctuary. The hour is seven thirty. The Presbyterian pastor is the preacher.
A hearty welcome awaits you at all hours of worship.

PROPOSAL WOULD HURT MERCHANTS

Local Merchants Say Passage Of Bill Would Result In Financial Loss

The passage of Senate Bill 63 (the anti-monopoly bill) will result in an almost unlimited financial loss to local merchants, it was pointed out yesterday in a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Legislative Committee. The bill would outlaw all exclusive distributorship agreements between manufacturers and retailers, and would enable every merchant to carry all nationally advertised articles presently handled by his competitors.
Under its provisions, a merchant would no longer enjoy the exclusive right to handle a given product in his locality, and any contract he might have with the manufacturer would be immediately nullified by the passage of S. B. 63. All his efforts and money, spent over the years in developing a good market for the product in his area, would have been lost.
Because they feel that the serlousness of the bill is being underestimated by local businessmen, a group of Monroe merchants yesterday requested a special meeting of the Legislative Committee, to be held Monday, June 19, in the Chamber of Commerce office, at 10 a.m. All Twin City businessmen who have exclusive territorial agreements for the products they handle are urged to attend the meeting to discuss the bill, and learn how vitally it concerns them.
S. B. 63 will be given a public hearing Tuesday, June 20, at 3:00 p.m. before the House Judiciary "C" Committee, and it is planned to have a delegation from the Twin Cities present to voice their opinions on the bill.

Early Passion Plays were so realistic, says the National Geographic Society, that in 1437 a Lorraine priest playing the role of Christ hung on a cross until near death.

Jealous Wives

Ex-Office Worker Claims Suspicions Unnecessary

DEAR MISS DIX: I notice in your column an ex-businesswoman says that her experience in an office had made her distrustful of men and therefore jealous of her husband. I am an ex-business woman also, but my experience impressed upon me that where there is one frisky boss there are ten bosses who employ women for their efficiency alone. That where there is one girl making eyes at her employer there are dozens to whom the boss is tolerated merely because he represents the weekly pay check. Twice I was the victim of wives' suspicion and in both cases I was merely trying to help the men to make more money for their wives. If there is one thing that I learned while working it is not to beware of men, but to beware of their wives.

MRS. J. O. E.

DOROTHY DIX

ANSWER: This fine and wise letter reaches to the very heart of one of the greatest problems in modern married life. For the great majority of business men are compelled to employ attractive women in their offices, and the great majority of wives are eaten up with jealousy.

HAVE FALSE PICTURE

Why women are so much more jealous of their husbands' feminine employes than they are of any other women, nobody knows, but they are. They seem to feel that a business office offers a seductive environment that leads even the most prosaic and devoted middle-aged husband into philandering. This is, of course, far enough from being the truth. The business office is a workshop and a man's thoughts during business hours are not of romance, but of finance.

The average boss looks upon the women in his office as just so many cogs in the wheels of the business. He isn't interested in them personally, but only in their efficiency. And the average girl employe in her soul thanks God she is not her boss' wife and that she doesn't have to stand his whims and his crochets except during business hours.

So the jealous wife had as well wipe her tears away and look at the matter rationally. The world is full of women, and if a man is a wanderer by nature he will always find some one to philander with. And a husband who has to be watched isn't worth the trouble.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a schoolteacher about to be married and I have saved up about $2000. My girl friend and I have had an argument about whether I should help in purchasing the furniture for our new home. I claim that it is up to the man to furnish the apartment, as he has steady work and the means to do it, but this would take all his savings. My girl friend claims that marriage is a fifty-fifty proposition, and that I should do my part. What do you think?

R. T. S.

ANSWER: The accepted custom is for the man to pay for the furniture and for the bride to provide all of the linens for the new home. In your particular case, as the man hasn't much money, you might supplement this by paying for the rugs, or some particular pieces of furniture that you especially desire.

But no man ever appreciates the humiliation it causes a woman never to have a cent of her own, nor the joy she gets out of even a little financial independence. So for this reason I think that the woman who has any money of her own does well to keep it in a separate account from her husband's.

She can help him with it if the need arises, and there are mighty few women whose money does not really, after all, go to the general support of the family, but she just gets a kick out of having her own investment, her own little interest coming in, and even in the knowledge that she can give her husband a present without his having to pay for it.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a happy married woman with two lovely babies, a wonderful husband and a nice home. My husband is of a very affectionate nature and very demonstrative and, thinks I don't care for him because I cannot show my love for him. Do you think if I refused to let him kiss me and pet me that he will find somebody who will?

ANNIE

ANSWER: Absolutely. It is a pity when men and women of different temperaments marry, because it brings happiness to neither.

Most divorces are the result of husbands and wives seeking abroad the affection they were denied at home.

DOROTHY DIX cannot reply personally to readers, but will answer problems of general interest through her column. However, in answer to queries on this subject, she has written leaflet D-1, "Broken Engagements." To obtain a copy, send 5 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Miss Dix, c/o this newspaper, P. O. Box 98, Times Square Station, New York 18, N. Y.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST
224 Auburn Ave.

"Is the Universe, Inlcuding Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, June 18, 1950.
The Golden Text is: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. . . . All things were made by him; and without him was not anything made that was made." (John 1:1, 3).
Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Then Job answered the Lord, and said, I know that thou canst do every thing, and that no thought can be withholden from thee" (Job 42:1, 2).
The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spirit is the life, substance, and continuity of all things" (p. 124).
Listen in on a 15 minute radio broadcast Sunday at 9:30 a.m. over radio station KNOE.
Sunday School at 9:30 a.m.
Sunday service at 11:00 a.m.
Wednesday service at 8:00 p.m.

Mr. Wooten will sing a solo appropriate to the occasion.
Christian Youth Fellowship at 5:p.m.
Worship at 7:30 p.m. This will be the third in the present series of union services held in cooperation with the First Presbyterian Church. The service will be held in our church, with Dr. Ernest D. Holloway bringing the message on "I Believe in Jesus."
Mid-week meeting, Wednesday, at 7:30 p.m.

THE PRESBYTERIAN OF MONROE
Grammont at Catalpa

Ernest Duncan Holloway, Minister.
The attendances are satisfactory for the summer. If you will sit in with us the attendances for the worship and organization gatherings will even be larger. Our Lord knows best, and because of His affection for us, He wills that we worship even in the heat of summer.
"Worship, A Necessity" is the theme of the morning hour of worship. Can a man retain his strength of mind and body if he neglects the laws of health, the eating of nourishing foods? Can a man maintain the spiritual glow and absent himself from the place of worship?
"I Believe in Jesus Christ" is the subject of the evening message. The Disciples, the members of the First Christian Church, and the Presbyterians will worship together. The worship will be held in the First Christian Church sanctuary. The hour is seven thirty. The Presbyterian pastor is the preacher.
A hearty welcome awaits you at all hours of worship.

Local Merchants Say Passage Of Bill Would Result In Financial Loss

The passage of Senate Bill 63 (the anti-monopoly bill) will result in an almost unlimited financial loss to local merchants, it was pointed out yesterday in a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Legislative Committee. The bill would outlaw all exclusive distributorship agreements between manufacturers and retailers, and would enable every merchant to carry all nationally advertised articles presently handled by his competitors.
Under its provisions, a merchant would no longer enjoy the exclusive right to handle a given product in his locality, and any contract he might have with the manufacturer would be immediately nullified by the passage of S. B. 63. All his efforts and money, spent over the years in developing a good market for the product in his area, would have been lost.
Because they feel that the seriousness of the bill is being underestimated by local businessmen, a group of Monroe merchants yesterday requested a special meeting of the Legislative Committee, to be held Monday, June 19, in the Chamber of Commerce office, at 10 a.m. All Twin City businessmen who have exclusive territorial agreements for the products they handle are urged to attend the meeting to discuss the bill, and learn how vitally it concerns them.
S. B. 63 will be given a public hearing Tuesday, June 20, at 3:00 p.m. before the House Judiciary "C" Committee, and it is planned to have a delegation from the Twin Cities present to voice their opinions on the bill.

Early Passion Plays were so realistic, says the National Geographic Society, that in 1437 a Lorraine priest playing the role of Christ hung on a cross until near death.

Jealous Wives

Ex-Office Worker Claims Suspicions Unnecessary

DEAR MISS DIX: I notice in your column an ex-businesswoman says that her experience in an office had made her distrustful of men and therefore jealous of her husband. I am an ex-business woman also, but my experience impressed upon me that where there is one frisky boss there are ten bosses who employ women for their efficiency alone. That where there is one girl making eyes at her employer there are dozens to whom the boss is tolerated merely because he represents the weekly pay check. Twice I was the victim of wives' suspicion and in both cases I was merely trying to help the men to make more money for their wives. If there is one thing that I learned while working it is not to beware of men, but to beware of their wives.

MRS. J. O. E.

DOROTHY DIX

ANSWER: This fine and wise letter reaches to the very heart of one of the greatest problems in modern married life. For the great majority of business men are compelled to employ attractive women in their offices, and the great majority of wives are eaten up with jealousy.

HAVE FALSE PICTURE

Why women are so much more jealous of their husbands' feminine employes than they are of any other women, nobody knows, but they are. They seem to feel that a business office offers a seductive environment that leads even the most prosaic and devoted middle-aged husband into philandering. This is, of course, far enough from being the truth. The business office is a workshop and a man's thoughts during business hours are not of romance, but of finance.

The average boss looks upon the women in his office as just so many cogs in the wheels of the business. He isn't interested in them personally, but only in their efficiency. And the average girl employe in her soul thanks God she is not her boss' wife and that she doesn't have to stand his whims and his crochets except during business hours.

So the jealous wife had as well wipe her tears away and look at the matter rationally. The world is full of women, and if a man is a wanderer by nature he will always find some one to philander with. And a husband who has to be watched isn't worth the trouble.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a schoolteacher about to be married and I have saved up about $2000. My girl friend and I have had an argument about whether I should help in purchasing the furniture for our new home. I claim that it is up to the man to furnish the apartment, as he has steady work and the means to do it, but this would take all his savings. My girl friend claims that marriage is a fifty-fifty proposition, and that I should do my part. What do you think?

R. T. S.

ANSWER: The accepted custom is for the man to pay for the furniture and for the bride to provide all of the linens for the new home. In your particular case, as the man hasn't much money, you might supplement this by paying for the rugs, or some particular pieces of furniture that you especially desire.

But no man ever appreciates the humiliation it causes a woman never to have a cent of her own, nor the joy she gets out of even a little financial independence. So for this reason I think that the woman who has any money of her own does well to keep it in a separate account from her husband's.

She can help him with it if the need arises, and there are mighty few women whose money does not really, after all, go to the general support of the family, but she just gets a kick out of having her own investment, her own little interest coming in, and even in the knowledge that she can give her husband a present without his having to pay for it.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a happy married woman with two lovely babies, a wonderful husband and a nice home. My husband is of a very affectionate nature and very demonstrative and, thinks I don't care for him because I cannot show my love for him. Do you think if I refused to let him kiss me and pet me that he will find somebody who will?

ANNIE

ANSWER: Absolutely. It is a pity when men and women of different temperaments marry, because it brings happiness to neither.

Most divorces are the result of husbands and wives seeking abroad the affection they were denied at home.

DOROTHY DIX cannot reply personally to readers, but will answer problems of general interest through her column. However, in answer to queries on this subject, she has written leaflet D-1, "Broken Engagements." ## Clinging Vines Pine To Twine—Insurance Against Intrusion

By Cynthia Lowry

Where there's a house and grounds there's usually a problem of privacy, or of shade, or of covering up which can best be handled by a member of the vine family.

It's a big family, ranging from rose to wisteria, including annuals and perennials, plants which appreciate sun, shade, rich soil and lean soil. It would be futile to try to do more than introduce a few common, useful and beautifying vines and urge further research in catalogues and conversation.

All vines, whether grown from seeds, bulbs or cuttings have a common quality: They need something to grow on. It can be a string, a pole, a trellis, a wall, a tree or a bank.

Vines Pine To Twine

There's a vine to suit one's needs, and it's up to the gardener to find it. Any of the vines which will streak up a string can be used for a quick screen. There's the fabulous kudzu vine, for example. It can shoot up beyond a second story window in a single growing season if given sturdy support. Dutchmen's pipes will provide a thick, leafy porch screen which defies peepers—and a charming little flower thrown in as a bonus. But if a nose-count were made, probably the most popular vine of them all is the long-time favorite, morning glories, and of these, the Heavenly Blue is best known and loved.

There's the handy, fast-growing splash of color whether coiling up a backyard post, along a clothesline or snaking up on runner in front of the porch. And there's that first cousin of the morning glory, wraithlike and visable in the nightime, the moon flower.

If a vine cover is needed, not even poor soil need be a deterrent. The climbing nasturtium, like it's low growing sister, thrives on a lean mixture and balks on a rich diet.

To Speed Results

In the case of the perennials, growth is usually slower than among the annuals, so it's frequently a good idea to fill in with a quick annual vine while the perennial is taking it's time nearby.

The bittersweet, with it's handsome orange and red fall barries, is among the most popular perennial vines, and also provides a rich, deep-green leaf during the summer. But be careful about letting it climb up a leader pipe for it can bend it and warp it. And if it's berries you want, a plant bearing staminate flowers must be near enough to one with pistillate blooms to permit cross, pollination. Otherwise one must be content with just leaves.

The ivies, of course, are most useful, although only Boston ivy is able to climb smooth stone and brick without an assist of some sort.

Wistaria is a popular plant and tempermental as they come. When one refuses to bloom, about the only recourse is to give it a solid shock with severe pruning of the vine and maybe—as a last resort—a root pruning.

Clematis Is A Favorite

Clematis, another favorite, is handy, provides many varieties and colors, and are hearty eaters. It does best with a light mulch of manure during the summer and a heavier mulch of the same for wintering. Some types will flower as early as May, while the purple Jackmanni comes along in midsummer and the white flowered paniculata blooms in September.

And of course, when what's needed is a ground cover which will also hold the soil, honeysuckle is perfect. But it is aggressive and will take over as much growing space as you'll let it, and choke the life out of anything around it.

MONROE POLICE VOLUNTEER AS BLOOD DONORS

Six Monroe policemen were photographed at the Ouachita Parish Health Center Wednesday donating blood which was sent to New Orleans as replacements for transfusions given Mrs. Vyvian Harper, wife of Monroe's city judge. Officer L. P. Smith, who donates blood every three months, is being prepared to give blood by Mrs. Elsie W. Ardoin, registered nurse. Other officers watching the procedure are: left to right, M. L. Spangler; E. D. Otwell; R. D. Herbert; Dr. W. Carroll Summer, director of the health unit; M. E. Whittington; C. H. "Chuck" Standard. (Staff Photo by L. C. Noland, Jr.)

Police Donate Blood To Mrs. W. M. Harper

After learning that Mrs. Vyvian Harper, wife of City Judge W. M. Harper had recently undergone a major operation in New Orleans and required eight blood transfusions, six policemen reported of their own accord to the Ouachita Blood Bank where each donated a pint of blood.

Blood Replaced

For Smith, a regular blood donor, it was no new experience, but for several of the officers, it was their first visit to the blood bank.

It was through a special arrangement with Dr. Julius W. Davenport, Jr., pathologist and director of the Southern Baptist Hospital blood bank, that the replacements were made. By his cooperation the transfer was possible.

Dr. Davenport provided a container in which Judge Harper carried the blood under refrigeration to New Orleans. Both Judge Harper and his daughter, Miss Billie Harper, donated blood in New Orleans.

Mrs. Harper was reported recovering steadily last week and hopes to return to Monroe in a week or so. She is being treated at the Southern Baptist Hospital in New Orleans.

Blood Bank

He asserted that his first introduction in blood bank work was when a relative, Mrs. Harper's sister needed blood. This time the need was closer home, he said.

Monroe's blood bank, located in the Ouachita Parish Health Center is under the direction of Dr. W. Carroll Summer, head of the local health unit. It was pointed out that Dr. Summer is on hand to render aid to all donors. The operation of the blood bank is under his constant personal supervision. Mrs. Elsie W. Ardoin, registered nurse, assists Dr. Summer.

Housemother Is Sory Gal At 83

By Jack Harr

Beloit, Wis.—(NEA)—The sweetheart of Beta Theta Pi Fraternity at Beloit College is a housemother the members claim is the oldest in the nation in age and in point of service.

She's Mrs. Minnie Raymond, 83, who had coddled, guided, advised and been parent-by-proxy for two generations of Beta men in the past 39 years.

A leader since 1911 among the women who make their living by being parents-away-from-home for college students, she loves her work and is still going strong. Her philosopy: "If it's no trouble for a good woman to run one man, then it's no trouble for me to run 50 men!"

Mrs. Raymond took has position when her husband was forced to quit work because of tuberculosis. At first she did all the cooking and mending for the men, but now she acts as hostess and housemother only.

In recent years, many sons of men she guided 25 to 30 years before have passed under her care.

At present there are three men in the Beta Chapter at Beloit whose fathers knew Mrs. Raymond years ago.

Comparing the generations, she thinks the college student of today is fundamentally the same as the college student of 39 years ago. "Society has changed, but not the boys with their individual problems and goals," she says.

Bible Taught With Puppets

(AP Newsfeatures)

NEW YORK—The Prostestant radio commission is going to teach the Bible on television, using puppets as actors.

Although the films can be used by black and white sets, they are filmed in color, looking forward to its use in TV. They can also be used by church groups.

The Rev. Everett C. Parker, commission director, said the Bible films had been checked for authentic background and "artifacts" and had been approved by the various denominations represented on the commission.

"The action has been slowed down deliberately," Parker explained, "so that children will be sure to catch all the meaning. So maybe adults will understand it, too."

He added that the puppet strings were made visible deliberately "because children—the most sophisticated audience in the world—love to see the strings; we think adults would rather have them visible."

The commission currently is undecided about its distribution method. It will probably release them through local church councils.

Parker said there is also a possibility that they may permit commercial sponsorship.

The finished film was actually shot as an "audition" film in 48 hours, he said. Three others are now in production and a total of six will be finished by fall. It is expected the series will be expanded to 52.

The magnolia tree was named in honor of Pierre Magnol, a French botanist of the 17th century.

New Fabric Will Be Used In Fall Coats

By NEA SERVICE

NEW YORK —(NEA)— A little more than a year ago, a silvery fabric that promises to spell a revolution in how you dress for winter was just an experiment in a converted stable near Cleveland.

Today that cloth is rolling from a new windowless textile plant in South Carolina on its way to the fall clothing trade. It will reach consumers first in the linings of coats and jackets for men, women and children. Eventually, it may make heavy coats and blankets as out-dated as red flannels.

The new garments, manufacturers predict, will be the warmest ever made of their types and weights.

One famous maker of sportswear will use the fabric in a jacket for golfers who like to keep playing in all sorts of winter weather. A women's coat maker will promote the cloth as the way to let women be "warm and slender at the same time." Other manufacturers will add the cloth as linings to existing garments and offer them as super-warm coats for use in unusually severe winter areas.

The revolutionary fabric is "Milium," and its secret is a metallic finish applied to one side of the cloth by spraying the fibers with fine particles of metals. Without changing the porosity of the fabric treated, the metal reflects back to the body a large part of the heat radiated by it.

Any metal that flakes, including gold and silver, can be used, but aluminum appears to be the most practical. It is the aluminum that gives the cloth the silvery appearance.

Rayon satins twills and crepes used for coat linings are the fabrics being processed initially. But the new finish can be applied to any ordinary natural or synthetic fiber including wool, cotton, nylon and the newly developed orlon.

First work on Milium was done Cleveland scientist who earlier developed an electric razor, an improved electric washing machine and several medical devices.

by James H. Rand, III, a young

When a clothing manufacturer wanted to explore the possibility of an overcoat electrically heated like an electric blanket ,he went to Rand. Because of the weight of batteries required, this idea was impractical, so Rand turned to reflection of the body's own heat. The metallic cloth was the the answer.

Paradoxically, he also found that the same treated cloth which warmed a person in winter could also keep him comfortable in summer by reflecting away the heat of the sun. In effect, clothing could be made to act as a thermos bottle.

One of the nation's oldest textile companies financed completion of the research and several thousand tests at a "cold" room in Cleveland, at the U. S. Testing Co. laboratories in Hoboken, N. J., and elsewhere before starting processing of fabrics at a new plnat.

In one of the more startling tests, it was found that a thin nylon seersucker coverlet treated by the new process and a sheet proved warmer on a bed than a blanket 10 times as thick. Treated draperies gave promise of helping keep homes warm in the winter and cool in the summer.

A valuable immediate application is expected to be in children's snow suits and similar garments. Observations at Sun Valley, Ida., and Cleveland last spring indicate that children are less inclined to perspire excessively and to throw off Milium-lined coats than those wearing heavier outer-wear.

Milium lining will add a few dollars to the retail prices of garments. While coat linings probably will utilize all Milium until plant additions are completed and other processors are licensed, many other applications are in prospect.

Military authorities are interested in the fabric as a possible lining for sleeping bags and for high altitude and cold weather suits. Several manufacturers are eager to use it in the bedding and drapery fields. Even applications in awnings and automobile tops are being discussed.

Roses Are Grown Fast And Simply

By Cynthia Lowry
(AP Newsfeatures)

Roses are flowers which most people like to smell, some gardeners like to grow and all Japanese beetles like to eat.

There are several types of roses. Hybrid tea roses are little bushes, most often seen in formal rose gardens. These are mostly named arvarieties and produce magnificent flowers of hues from white through yellows, pinks to deep red. And they take more of the gardener's time and attention than the others.

There are rambling roses, splashes of beauty when they sprawl over a bank or wander along a country fence. Then there are climbing roses, balancing on trellises, or a doorway. Shrub roses are—as the name implies—roses that grow on shrubs and the flowers are beautiful. The newest member of the rose family is the Floribunda, a tought little plant which produces flowers in clusters.

Most Roses Just Grow

With the exception of the hybrid teas, roses don't take much time or attention. They are hearty eaters, and practically all of them require liberal doses of rich fertilizer—manure or balanced commercial fertilizers. Climbers and ramblers require a certain amount of judicious pruning—best done in the late fall to prevent their being whipped by winter winds. In some of the climbing arietles it is best to release them from their bindings and bury the can so that they can winter without loss.

In the case of rose standards, or rose trees, it is mandatory to winter the plants by trenching on one side, and dropping the plant into the trench, covering with a thick blanket of straw.

The hybrids—tea roses or the older perpetuals—require the lion's share of the gardener's rose time. In the first place they like and almost require beds all their own. The most one can do is border the rose garden with some inoffensive, undemanding plant.

How To Transplant

In preparing the soil to receive hybrids, whether it be spring or fall, one should take particular pains to provide them with the kind of home they like. (If they arrive from the nursery at a time when it's impossible to plant them immediately, the plants should be taken from the package and kept in a pail of water to prevent roots from drying out.)

CHILDREN LEARN TO TALK

Children With 'Cripple-Tongue' Learn To Talk

By Frank K. Tiffany

WICHITA, Kas.—It looks like a housing development—neat and new—but it's a $2,000,000 children's village dedicated to boys and girls "tragically crippled in the tongue."

Through speech they'll have access to normal life—and a chance to earn their way.

Aphasia—caused by brain injury; stuttering — which automatically lowers earning power 35 per cent; cerebral palsy—requiring much physical therapy; these are the speech foes they're combating.

In many cases learning to speak requires extensive retraining of brain paths and muscles, harmed by disease or deficient at birth.

An Expensive Non-Profit Project

This speech-training is expensive—but in its new center here on what was once a 40-acre corn field, the non-profit Institute of Logopedics, Inc., confidently tackles the challenge.

The institute's not alone in the field. But as Dr. Martin F. Palmer, its director, puts it—"If the children in the United States who cannot talk or hear all lived in one place, it would take a large city to house them. There are at least 2,000,000 U. S. children seriously handicapped by speech difficulties."

The American Speech and Hearing Association—of which Dr. Palmer is a director and past president—estimates the nation needs 20,000 trained logopedists, yet has less than 1,000 with adequate training.

His Wife Is a Co-Worker

They set to work determinedly on a triple-fold task—to train speech-handicapped youngsters to use the words you and I take as a matter of course; to train others to teach such children; and to round up the funds constantly necessary to defray the cost.

Gradually they built up a loyal, hard-working staff. It now numbers slightly over 100. Quarters near Wichita's municipal university—with which the institute works in its logopedist-training program—were occupied, remodeled, outgrown.

The institute—and affiliated clinics in a dozen other cities—already have given speech-corrective training to more than 10,000 young "grads.' Those clinics — often staffed or supervised by institute trained workers—are at Cockeysville, Md., Bedford, N. Y., Bartlesville, Okla., and at McPherson, Hays, Garden City, Kansas City, Lawrence, Topeka, Emporia, Manhattan and Pittsburg, in Kansas.

Children Have Housemothers

Children here live three in an apartment, with a housemother—often the mother of one of the children, helping thus to pay for her own child's training.

Operating without profit—training many children whose parents can pay only a small part of the cost—the institute leans heavily on endowments, large and small. Dr. Palmer says it's operating now on a $500,000 annual budget. He adds:

"It would take $1,500,000 yearly to run at full capacity. We could train 560 youngsters a year compared with the 267 now being trained—could be teaching 300 logopedists, instead of 50, to train thousands more children here and elsewhere."

Some 200 midwest subcontractors and dealers endowed the institute in building its new center—contributing materials and fees. Included was the fee of the Wichitan who negotiated the $1,500,000 construction loan from an eastern insurance company.

GI BUILDS OWN CAR

Fifty miles on a gallon is the first claim of Air Force veteran Glen R. Forwalt, 33, of Lancaster, Pa., for the three-wheel automobile he built for $210. He fashioned the small two-passenger car in his bicycle shop. Powered with a six-and-a-half horsepower engine, the car goes 40 miles an hour without any difficulty, Forwalt says.

"Built right out of my own head without any blueprints," the maker explains. He hopes to duplicate it for sale with a price tag of about $495.

The car has two forward speeds, but no reverse. It is light enough to be pushed backward when a reverse is needed. It is started with a kick pedal behind the front seat.

Overall length is seven feet; height 32 inches; width in front four feet, tapering to 23 inches in the rear.

Awards Presented To Winners Of Monroe-Ingolstadt Contest

By Percy Fant
(Of The Morning World Staff)

Four young Germans in bomb-torn Ingolstadt, Germany were recently presented with cash prizes for their winning letters in the Monroe-Ingolstadt International letter-writing contest.

The awards, in the form of four separate checks mailed from Monroe, were presented to the four by Camillo Noel, city editor of the Donau Kurier, of Ingolstadt.

Presentation of the checks climaxed a five-month competitive experiment sponsored by the Monroe Morning World, supported by the Donau Kurier and given widespread publicity throughout West Germany. The first of its kind, the contest was designed to create goodwill between the United States and Germany, especially between residents of Ingolstadt and Monroe.

R. C. White, Jr., proclaimed Young Man of the Twin Cities in 1949 and a state representative for Ouachita parish, was originator of the idea.

The contest, which was limited to those German residents of Ingolstadt below the age of 21, called for the writing of letters explaining why the writer would like to visit Monroe, U. S. A.

A first and second place winner was chosen by the reasons they gave for wanting to come to Monroe. They are Karl Steber, given first place honors, and Hans David, second place winner.

Since many of the letters (nearly eleven hundred) were illustrated with drawings and colors, judges of the contest felt that first and second place prizes should be awarded the two best-illustrated letters.

They gave the first place "illustration" prize to Hildegard Kuenzel, and second place prize to Marianne Neidhardt.

As for the extent of the success of the contest, Editor Noel best explains it in a recent letter which read, in part:

" . . . I still think that the idea of the contest was a wonderful thing, and I gladly admit that I learned a good lesson on how to create international understanding in a good and pleasant way.

The Winners

Karl Steber, who wrote the best letter to Monroe, is a quiet and steady boy of middle size. He was born on January 7, 1930 as the second son of a locksmith at Ingolstadt. He entered high school in 1941 and will finish it this year. Apparently he is not very fond of sport activities, but prefers to learn languages and to solve mathematical problems. His favorite wish is to study at a university. But, as he states, he will probably have to give it up because his parents have not enough money. He is a type boy you find not too seldom in Germany, the type that will turn out later as a specialist in some scientific field. If he cannot finish his study at a university he surely will hang on his intentions and work for himself. Typical of his attitude toward life is what he said, when asked what he is going to do with the prize money he won: "I shall buy some books to study."

Hans David: a refugee from Czechoslovakia, is quite different from Karl. He is the son of a bookkeeper and was born on Feb. 26, 1930. He has two elder sisters and lives with the whole family.

His life has not always been an easy one, but out of his nature, he is gay and likes to laugh. In 1945, when the Russians entered his country, he was drafted by the German army at the age of 15, handed a gun and sent to the front. But before there was any fight, he was captured by the Russians and locked up in a prison camp. Since he did not like it, he was very soon going AWOL just to be recaptured already the next day. After that he was put on work in a mine for nearly a year and then finally released. He found his whole family alright at Troppau, but two days later all of them were expelled from the country. So in 1946, he landed at Ingolstadt, entered high school and will finish this year His hobbies are sports and to be outside.

Hildegard Kuenzel: From the two girls, who made the best illustrations, the first one is Hildegard Kuenzel, a small and pretty girl that's very swift and lively. Born on Sept. 26, 1933 at Ingolstadt, she has two elder brothers ,with whom she likes to "fight for fun." At the present time she attends a high school for girls who wish to become teachers. She likes to go to school, but freely criticizes her teachers who want her to sit quiet the whole day. On July 8, 1949, her father died. Her mother took a job to earn money and the small girl handles the household. The evenings are left for learning. Her hobbies are to play piano or chess or to have some sporting activity. Her favorite wish for the future is to travel around the globe. As a greeting to Monroe she said:

"And before I let the fullstop fall, my town and I, we greet you all."

Marianne Neihardt: In the same school as Hildegard Kuenzel is the second girl winner, Marianne Neidhardt. She was born Feb. 2, 1930 at the little town of Beilngries, approximately 20 miles north of Ingolstadt. She is tall, quiet with a heavy body and broad face. Her favorite occupancy is either to learn something or to sit still and to dream a little. Her only wish is to become a teacher. In her sparetime she likes to play music, to draw or paint small pictures, to have some fun with sport or to read books. Her parents are still alive and she lives along with the family. She is the type that once will become a good housewife and mother, but always will be interested in public problems as far as children are concerned.

Clinging Vines Pine To Twine—Insurance Against Intrusion

By Cynthia Lowry

Where there's a house and grounds there's usually a problem of privacy, or of shade, or of covering up which can best be handled by a member of the vine family.

It's a big family, ranging from rose to wisteria, including annuals and perennials, plants which appreciate sun, shade, rich soil and lean soil. It would be futile to try to do more than introduce a few common, useful and beautifying vines and urge further research in catalogues and conversation.

All vines, whether grown from seeds, bulbs or cuttings have a common quality: They need something to grow on. It can be a string, a pole, a trellis, a wall, a tree or a bank.

Vines Pine To Twine

There's a vine to suit one's needs, and it's up to the gardener to find it. Any of the vines which will streak up a string can be used for a quick screen. There's the fabulous kudzu vine, for example. It can shoot up beyond a second story window in a single growing season if given sturdy support. Dutchmen's pipes will provide a thick, leafy porch screen which defies peepers—and a charming little flower thrown in as a bonus. But if a nose-count were made, probably the most popular vine of them all is the long-time favorite, morning glories, and of these, the Heavenly Blue is best known and loved.

There's the handy, fast-growing splash of color whether coiling up a backyard post, along a clothesline or snaking up on runner in front of the porch. And there's that first cousin of the morning glory, wraithlike and visable in the nightime, the moon flower.

If a vine cover is needed, not even poor soil need be a deterrent. The climbing nasturtium, like it's low growing sister, thrives on a lean mixture and balks on a rich diet.

To Speed Results

In the case of the perennials, growth is usually slower than among the annuals, so it's frequently a good idea to fill in with a quick annual vine while the perennial is taking it's time nearby.

The bittersweet, with it's handsome orange and red fall barries, is among the most popular perennial vines, and also provides a rich, deep-green leaf during the summer. But be careful about letting it climb up a leader pipe for it can bend it and warp it. And if it's berries you want, a plant bearing staminate flowers must be near enough to one with pistillate blooms to permit cross, pollination. Otherwise one must be content with just leaves.

The ivies, of course, are most useful, although only Boston ivy is able to climb smooth stone and brick without an assist of some sort.

Wistaria is a popular plant and tempermental as they come. When one refuses to bloom, about the only recourse is to give it a solid shock with severe pruning of the vine and maybe—as a last resort—a root pruning.

Clematis Is A Favorite

Clematis, another favorite, is handy, provides many varieties and colors, and are hearty eaters. It does best with a light mulch of manure during the summer and a heavier mulch of the same for wintering. Some types will flower as early as May, while the purple Jackmanni comes along in midsummer and the white flowered paniculata blooms in September.

And of course, when what's needed is a ground cover which will also hold the soil, honeysuckle is perfect. But it is aggressive and will take over as much growing space as you'll let it, and choke the life out of anything around it.

MONROE POLICE VOLUNTEER AS BLOOD DONORS

Six Monroe policemen were photographed at the Ouachita Parish Health Center Wednesday donating blood which was sent to New Orleans as replacements for transfusions given Mrs. Vyvian Harper, wife of Monroe's city judge. Officer L. P. Smith, who donates blood every three months, is being prepared to give blood by Mrs. Elsie W. Ardoin, registered nurse. Other officers watching the procedure are: left to right, M. L. Spangler; E. D. Otwell; R. D. Herbert; Dr. W. Carroll Summer, director of the health unit; M. E. Whittington; C. H. "Chuck" Standard. (Staff Photo by L. C. Noland, Jr.)

Police Donate Blood To Mrs. W. M. Harper

A friendly gesture—on the part of six Monroe Police Officers—this week strengthened ties between the police department, city court and Ouachita Parish Health Center.

After learning that Mrs. Vyvian Harper, wife of City Judge W. M. Harper had recently undergone a major operation in New Orleans and required eight blood transfusions, six policemen reported of their own accord to the Ouachita Blood Bank where each donated a pint of blood.

Blood Replaced

Members of the Police force who donated blood were: L. P. Smith; C. H. "Chuck" Standard; E. D. Otwell; M. L. Spangler; R. D. Herbert; M. E. Whittington.

For Smith, a regular blood donor, it was no new experience, but for several of the officers, it was their first visit to the blood bank.

It was through a special arrangement with Dr. Julius W. Davenport, Jr., pathologist and director of the Southern Baptist Hospital blood bank, that the replacements were made. By his cooperation the transfer was possible.

Dr. Davenport provided a container in which Judge Harper carried the blood under refrigeration to New Orleans. Both Judge Harper and his daughter, Miss Billie Harper, donated blood in New Orleans.

Mrs. Harper was reported recovering steadily last week and hopes to return to Monroe in a week or so. She is being treated at the Southern Baptist Hospital in New Orleans.

Blood Bank

He asserted that his first introduction in blood bank work was when a relative, Mrs. Harper's sister needed blood. This time the need was closer home, he said.

Monroe's blood bank, located in the Ouachita Parish Health Center is under the direction of Dr. W. Carroll Summer, head of the local health unit. It was pointed out that Dr. Summer is on hand to render aid to all donors. The operation of the blood bank is under his constant personal supervision. Mrs. Elsie W. Ardoin, registered nurse, assists Dr. Summer.

Blood is furnished all the hospitals in Monroe by the Red Cross without charge. The hospitals however make a nominal charge for typing, preparing and administering blood transfusions.

Housemother Is Sory Gal At 83

By Jack Harr

Beloit, Wis.—(NEA)—The sweetheart of Beta Theta Pi Fraternity at Beloit College is a housemother the members claim is the oldest in the nation in age and in point of service.

She's Mrs. Minnie Raymond, 83, who had coddled, guided, advised and been parent-by-proxy for two generations of Beta men in the past 39 years.

A leader since 1911 among the women who make their living by being parents-away-from-home for college students, she loves her work and is still going strong. Her philosopy: "If it's no trouble for a good woman to run one man, then it's no trouble for me to run 50 men!"

Mrs. Raymond took has position when her husband was forced to quit work because of tuberculosis. At first she did all the cooking and mending for the men, but now she acts as hostess and housemother only.

In recent years, many sons of men she guided 25 to 30 years before have passed under her care.

At present there are three men in the Beta Chapter at Beloit whose fathers knew Mrs. Raymond years ago.

Comparing the generations, she thinks the college student of today is fundamentally the same as the college student of 39 years ago. "Society has changed, but not the boys with their individual problems and goals," she says.

Bible Taught With Puppets

(AP Newsfeatures)

NEW YORK—The Prostestant radio commission is going to teach the Bible on television, using puppets as actors.

Encouraged by the success of television's puppet shows, the commission—representing 16 Protestant demonimations—has invested some $100,000 in 13 short films, in color and aimed primarily at child TV audiences.

The first completed film "The Parable of the Good Samaritan" was enthusiastically previewed recently in New York. Handsomely mounted and with meticulously sculptured puppets, the 13-minute film tells simply and straight-forwardly the familiar story.

Although the films can be used by black and white sets, they are filmed in color, looking forward to its use in TV. They can also be used by church groups.

The Rev. Everett C. Parker, commission director, said the Bible films had been checked for authentic background and "artifacts" and had been approved by the various denominations represented on the commission.

"The action has been slowed down deliberately," Parker explained, "so that children will be sure to catch all the meaning. So maybe adults will understand it, too."

He added that the puppet strings were made visible deliberately "because children—the most sophisticated audience in the world—love to see the strings; we think adults would rather have them visible."

The commission currently is undecided about its distribution method. It will probably release them through local church councils.

Parker said there is also a possibility that they may permit commercial sponsorship.

"It would be only institutional advertising, though," he added. "But nationally sponsored, and then a sponsor carefully chosen."

The finished film was actually shot as an "audition" film in 48 hours, he said. Three others are now in production and a total of six will be finished by fall. It is expected the series will be expanded to 52.

The magnolia tree was named in honor of Pierre Magnol, a French botanist of the 17th century.

New Fabric Will Be Used In Fall Coats

By NEA SERVICE

NEW YORK —(NEA)— A little more than a year ago, a silvery fabric that promises to spell a revolution in how you dress for winter was just an experiment in a converted stable near Cleveland.

Today that cloth is rolling from a new windowless textile plant in South Carolina on its way to the fall clothing trade. It will reach consumers first in the linings of coats and jackets for men, women and children. Eventually, it may make heavy coats and blankets as out-dated as red flannels.

The new garments, manufacturers predict, will be the warmest ever made of their types and weights.

One famous maker of sportswear will use the fabric in a jacket for golfers who like to keep playing in all sorts of winter weather. A women's coat maker will promote the cloth as the way to let women be "warm and slender at the same time." Other manufacturers will add the cloth as linings to existing garments and offer them as super-warm coats for use in unusually severe winter areas.

Lining of this coat is made with the new silvery fabric that reflects body's heat.

The revolutionary fabric is "Milium," and its secret is a metallic finish applied to one side of the cloth by spraying the fibers with fine particles of metals. Without changing the porosity of the fabric treated, the metal reflects back to the body a large part of the heat radiated by it.

Any metal that flakes, including gold and silver, can be used, but aluminum appears to be the most practical. It is the aluminum that gives the cloth the silvery appearance.

Rayon satins twills and crepes used for coat linings are the fabrics being processed initially. But the new finish can be applied to any ordinary natural or synthetic fiber including wool, cotton, nylon and the newly developed orlon.

First work on Milium was done Cleveland scientist who earlier developed an electric razor, an improved electric washing machine and several medical devices.

When a clothing manufacturer wanted to explore the possibility of an overcoat electrically heated like an electric blanket ,he went to Rand. Because of the weight of batteries required, this idea was impractical, so Rand turned to reflection of the body's own heat. The metallic cloth was the the answer.

Paradoxically, he also found that the same treated cloth which warmed a person in winter could also keep him comfortable in summer by reflecting away the heat of the sun. In effect, clothing could be made to act as a thermos bottle.

One of the nation's oldest textile companies financed completion of the research and several thousand tests at a "cold" room in Cleveland, at the U. S. Testing Co. laboratories in Hoboken, N. J., and elsewhere before starting processing of fabrics at a new plnat.

In one of the more startling tests, it was found that a thin nylon seersucker coverlet treated by the new process and a sheet proved warmer on a bed than a blanket 10 times as thick. Treated draperies gave promise of helping keep homes warm in the winter and cool in the summer.

A valuable immediate application is expected to be in children's snow suits and similar garments. Observations at Sun Valley, Ida., and Cleveland last spring indicate that children are less inclined to perspire excessively and to throw off Milium-lined coats than those wearing heavier outer-wear.

Milium lining will add a few dollars to the retail prices of garments. While coat linings probably will utilize all Milium until plant additions are completed and other processors are licensed, many other applications are in prospect.

Military authorities are interested in the fabric as a possible lining for sleeping bags and for high altitude and cold weather suits. Several manufacturers are eager to use it in the bedding and drapery fields. Even applications in awnings and automobile tops are being discussed.

Roses Are Grown Fast And Simply

By Cynthia Lowry
(AP Newsfeatures)

Roses are flowers which most people like to smell, some gardeners like to grow and all Japanese beetles like to eat.

There are several types of roses. Hybrid tea roses are little bushes, most often seen in formal rose gardens. These are mostly named arvarieties and produce magnificent flowers of hues from white through yellows, pinks to deep red. And they take more of the gardener's time and attention than the others.

There are rambling roses, splashes of beauty when they sprawl over a bank or wander along a country fence. Then there are climbing roses, balancing on trellises, or a doorway. Shrub roses are—as the name implies—roses that grow on shrubs and the flowers are beautiful. The newest member of the rose family is the Floribunda, a tought little plant which produces flowers in clusters.

Most Roses Just Grow

With the exception of the hybrid teas, roses don't take much time or attention. They are hearty eaters, and practically all of them require liberal doses of rich fertilizer—manure or balanced commercial fertilizers. Climbers and ramblers require a certain amount of judicious pruning—best done in the late fall to prevent their being whipped by winter winds. In some of the climbing arieties it is best to release them from their bindings and bury the can so that they can winter without loss.

In the case of rose standards, or rose trees, it is mandatory to winter the plants by trenching on one side, and dropping the plant into the trench, covering with a thick blanket of straw.

The hybrids—tea roses or the older perpetuals—require the lion's share of the gardener's rose time. In the first place they like and almost require beds all their own. The most one can do is border the rose garden with some inoffensie, undemanding plant.

How To Transplant

In preparing the soil to receive hybrids, whether it be spring or fall, one should take particular pains to provide them with the kind of home they like. (If they arrive from the nursery at a time when it's impossible to plant them immediately, the plants should be taken from the package and kept in a pail of water to prevent roots from drying out.)

CHILDREN LEARN TO TALK

Children With 'Cripple-Tongue' Learn To Talk

By Frank K. Tiffany

WICHITA, Kas.—It looks like a housing development—neat and new—but it's a $2,000,000 children's village dedicated to boys and girls "tragically crippled in the tongue."

Through speech they'll have access to normal life—and a chance to earn their way.

Aphasia—caused by brain injury; stuttering — which automatically lowers earning power 35 per cent; cerebral palsy—requiring much physical therapy; these are the speech foes they're combating.

In many cases learning to speak requires extensive retraining of brain paths and muscles, harmed by disease or deficient at birth.

An Expensive Non-Profit Project

This speech-training is expensive—but in its new center here on what was once a 40-acre corn field, the non-profit Institute of Logopedics, Inc., confidently tackles the challenge.

The institute's not alone in the field. But as Dr. Martin F. Palmer, its director, puts it—"If the children in the United States who cannot talk or hear all lived in one place, it would take a large city to house them. There are at least 2,000,000 U. S. children seriously handicapped by speech difficulties."

The American Speech and Hearing Association—of which Dr. Palmer is a director and past president—estimates the nation needs 20,000 trained logopedists, yet has less than 1,000 with adequate training.

His Wife Is a Co-Worker

They set to work determinedly on a triple-fold task—to train speech-handicapped youngsters to use the words you and I take as a matter of course; to train others to teach such children; and to round up the funds constantly necessary to defray the cost.

Gradually they built up a loyal, hard-working staff. It now numbers slightly over 100. Quarters near Wichita's municipal university—with which the institute works in its logopedist-training program—were occupied, remodeled, outgrown.

Late last year the new, landscaped "children's villege" and research center was opened to an expanded program.

The institute—and affiliated clinics in a dozen other cities—already have given speech-corrective training to more than 10,000 young "grads.' Those clinics — often staffed or supervised by institute trained workers—are at Cockeysville, Md., Bedford, N. Y., Bartlesville, Okla., and at McPherson, Hays, Garden City, Kansas City, Lawrence, Topeka, Emporia, Manhattan and Pittsburg, in Kansas.

Children Have Housemothers

Children here live three in an apartment, with a housemother—often the mother of one of the children, helping thus to pay for her own child's training.

Operating without profit—training many children whose parents can pay only a small part of the cost—the institute leans heavily on endowments, large and small. Dr. Palmer says it's operating now on a $500,000 annual budget. He adds:

"It would take $1,500,000 yearly to run at full capacity. We could train 560 youngsters a year compared with the 267 now being trained—could be teaching 300 logopedists, instead of 50, to train thousands more children here and elsewhere."

Some 200 midwest subcontractors and dealers endowed the institute in building its new center—contributing materials and fees. Included was the fee of the Wichitan who negotiated the $1,500,000 construction loan from an eastern insurance company.

Webb Starred In Family Fun Riot At Paramount

'Cheaper By The Dozen' Opens Engagement At Local Theater Today

Clifton Webb has taken a rest from Belvedere roles, but not from making wonderful movies. The hero of "Sitting Pretty" and "Mr. Belvedere Goes To College" scores his greatest hit in "Cheaper By The Dozen," the Twentieth Century-Fox technicolor film which opens today at the Paramount theater.

It is, of course, to be expected. Along with Jeanne Crain and Myrna Loy, Webb romps through one of the most delightful stories of our time, the true story of a family of twelve children based on the recent best-seller by Frank B. Gilbreth, Jr. and Ernestine Gilbreth Carey.

Eagerly awaited by the millions who had read the book or heard of its fame, "Cheaper By The Dozen" proved worth waiting for. The uproarious tale of the shenanigans that go on in this over-sized family, it is also a moving and compelling story of how a lovable American family meets life's poblems. Though rarely have we laughed so much or so loudly, there were tears mixed with our laughter, and when we left the theatre, we knew that what we had seen was a wonderful piece of Americana brought to the screen.

Webb is superb as "Dad," the eccentric time and motion expert who refuses a request for a dog, "because any pet which doesn't lay eggs is an extravagance," and buys a victrola for the bathroom so the children may listen to French and German language records without waste of time. Still very definitely a character, he is more warm and human than the acidu-ously precise Mr. Belvedere. His is an outstanding humorous performance, yet an outstanding heart-warming one too.

Returning to comedy, for which we knew her best with her fine "Apartment for Peggy," Jeanne Crain makes a most lovable and appealing sixteen - year - old girl, who rebels against her father's Victorian ways. A very different role from her dramatic triumph in "Pinky". Miss Crain proves her versatility and her competence as one of Hollywood's finest younger actresses.

Myrna Loy gives a beautifully sensitive performance as "Mother," a wise and understanding woman who has her hands full with twelve energetic children and a bombastic, eccentric husband.

Supporting roles are handled skillfully by Betty Lynn, Edgar Buchanan, Barbara Bates, Mildred Natwick and Sara Allgood.

Expertly directed by Walter Lang, "Cheaper By The Dozen" was produced by Lamar Trotti, who also wrote the screenplay.

Rooney Appears In New Dramatic Film

Movie fans who loved Mickey Rooney as a film youngster—and they are legion—and those who grew up with him through the "Andy Hardy" days and his great series of motion picture musicals will be even more fervent in their applause for him in a new role as a rough, tough young man.

That's the kind of dramatic part to which Mr. Rooney applies his wonderful talent and unquenchable energy in his latest film, "Quicksand,' which opens at the Paramount Theatre Thursday through United Artists release.

Mr. Rooney sets a fast pace in this action packed drama of a young garage mechanic who steals a $20 bill and is promptly caught up in a whirlpool of crime and evil-doing which does not stop short of larceny and murder. The swift development of events drags the young mechanic from one crime to the next as he attempts to cover his path. As the veteran character actor Taylor Holmes, in the role of a sympathetic lawyer, puts it: "Crime is like quicksand. Once you step into it, the harder you struggle to get off, the deeper it sucks you in."

Jeanne Cagney, the brilliant young actress who has won the critics' bravos in her past appearances, again proves herself an outstanding talent in the part of the girl for whom Mr. Rooney takes the road to crime. One of Hollywood's brightest and most beautiful new stars, Barbara Bates, turns in another stand-out performance as the girl who doesn't let Mr. Rooney down. The inimitable Peter Lorre is at his most menacing best as a suave, blackmailing night-spot owner.

AT PARAMOUNT TODAY

Clifton Webb looks very doubtful as to the propriety of Jeanne Crain's dress in a scene from the technicolor production, "Cheaper By The Dozen" which opens at the Paramount Theater today. Webb plays the father of twelve children, Jeanne Crain his eldest daughter, and Myrna Loy his wife in the adaptation of the recent best-seller about the true-to-life Gilbreth family.

JOY SUNDAY TO WEDNESDAY

'The Kid From Texas' Now Showing At Joy Theater

Audie Murphy Starred In Film Showing Here During This Week

The first semi-documentary story of Billy the Kid ever to reach the screen is told in Universal - International's Technicolor "The Kid From Texas," now showing at the Joy Theatre.

Three previous filmizations, allegedly of the Kid's life, were highly romanticized versions or out-and-out Hollywood dream-ups, in the opinion of researchers identified with this newest production.

Audie Murphy, most decorated hero of Worid War II, has the role of Billy in Universal - International's semi-documentary, co-starring with Gale Storm and supported by such sterling actors as Albert Dekker, William Talman, Frank Wilcox, Robert Barrat and others.

Murphy is ideally cast for the role, being the same wistful type that research showed Billy to be and possessing incredible ability in the handling of guns.

The film, despite its tragic ending, is refreshing in its honest narration and its refusal to succumb to Hollywood's fondness for the bay-and-girl pattern. There is action galore and excellent acting, especially by the top principals.

The story opens with William Bonney, better known as Billy the Kid, becoming involved in the notorious Lincoln County range war of the late '70s and losing his heart to the lovely Gale Storm, who is the young bride of the middle-aged Albert Dekker. Billy's unrequited love never comes close to fruition in the story, and his eventual realization that Gale's world can never be his, leads to his death before the gun of Sheriff Pat Garrett, played by Frank Wilcox.

Billy snuffs out the lives of twenty-one men, in the picture—the exact amount claimed by his blazing guns in real life. He finds a true friend in an Englishman Shepperd Strudwick who gives The Kid a job and a chance to live peacefully. When Jameson is murdered by trail tramps Billy goes berserk in a mad quest for vengeance and kills in wholesale lots.

When at length Billy is trapped and laid low, Sheriff Garrett is heard to express wonderment that the Kid didn't even try to draw. A few minutes before his death Billy had seen the light of his life dancing with an Army officer and had given up hope.

of directing for Producer Paul Kurt Neumann did a splendid job Short, who has taken Audie under his wing and plans full-fledged stardom for the war veteran. The photography by Charles Van Enger and his Technicolor aids is of top quality. All in all, "The Kid From Texas" is four-star entertainment in any reviewer's log book.

PLAYING STAR DRIVE-IN—MONROE

Bruce Bennett and Geraldine Brooks embrace upon his release from prison in this scene from the technicolor production, "The Younger Brothers" as Wayne Morris looks on. Janis Paige and Robert Hutton co-star with the three.

'Francis,' Talking Mule, Coming To Joy

Signing of Francis, a twelve year-old mule, to a Universal-International contract, is part of the studio's planned program to bring "new faces" to the screen.

Francis' first ambition was to be a big-league pitcher. He started his baseball career with the ASSES (American Society of Softball Enterprise Systems) but was suspended from that league for committing too many balks.

Francis then switched to acting "just to prove that mules are not bad actors" and trouped with the Little Stable circuit in Missouri with the "Green Pastures" unit.

M. Ule Skinner, Francis' agent, secured a $125-a-week starting wage for his client. When informed of the salary, Francis commented, "That ain't hay!"

Francis joined the Armed Service at the age of six and served as a Public Relations Officer at an Arkansas military base.

Like many established stars, Francis has his hobbies. His two favorites, however, are pitching muleshoes and playing the piano by ear.

In fact, Francis has even written musical numbers and is regarded in muledom circles as a "long-eared" composer.

The movie mule was given a bona fide screen test at the studio, in competition with other entrants for the film role, and won the approval of producer Robert Arthur and director Arthur Lubin for the film's title role.

'Cheaper By The Dozen' Opens Engagement At Local Theater Today

Clifton Webb has taken a rest from Belvedere roles, but not from making wonderful movies. The hero of "Sitting Pretty" and "Mr. Belvedere Goes To College" scores his greatest hit in "Cheaper By The Dozen," the Twentieth Century-Fox technicolor film which opens today at the Paramount theater.

It is, of course, to be expected. Along with Jeanne Crain and Myrna Loy, Webb romps through one of the most delightful stories of our time, the true story of a family of twelve children based on the recent best-seller by Frank B. Gilbreth, Jr. and Ernestine Gilbreth Carey.

Eagerly awaited by the millions who had read the book or heard of its fame, "Cheaper By The Dozen" proved worth waiting for. The uproarious tale of the shenanigans that go on in this over-sized family, it is also a moving and compelling story of how a lovable American family meets life's problems. Though rarely have we laughed so much or so loudly, there were tears mixed with our laughter, and when we left the theatre, we knew that what we had seen was a wonderful piece of Americana brought to the screen.

TRAINING CAMP KI-RO-LI EVENT

Jamboree Scouts To Have Preliminary Work Over

Over one hundred Scouts and leaders of the Ouachita Valley Council will take their pre-Jamboree training at Camp Ki-Ro-Li this week. Scouts from most of the fifteen parishes making up the council will check in on Sunday afternoon and remain at Camp Ki-Ro-Li through Thursday.

A very full schedule has been prepared for these scouts, so that they will be completely ready for the National Jamboree at Valley Forge when they leave by bus next week.

Included on the jamboree training program will be completion of personal, patrol, and troop equipment, including appropriate decorations, making of "swap" gadgets, practice cooking, scout trail, and instructions of Jamboree camp methods. The three Ouachita Valley Council Jamboree troops will be completely organized during this pre-training camp and patrols will select names and make patrol flags and other patrol equipment.

These Jamboree Scouts will also have opportunity for swimming, archery, rifle marksmanship, and other camp recreation activities as part of their pre-Jamboree training program.

Jamboree Troop 30:

Delhi; Frank Lawrence, Scoutmaster.

Holly Ridge; Leon Beasley, Assistant Scoutmaster.

Delhi; Johnny Hall, Senior Patrol Leader.

Rayville; Jimmy Thompson, David Burk, Johnny Mulhearn.

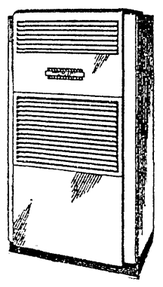
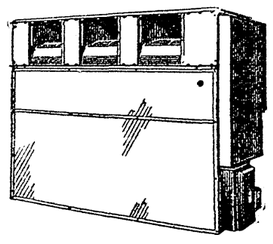
Westinghouse Life-Line Compressor-Motor Unit

Westinghouse UNITAIRES come in two models, both completely self-contained. The SU, with volume capacities of 2, 3 and 5 horsepower, ideal for smaller stores, offices and restaurants.



The larger LU, in 7½, 10, 15, 20 and 25 horsepower sizes, is used when larger areas must be air conditioned through an easily installed duct system.



The compressor is the vital heart of any air conditioning unit—and Westinghouse UNITAIRE air conditioning units have the finest—the Westinghouse LIFE-LINE Compressor-Motor Unit, hermetically sealed in a steel casing for a lifetime of rugged service . . . dependable, economical to operate. Power and refrigerant are sealed in, dirt and trouble sealed out.

That's why so many stores, offices and restaurants are installing UNITAIRES with the Westinghouse LIFE-LINE Compressor-Motor Unit. They come in eight sizes to meet many needs . . . easily installed, ready to give summer air conditioning comfort that leads to more store traffic—bigger sales—improved employee morale and efficiency. Can readily be moved to new locations. Installation is by experienced personnel—an added assurance of long, trouble-free service.

Best of all, UNITAIRES are now available for immediate delivery.

Jamboree Scouts To Have Preliminary Work Over

Over one hundred Scouts and leaders of the Ouachita Valley Council will take their pre-Jamboree training at Camp Ki-Ro-Li this week. Scouts from most of the fifteen parishes making up the council will check in on Sunday afternoon and remain at Camp Ki-Ro-Li through Thursday.

A very full schedule has been prepared for these scouts, so that they will be completely ready for the National Jamboree at Valley Forge when they leave by bus next week.

Included on the jamboree training program will be completion of personal, patrol, and troop equipment, including appropriate decorations, making of "swap" gadgets, practice cooking, scout trail, and instructions of Jamboree camp methods. The three Ouachita Valley Council Jamboree troops will be completely organized during this pre-training camp and patrols will select names and make patrol flags and other patrol equipment.

These Jamboree Scouts will also have opportunity for swimming, archery, rifle marksmanship, and other camp recreation activities as part of their pre-Jamboree training program.

Jamboree Troop 30:

Delhi; Frank Lawrence, Scoutmaster.

Delhi; Johnny Hall, Senior Patrol Leader.

WE'RE GETTING UP A LITTLE GAME TONIGHT

SORRY, BOYS, I CAN'T DO IT

WE'LL CALL YOU UP AND SAY IT'S YOUR BOSS AND THAT HE WANTS YOU TO WORK TONIGHT

NO, BOYS. REALLY, I CAN'T DO IT. PLEASE

I'D RATHER STAY HOME WITH MY FAMILY TONIGHT THAN GO OUT AND PLAY CARDS

DAGWOOD, MR. DITHERS WANTS TO SPEAK TO YOU ON THE PHONE

MR. DITHERS, MY EYE! I KNOW WHO THAT IS

DAGWOOD, CAN YOU COME DOWN TONIGHT AND HELP ME GET THIS PILE OF WORK OUT?

THIS ISN'T EDDIE ---IT'S REALLY MR. DITHERS --- DAGWOOD, YOU MUST!

DON'T BE SILLY, YOU DUMB CLUCK. I SAID "NO"

BUMSTEAD, IF YOU DON'T COME DOWN HERE, YOU'RE FIRED--UNDERSTAND, FIRED! FIRED!

SEZ YOU! SEZ YOU! SEZ YOU!

WE STILL NEED ANOTHER MAN FOR OUR GAME

I'LL PHONE DAGWOOD AND PULL THE BOSS GAG

IT'S EDDIE. I RECOGNIZE HIS VOICE

BLONDIE--THAT MUST'VE REALLY BEEN THE BOSS THE FIRST TIME, AND HE FIRED ME

QUICK, RUSH DOWN TO THE OFFICE AND GET YOUR JOB BACK!

I'LL FORGIVE YOU IF YOU SIGN THIS DOCUMENT THAT GIVES ME LEGAL RIGHT TO BEAT YOU UP

I'LL SIGN ANYTHING IF YOU GIVE ME MY JOB BACK

ALL RIGHT, DAGWOOD, YOU'RE FORGIVEN--NOW LET'S GO TO WORK

YES-MRS. TESS TIMONY-I HAVE DECIDED TO MOVE TO A SMALLER HOUSE-A LARGE HOME IS SUCH A CARE-I'M TIRED OF IT !!

DEAR-HERE IS A ROUGH PLAN OF THE SWEETEST LITTLE COTTAGE MR. ART INHOMES-MY ARCHITECT-LAID OUT-HE'LL BE HERE IN A LITTLE WHILE !!

I'M GLAD YOU'VE DECIDED ON A SMALL HOUSE -- WE'LL SAVE A LOT ON EXPENSES-I SEE IT HAS ONLY FIVE ROOMS!

I HOPE YOU DON'T MIND-BUT I ASKED MR. YURLOSS-THE PLUMBER-OVER-HE HAS A SUGGESTION!

WHERE IS MY ROOM?

SHUT UP!!-WHAT IS YOUR SUGGESTION?

SHUT UP! LET MR. YURLOSS SPEAK!

WE SHOULD HAVE THE VIEWS OF SEVERAL CONTRACTORS-I'LL PHONE SOME-

WELL-AS A BUILDER-IT SHOULD BE A CONCRETE BUILDING !!

-RIGHT!! AND THAT MEANS A LARGER FOUNDATION-

WHERE'S MY ROOM?

THAT WILL ALLOW YOU MORE ROOMS UPSTAIRS-AND--

-A LITTLE TOWER HERE AND ONE TO MATCH HERE--A GRAND STAIRCASE-AND A--

LISTEN-BEFORE YOU GO-WILL YOU TELL ME WHERE MY ROOM IS IN THOSE PLANS?

BY JOVE-I'M GLAD YOU BROUGHT THAT UP!! I'LL GO BACK AND HOLD ANOTHER CONSULTATION!!

WELL-I MUST SAY-THOSE GUYS SURE ARE BUILDIN' A NICE LITTLE COTTAGE FOR US!!!

ISN'T IT CUTE? STILL I THINK WE SHOULD HAVE FOUR MORE ROOMS!!

CAN YOU HELP ME, DOCTOR? BELIEVE IT OR NOT, I'M A LITTLE SHAKY.!?

YOU'RE THE WORLD'S GREATEST ARTIST, MR. RUMBRANDT.!? IT MUST BE HARD FOR YOU TO DRAW!? YOU'RE VIBRATING LIKE A HARP STRING!?

SIMPLE CASE.!? A SHOT OF BRAIN-VITAMIN OX4 WOULD FIX YOU UP IN A JIFFY.!? THERE'S PLENTY OF IT IN THE BRAINS OF RING-TAILED TIBETAN OXEN—

BUT-CHUCKLE!!-THEY'RE EXTINCT!! SO YOU'RE OUT OF LUCK, OLD BOY!?— TOO BAD HUMANS DON'T HAVE ANY OF THAT BRAIN-STUFF TO SPARE. PRIMITIVE MAN DID—BUT---

THERE'S THE FIRST HEAD I'VE EVER SEEN, OUTSIDE OF A MUSEUM, THAT'S LOADED WITH OX4!?—AND WHAT'S MORE, IT APPEARS TO BE ALIVE.!?

(-I KNOW IT'S WRONG TO USE HUMAN BEINGS FOR EXPERIMENTS—BUT ANYONE WITH THAT MUCH OX4 IN HIM CAN HARDLY BE CONSIDERED HUMAN!?-)

? ? -SNIFF.!?- CHUCKLE.!?— YO' CAIN'T FOOL ME.!? IT'S CHLOROFORM.!?-

SNIFF!?—YAWN!?— ONCE SOME FEEND DONE—HO-HUM.!?— TRICKED ME INTO SMELLIN' SOME---AN'.. GUESS— WHUT-- H-HAPPENED..

-AH KEELED RIGHT OVERR.

I PENETRATE BOTH BRAINS—EXTRACT THE SURPLUS—GIVE IT ALL A WHIRL IN THE SWARING MIXER—!

AND- PRESTO.!?-RUMBRANDT HAS STOPPED SHAKING.!? I'VE REPLACED THE OX4 FROM THE HILLBILLY'S BRAIN WITH SOME EXTRA STUFF—I DON'T KNOW WHAT— FROM RUMBRANDT'S.

(-IF I WEREN'T SO BUSY, I'D WAIT TO SEE WHAT DIFFERENCE IT MAKES IN THE HILLBILLY— BUT, MY TIME'S TOO VALUABLE.!?-) —HERE'S YOUR HAT.!? GOOD-DAY.!?!?

AH DUNNO WHUT'S GOT INTO ME— BUT, AH GOTTA DRAWR.!? AH GOTTA!?
